ALL NEWS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Reporters and Correspondents Everywhere.

The latter part of last week James Castello was plowing a field at Bear River, King's County a striking contrast to this time last year when the ground was covered with several feet of snow and we had apparently mild winter conditions.

The well known general produce business conducted by John Hopkins, St. John, has been handed over to his three sons Aquila D., G. A. Stanley, and Frank B. D. Hopkins and will in future be conducted at the old stand No. 188 Union Street, where they solicit a continuance of the liberal patronage extended. The firm name will still be John Hopkins, and eggs, hides, dressed pork and poultry etc. will be bought at highest prices as in the past.

An interesting event took place at the home of Mrs. Thomas Vessey, Little York, on Wednesday evening when her youngest daughter Clara was united in marriage to Bertram R. Brown of the same place. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a goodly number of immediate friends by the Rev. Thomas Hicks. The bride who was attired in a fawn colored suit with white trimmings, was attended as bridesmaid by her sister Miss Lizzie Vessey while the groom was supported by his brother, Herbert Brown. On the conclusion of the ceremony the guests sat down to a sumptuous repast to which ample justice was done. The bride received many useful and beautiful presents among which was a table from Sabbath School as a memento of the good service rendered by the bridal couple during the past few years, accompanied by an appreciative address. Mr. and Mrs. Brown who are highly esteemed in this community by a large circle of friends, will carry with them, many good wishes for their future happiness.

Rev. G. R. Whit, Charlottetown writing to the Messenger and Visitor says:—One half of a year has come and gone since we took up the work here. Good men and true had come, done their work, and gone out, leaving things in a most orderly manner—Gordon, Coray, Raymond and Miner—all worthy pastors and much loved by church and congregation. Bro. Raymond still abides in the city as Provincial S. S. Secretary, and has lent the new pastor much appreciated aid. Just a few things seemed to us necessary to complete a well appointed church building—namely, the reading desk to be replaced by a modern pulpit—a "sign" at the door to tell the stranger the hours of service, and the people that worship within—some changes in the choir gallery—and last, but not least, a self "Individual Communion Cup"—all of which have been put in order. Seven persons have been received into our Church fellowship. The pastor and family have been kindly received by the people, and already feel quite at home. We found here a deacon, of which any pastor might be justly proud—spiritual, energetic and progressive. A model clerk, and an up-to-date Sunday School superintendent. Also a fine class of young men and women, all loyal to their church and pastor. These are among the things that make up a pleasant pastorate, and call out the best energies of body and soul of the pastor. We appreciate all this and are doing our best for the church and the cause on this Island. We are "Citizens of no mean city," here in Charlottetown, and our prayer is that God may bless our united efforts for his glory. One thing, more, a fine building lot at the rear of the church, has waited long, is waiting still, for the much needed parsonage; and we have it in our hearts and plans to supply this long felt want. We think a church now and again, needs to do some extra thing to unite her efforts, to localize her interests, to call forth her best energies both temporal and spiritual, and to reveal possibilities. We shall feel disappointed, if the new parsonage does not materialize during the coming summer.

DESABLE HAPPENINGS.—Some of our most sagacious predict a green Christmas. John A. MacKinnon whose reputation as an enticer of the finny tribe and well known in this section is at present engaged in mending his gill and bay nets and intends to commence active operations on DeSable River in the near future as he declares smelts are quite plentiful in certain places. Jack is a hustler and no doubt he will meet with his usual success in this enterprise.—Parties of various kinds are the order of the day here. On December 4th a very pleasant evening was spent at the home of John Dixon when the youth and beauty of DeSable, Hampton, Melville Road and various other districts assembled with one sole object in view, that of enjoying themselves. Amusement of various kinds were indulged in, in which one and all participated. A stump speech by Calvin MacDonald and a solo by Duncan MacKinnon received the hearty applause of the house.—Three more of our stalwart young men namely Hector MacKay, Chester Shaw, and Alex. Campbell returned from the North West last week and speak in no measured terms of the kind treatment they there received but they too are of the mind "There is no place like home." Our genial postmaster John MacDougall who has already attained the three score year and ten mark is despite his weight of years, with unremitting pains, with precision and alacrity, discharging the duties devolving upon him by virtue of his office as postmaster with credit to himself and satisfaction to the entire community.

DO NOT WEAR A LONG FACE

It Is a Great Handicap in All Business and Social Relations.

The man who looks as if he had lost his last friend is in no danger of being crushed by the jan of new ones unless he "cheers up." People are not going out of their way nowadays to associate with the man of morose and melancholy appearance. They are afraid he will tell them his troubles and they steer clear of him as they all have plenty of their own.

The most universal cause of the forlorn and hopeless appearance today is dyspepsia. It rots a man for every duty of life and causes him to become despondent and gloomy and necessarily his looks do not baffle his feelings. He appears cast down and dejected and becomes a burden to himself and humanity in general.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the dyspeptic's certain relief. They do the work that his stomach is unable to do and by relieving that organ of its burdens, permit it to regain its health and strength and again become active and useful in its functions. They contain all the essential ingredients that enter into the digestive fluids and secretions of the stomach and they actually take up the work and do it just as a healthy, sound stomach would.

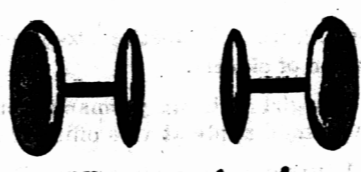

By this means a man can go right ahead with his work and eat enough to keep him in proper working condition. His system is not deprived of its necessary nourishment as it is in the case of the "starvation cure" or the employment of some of the first class chicken foods now on the market. Starvation, even if it were a good thing, could not be continued long enough to effect a cure; for a disordered and worn out stomach is not going to become strong and healthy in two or three days.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act naturally because they contain natural digestives. The principal component parts are aseptic pepsin, malt diastase and other ingredients with like properties that do the work regardless of the condition of the stomach. There is no unnatural or violent disturbance of the digestive organs as the result of their action. In fact, the contents of the stomach is entirely forgotten as soon as they have had time to begin their operations. They also possess very curative and healthy properties and assist the stomach in getting well, while relieving it of its work. They perform the duties of both nurse and physician.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50c a box and there is very little danger of any druggist trying to sell you something else in its place that is "just as good." They are so well established and have done so much good in the world that their name has become a household word; so the usual warning "Accept no substitute," is unnecessary in the case of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.
