Right Sponges

When you want a sponge you may think that the nearest store will do. But it may not if you want a wide choice, or if you care to save on the cost. We have a splendid assortment here and the price is right. We make a specialty of high grade bleached and unbleached, sponges. Large ones for buggy or auto use cheap coarse ones for boats etc.

SPRING IN PARIS

Mme. Leonie Bernardini-Sjoestedt in Cartoons Magazine.

Spring in Paris! Blue skies, children rolling hoops in the parks, soldiers home on leave of absence. The cold, bitter winter is over, and with the first breath of spring come renewed hopes. "It cannot be much longer, now," we say. "The war will end this year with France victorious."

The lighter vein is noticeable in our daily life. Little midinettes speed on their errands laden with hat boxes. Pastel colors appear on the streets and boulevards. There is the echo of music in the air.

The other afternoon, I went to the marionette show with the children — which includes soldiers, for children and soldiers are all one these days. The audience, save for a sprinkling of mothers, consisted of little ones and permissionaries, and many of the latter were wounded, their heads or arms tied up in bandages, some even with an empty sleeve.

But we were gay. We laughed at the buffoonnery of Polichinelle like a lot of six-year-olds, and as if we had nothing more serious than Harlequins and Columbines to think of. The youthfulness of the men just back from the bloody battles is indeed striking and reassuring. No sooner have they left the discipline of the front and arrived in Paris than they seem to become boys again, happy, knowing that everything is permitted them.

Illuminating Comparison.

She entered the department store and complained about a lamp she had purchased, demanding that it be taken back.

"What's the matter with it, madam?"

"It has all the faults of my husband, with none of his virtues."

"Please explain yourself."

"Well, it has a good deal of brass about it, is not remarkably brilliant, requires a good deal of attention, is unsteady on its legs, flares up occasionally, is always out at bedtime, and is bound to smoke." —Boston Transcript.

Remember: The only way Canadian prisoners can obtain food and clothing now is through the Canadian Red Cross at the cost of over $20,000 per month. No private parcels are allowed.

Remember: Returned prisoners declare that as a rule they received Red Cross parcels regularly and that without them they would have starved.

Remember: There are nearly 3,000 of our men now imprisoned in Germany. Shall we neglect them? $4.50 per month keeps one of them supplied with food and comforts. Write for information to Canon Simpson, Treasurer, Charlottetown.

CAPTAINS VOICE CHEERS SOLDIERS ON

Somewhere in France.

The following letter has been received by Miss Myrtle Rogerson, Canoe Cove, from her brother in the firing line.

France, April 24, 1917.

Dear Sister.— Just a few lines to let you know I am well, nad pulled through the big scrap alright, did not even get a scratch, although a lot of poor fellows got it.

The battle started about 5.30 a. m., and by dark that night we had taken five miles of ground from the Germans.

I just wish I could describe the fight to you.

There are some awful sights on a battlefield! I got my share of Germans fourteen (14) to my credit in about two hours. Some I shot with my rifle, more I drove the bayonet into and two I killed with a milles bomb. I was a bit frightened that night before we went over the top, but when the Captain jumped out of the trench and shouted "over the top boys," all my fear left me. Once I killed my first German, with my bayonet, my blood was riled, every German I could not reach with my bayonet I shot. I thought no more of killing them than I used to think of shooting the rabbits and you know how little that was, but of course that is a soldier's life.

I have a lot of souvenirs off them and I am sending you some German money a two mark bill and a one. A mark is the same as twenty-one (21) cents in our money. I received your letter about a week ago, but did not have time to answer it. I got one from Aunt Annie last night.

You told me that Hector Murray's mother was buried! Well poor Hector was killed, April 9th about half an hour after the battle started. I saw him lying in a shell hole dead. Well sister I guess I will come to a close as I have four more to write. Tell mother not to worry about me, as I don't think we will be into it again for a while.

With lots of love to all,
I remain your loving Brother,
DICK.

DAY BY DAY.

I heard a voice at evening softly say,
Fear not thy yesterday into tomorrow,
Nor load this week with last week's load of sorrow.
Lift all thy burdens as they come, nor try
To weight the present with the by-and by.
One step and then another, take thy way—
Live day by day.

Live day by day,
Though autumn leaves are withering round thy way,
Walk in the sunshine; it is all for thee.
Push straight ahead, as long as thou canst see.
Dread not the winter whither thou mayst go,
But, when it comes, be thankful for the snow.
Onward and upward— look and smile and pray—
Live day by day.

THE REVELATION

ROBERT W. SERVICE

We've bidden good-bye to life in a cage, we're finished with pushing a pen;
They're pumping us full of bellicose rage, they're showing us how to be men;
We're only beginning to find ourselves; we're wonders of brawn and thew;
But when we go back to our Cissy jobs, Oh, what are we going to do?

For shoulders curved with the counter stoop will be carried erect and square,
And faces white from the office light will be frozned by the open air;
And we'll walk with the stride of a new-born pride, with a new-found joy in our eyes,
Scornful men who have diced with death under the naked skies.

For some of us smirk in a chiffon shop, and some of us teach in a school;
Some of us help with the seat of our pants to polish an office stool;
The merits of somebody's soap or jam of us seek to explain,
But all of us wonder what we'll do when we have to go back again.

BARON HIGH BALL AND CORWIN HAL

Baron High Ball and Corwin Hal, and the 2 yrs. old by Baron High Ball will remain at the Summerside track where the colts will be in training for the two year old stakes. Mr. Rockford would like to have you look these colts over before you book your mares. Corwin Hal will serve a few mares before he starts racing.

Home Industry!

In order to facilitate the exchange between farmers having

Young Pigs for Sale

and those by whom such may be

WANTED,

we respectfully tender our services free of charge, and invite correspondence from all interested.

It is not our intention to deal in those at all, but if farmers having any for sale will write us full particulars of number, age, breed and price, we will pass the information along in reply to any inquiries we may have from farmers desiring to purchase.

The finished pork will all be needed, and at good prices, and co-operation in this way, to keep as many hogs as possible for feeding within the province, instead of being exported, should tend very materially to our mutual benefit.
