BADMINTON LEAGUE FOR SUMMERSIDE—Badminton promises to be the leading indoor sport in Summerside this winter. There are four good clubs, St. Mary's, The Presbyterians, Trinity and the High School. All have some excellent players and it is the intention to call a meeting in the near future to form a Town League and arrange a series of tournaments. Judging by the enthusiasm shown the games should be well attended.—S

KENSINGTON RINK OPENING—The 1932-33 skating season opened on Saturday night, December 24th under auspicious circumstances. The weather was all that could be desired. About 200 people enjoyed the invigorating exercise. The coming season promises to be a lively one in regard to hockey games to be played. It will be possible to see a hockey game almost any night excepting Tuesday and Friday nights. Three leagues will be in operation, viz., the McLean, Interscholastic and Interland leagues. The last named comprises ten teams from districts contiguous to Kensington—all elimination games to be played in Kensington Rink. The trophy for the winning team is a beautiful silver cup donated by Mr. Cleve Baker of Margate. Those leagues may be the means of developing some outstanding hockey calibre in the next few years.—K

INTERSCHOLASTIC HOCKEY LEAGUE—The formation of the Prince County Interscholastic League is completed and a schedule of games has been drawn up. The League for 1933 comprises school teams from Kensington, Summerside, Borden and O'Leary. A good quality of hockey playing is exhibited—which augurs well for the future of the great national winter game in this province. Hockey playing, like all other branches of athletics, should be started when the subjects are of school age, in order to give them a chance to attain the highest point of excellence their natural ability will permit with discreet and sensible development year by year. The trophy has been donated by the Kensington Rink Association. The first game of the league series was played at Kensington, December 27, when Kensington High School was victorious over Summerside High School with a score of 5-2.—K

REV. CARLYLE WATERWORTH OPENS WEEK OF PRAYER AT SUMMERSIDE—Rev. Carlyle Waterworth, who has recently taken up his residence at Summerside as pastor of the Central Christian Church, made his debut to the general public on Tuesday evening at the United Baptist Church, when he was the speaker of the evening at the opening service of the Week of Prayer. There was a very large congregation. Rev. Mr. Waterworth preached an eloquent sermon from the text, "But one thing is needful and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her," taken from St. Luke 10, 42. The speaker's sermon was an eloquent appeal for a better Christian atmosphere in the home life of the present generation. He showed his listeners that from the very beginning of the world the Creator constituted the home, when after He had made the world, He created the birds, the fishes, the beasts of the field and last of all man and gave him a wife and placed them in the garden of Eden. That was their home and they were given certain responsibilities. This was the beginning of the home. The speaker pointed out the great importance that the home has in the building up and extending of God's Kingdom throughout the world. It has a place far beyond all man made institutions and it is only in the consecration of the home to God that the present generation can hope to regain some of the solid foundations of the past, and produce men and women of sterling character. The service was conducted by Rev. J. B. Wilson, pastor of the Church. Rev. L. B. Campbell and Rev. St. Clair Jeans offered prayer. The choir with Mrs. Dobson at the organ, assisted by the congregation, rendered the hymns for the evening. The service closed with prayer by Rev. W. H. Harding.—S

DIED IN PRINCE COUNTY HOSPITAL—There passed away in the Prince County Hospital on Tuesday evening, after an illness of several months, Frederick Dalton, at the early age of 22 years. Since the death of his mother, Eleanor Clark, twenty years ago, Freddie, as he was affectionately called by his friends, had lived with his grandparents, John M. Clark and the late Mrs. Clark formerly of Summerside. He went with them to Edmonton, Alberta, when a young lad. He returned last spring to Summerside and stayed with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Peter G. Clark. Freddie had a very likable disposition which endeared him to all who knew him. Besides his uncle and aunt, and cousins, Robert and James, one sister, Helen, is left to mourn, to whom much sympathy is extended. The funeral takes place today at 1:30 from P. G. Clark's residence on Notre Dame Street.—S

HOUSE WARMING AT KENSINGTON—A most enjoyable party took place at the new bungalow of Mr. and Mrs. Allison Mann, near Black Horse Corner, on Thursday evening, December 29th. There were about one hundred neighbors and friends present. Mr. and Mrs. Mann were presented with a beautiful dining room table and a purse of money. The presentation was made by Mr. James Dunphy, in a few appropriate words. A congratulatory address was well read by Mrs. Stanley Casley, to which Mr. Mann replied in a fluent and pleasing manner. Tea and delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Geo. Cotton, Mrs. William Cousins and Mrs. Elijah Bryenton. After the ceremonies and festivities, music cards and dancing were indulged in ad satietatem. Music of a fine quality was supplied by Messrs. Theodore Bernard and Willard Brown.—K

BANQUET AT KENSINGTON—Among the many Christmas festivities throughout the holidays an interesting event took place on Thursday evening, Dec. 22nd when Mr. S. R. Pendleton, proprietor of the Kensington Hatchery, gave a banquet to his employees. The scene was laid in Mrs. Champion's restaurant and covers were set for fourteen persons. The edibles included a thirteen pound turkey and two chickens with all the trimmings and accessories from soup to fingerbowls. Mr. Pendleton was intent on providing a copious supply of nutritious aliment, and Mrs. Champion and her capable assistants "did the grand" in point of service. Messrs. P. J. Noye and Clarence MacGuigan of Hunter River, who are interested in the business, were present. Mr. George Webster acted as general spokesman, and kept the assembly in a jolly good humor by his running fire of original sayings relative to the personnel of company, which added materially to the bon vivant of the gathering. The Pendleton hatchery and poultry buying business is one of Kensington's major enterprises and a large amount of live and dressed poultry is handled each year. It has incubator capacity for thirty thousand eggs. Much credit is due Mr. Pendleton for the zeal, energy and circumspection which he puts into his work. Needless to say the boys are very grateful for this tangible recognition of their services.—K

Search In Ruins Of Earlier Town

LOUISBURG, N. S., Jan. 4.—(C. P.)—Every now and then the archaeologists find beneath the ruins of an ancient city the traces of some still earlier civilization. Louisburg, in a way, is like that. Along the banks of the Mira River, less than a score of miles from the city of Sydney, are traces of the French inhabitants who lived here before the fortresses fell to the British; who lived here 100 years before the English came in to settle.

With the discovery of further relics on the site of this almost forgotten French village, steps are under way to conduct further excavations with a view to finding out more about the life of this village in the French Regime of 200 years ago. Its history is written in the hollows of the forest, in the almost obliterated lines of old foundations, and the branches of fruit trees planted long ago.

Here was a settlement, under the French, prosperous and highly developed. It had farms, brickyards, shipyards and fruit orchards, and a chapel, all surrounded by trenches for protection from the Indians. Today a few trees, the outline of an old road, remain to tell the story of a settlement earlier than the modern town with its white houses and shaded streets.

For a century after the fall of the fortress in the middle eighteenth century the settlement was empty. Houses decayed, the chapel fell into ruins, the brickworks and shipyards went to pieces. Only a tradition remained when the first English colonists came in. A century before, the French villagers had taken their canoes and small boats and travelled down the Mira River and across the head of the bay to Mira. Gut. Overland they went to the fortress and were transported back to France.

Notice to the Public

As has been our usual custom for several years our Plant was closed between Christmas and New Years, but we now find on account of present Economic conditions we have not sufficient work on hand or in sight to justify us calling our men back to work at the present time.

Our Works office and Main office is open to receive orders for work and the transaction of business as usual, and any orders forwarded us will receive our prompt attention. We would urge those who have or are anticipating having any work done to forward same to us at once so that we can begin plant operations as soon as it is possible, and thus give our men employment again.

We wish to take this opportunity of extending our Best Wishes for the New Year, and to thank all for their generous patronage in years past.
