ANSWER: There seems to be no subject in marriage more controversial than the stepping out one, and what rises wives about it so much is that they can't understand why the men who, before marriage, couldn't take them to enough places never want to take them anywhere after they are married. Well, neither I nor anyone else knows the answer to that. It just has to be set down to the perversity of husbands, and the only thing the wife can do is to arrange to take her pleasures in the afternoon by herself, or with other women. But a woman friend is a poor substitute for Friend Husband.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a girl of 17 and my trouble is that my mother steams all of my letters open and reads them and then gives the envelopes together again. There is nothing in the letters that I object to her seeing and I would willingly show them to her if she would let me read them first. But it is killing my respect for her to know that she does such a lowdown, sneaky trick. How can I make her see that?

ANSWER: I should think that if you would tell her, right flat out, how you feel about it that she would drop her scurvy trick. It is a pity that parents don't realize that when they lie to their children and spy upon them and play mean little deceptions upon them that the children see through them all and have a contempt for them that eventually kills their love.

Lively Comedy Bows in at Prince Edward

The mad merry-go-round that is Washington today, its heaving streets and jammed hotels, filled to the brim with war heroes and war wives, acts as backdrop for Warner Bros' new comedy hit, "The Doughgirls," which opens tonight at the Prince Edward.

Ducking in and out of halls and lobbies are a host of favorites, including Ann Sheridan, Alexis Smith and Jane Wyman, stacked in the roles of "brides," Jack Carson, Irene Manning and Charlie Ruggles; and Eve Arden, as Natalie, the pistol peckin' mama from Superior. Cast in important supporting roles are John Ridgely, John Alexander, Craig Stevens, Barbara Brown and Alan Bowdrey.

In Memoriam

MR. WILLIAM HARKNESS

A well known resident of the town, William Harkness, passed away suddenly Sunday morning, at his home, Queen Street, at the age of 58 years. The deceased was born in Summersville, P. E. I., son of the late John Harkness and Ellen Harkness. For twenty-seven years he had been employed at the Canadian Car and Foundry Company. He was a member of the Local Orange Lodge, No. 1628 of Amherst, which he took an active part in the work of the organization.

Surviving are his wife, the former Mary Bernice Tucker, and three sons, Earl, Russell and Leonard, all of Amherst. There also survive, his mother, Mrs. Ellen Harkness, one brother, Walter, Mrs. Robert Heffel and Mrs. William Philip, all of Brookline, Mass., and the brothers John, Summersville. There are also four grandchildren. The deceased's mother visited here about a week ago, on her way from Summersville to Brookline, Mass., and spent a short time with her son.

25th Wedding Anniversary

On January 29th a number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pickering, Clinton, to celebrate with them their 25th wedding anniversary. The Rev. I. O. J. Fraser of Margate after a few remarks called on Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pickering.

Dear Friends:—On this occasion, I have been entrusted by you, many friends with a very pleasant task. Indeed, I feel honored at this time to have the duty of conveying to you the sentiment that has motivated our gathering together this evening for we are here to celebrate with you the 25th anniversary of your wedding day. On this auspicious occasion we wish to extend to you our most hearty congratulations and best wishes.

For a quarter of a century you have walked the way of life together, sharing joys and sorrows, and we feel that now, looking back over those years, you can truthfully say, "God has blessed us." We rejoice with you in knowing that you have raised a fine family of whom you may well be proud, all homes, assisting both you and the community.

You, Edna, coming among us a stranger, have, by your kindness and friendliness, so woven yourself into the life of this people, that we can hardly believe you ever belonged elsewhere.

You have taken your place among the foremost members of our church and community, and we can always count on you as one who will cheerfully and willingly do your part.

We are not unmindful of your desire and readiness to visit, to sick, or to help in any time of need, not through any hope of personal gain, but from a sense of duty.

That your Ernest has been a successful farmer goes without saying. His honest toil, thrift, care, and planning, and the choosing of a capable and industrious partner in life, you are the possessor of one of the finest farms in the province.

You have both acted well your part, always ready and willing to take an interest in the community in the worthwhile things of life. In your hearts, you have been good neighbors and true friends, qualities which go to make for fine citizenship.

Your home has always been a model of hospitality, where all were assured of a sincere welcome, friends and strangers alike being treated with kindness and liberality.

And now dear friends, we ask you to accept this little gift, not for its monetary value, but as a remembrance of this happy occasion.

May you be spared many more years, happy together and useful together, and may the Heavenly Father continue to bless your happy home with the sunshine of His love as in the future.

On behalf of friends in Clinton and surrounding districts, Mrs. Pickering and family for their part, thank you for the group sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." Lunch was served by the ladies. The accompanists for the piano were Mrs. Clark Harding of Marlborough and Mr. Frank Riley of Clinton. After a jolly evening, our friends wended their way home.

HOW CAN I ! !

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I make the bed clothing stay in at the foot of the bed?

A. Try dividing an old blanket in half and let half be under the mattress and the other half over the other covers just under the spread. It will hold the covers firmly.

Q. How can I remove tangles from the hair?

A. If the hair is very tangled, try rubbing the scalp well with alcohol and the tangles will readily comb out.

Required will expedite the work and minimize delay. The co-operation of the public is respectfully requested.
