The market for foxes when Mr. Zobel left New York was particularly strong and no doubt will continue so next year. Mr. Zobel's Company sell on commission, and he is here in the interest of the firm. He considers that for the benefit of fox ranchers co-operation is absolutely necessary. The only way to conserve the interests of all concerned is by co-operation. If the sales of the ranchers were looked after by one organization it would be far better for all concerned, but especially for the individual rancher. Mr. Zobel strongly approves of the Sales Board of the P. E. I. Fox Breeders Association, and advises all ranchers to give it their united support.

GIRLS MAY WORK ON ONTARIO FARMS.

TORONTO Nov. 2.—Girls can work as farmers next year, as boys did this year, and still get their academic standing, according to regulations issued by the department of education.

These regulations make it clear this year that this work must be done on Ontario farms. During 1916 some boys made the mistake of going to harvest on the plains.

The department has for the school year 1916-17 made some amendment to the regulations of January and March 1916 which provided for the enlistment of young men who were attending the high and continuation schools and the collegiate institutions in preparation for the examining by the following June for admission to the normal schools and the faculties of education and who desire to enlist for overseas service in the present war.

One important factor is the definite requirement of an examination prior to Easter, 1917. On certain conditions the minister will after next Easter grant candidates exemption from examinations of June, 1917, with the certificates concerned.

SOCKS APPRECIATED

"Mrs. Stan Dolron, Rustico, (formerly Miss Marie M. Pineault) has received the following letter which shows how the socks are appreciated by the boys in France.

Somewhere in France, Sept. 13th 1916 Dear Miss Pineault: Received your socks and they are O.K., it just like a glove. As you have asked the person who received them to write, I thought I could do that much for you since you took the trouble of knitting the socks. I will try and write more next time that is if I get an answer.

ABOUT THIS--THE GRANDEST PICTURE EVER FILMED:

Toronto News: "The Battle Cry of Peace" is a tremendously impressive picture and a terrible sermon on the necessity for military preparedness on the North American Continent.

Toronto World: "The Battle Cry of Peace" is the most wonderful of all films and its series of thrilling pictures showing the bombardment of New York from land, sea and sky, Wall Street district in flames, the dynamiting of public buildings are of the most sensational kind.

Toronto Telegram: There have been war pictures upon war pictures exhibited here, but this one is the biggest and most powerful sermon that could possibly be imagined.

Toronto Globe: As a story, as a spectacle and as a sermon on the necessity for military preparedness, "The Battle Cry of Peace" constitutes a class all its very own. It is based on Hudson Maxim's "Defenceless America."

Montreal Star: To do justice to the extraordinarily powerful photodrama "The Battle Cry of Peace" one would have to write almost wholly in superlatives.

Montreal Gazette: "The Battle Cry of Peace" is frankly a propaganda play for preparation and as such it is always earnest, always persistent and at times terribly eloquent.

Montreal Herald: For though the warning is primarily direct to United States, yet is its lesson too for other countries, including our own.

Principals In The Film

L. ROGERS LYTTON, the Vitagraph's star "heavy" man, assumed the unwelcome role of the foreign spy known as "Emanon"—spell it backwards.

CHARLES RICHMAN, eminent leading actor, is the hero of the play, the American big brother who heard Maxim's great lecture on Unpreparedness and got busy.

JAMES MORRISON is the youngest brother who is first incredulous about "enemies," etc. He figures prominently in the raids of the foreigners.

NORMA TALMADGE, pretty and demure, is the sweetheart of the alert American and daughter of a prominent Peace Propagandist, a multi-millionaire.

"MOTHER" MARY MAURICE is truly the dear, sweet old mother of the boys and falls a victim to the enemy's random shells.

Taft Johnston is commander of the invading forces, Harry Northrup is one of the foreign generals, Louise Baudet is a mother who dies for her girls; in fact all the Vitagraph stars take part and 16,000 people, counting soldiers and supernumeraries, are employed.

Our Boys Write Home and Tell of what they have seen in Belgium and France. We can't just grasp what they are writing us, it seems so unnatural, so much an unheard-of thing, but this film depiction strikes the truth. The Vitagraph people have not glossed it over to get by the Censor Boards, they have struck out boldly and pictured the invasion. They have adhered closely to the awful pattern of King Albert's little land in this matter and the effect will be magical upon your minds and impulses.

NOW WE CAN SEE FOR OURSELVES!
