CHARLOTTETOWN HOME GUARDS

Organized Last Night. Provision Made for Enlistment of 500 Men

The Special Committee appointed Wednesday evening at the Citizens' Meeting met last night at the Armory, the following being present:—Col. F. S. Moore, Major Weeks, Mr. D. Fraser, Mr. E. E. Steele, Col. D. Stewart, Captain W. B. Prowse, Mr. Geo. M. Moore, Dr. H. D. Johnson, Aeneas McDonald, W. S. Louson. Col. Moore read the heading of the Service Roll, which is as follows:—Home Guard, P.E. Island. We whose names are herewith subscribed, being loyal British subjects, voluntarily agree to serve in the Home Guard of Prince Edward Island during the continuance of the war in which the Empire is now engaged, and that we will attend all drills and parades ordered by the officers of the corps, in or out of our power to do so. (Then follow the names, residence, age, date of enlistment.)

This form was unanimously adopted as being the simplest and most feasible. Copies of the Service Roll will be given to each member of the Committee, and a copy handed to the offices of the Guardian, Patriot and Examiner for the signature of citizens between the ages of 18 and 70. Outlying places in the Province may have copies of the Service Roll by applying to the Secretary, Mr. W. S. Louson.

It was moved by Mr. Sterns, seconded by Major Weeks, that the companies organized have the power to elect their own officers, and that instructors be provided as required by them. These motions were carried by the Committee.

It was suggested by Captain W. B. Prowse that a button be prepared, with the words "Home Guard, P.E. Island" printed thereon to identify the organization. Five hundred of these buttons are being ordered.

A number of other matters were discussed in connection with the formation of the Home Guard, and it was decided to call a meeting of the Committee next Wednesday evening to discuss the movement. The first turnout at the Drill Hall will take place next Thursday night at 8 sharp, when all those who have signed or may sign in the meantime are requested to be present.

From the general comment heard on the street the movement is a very popular one and promises a large contingent.

It is the desire of all those interested not to have any enlist who can possibly go into overseas service, and it is fully expected that, as has been the case in other cities, the formation of the Home Guard will help recruiting for the second contingent.

As the Committee appointed are busy men, it is hoped that citizens who desire to enlist will offer their names and service without waiting for an invitation. Each member of the Committee will receive a Service Roll in his possession by noon today.

N. B. HUNTERS FIND DEAD MAN

ST JOHN, N.B., Nov. 11.—Hunters from St. John's made a grim discovery yesterday morning in the woods at Gasperade, when the dead body of a man was found suspended by a handkerchief tied about his neck, in a hole near the Old Shannon Road. It was discovered after investigation that the deceased was Charles G. Jagter. He had been seen walking the track in the vicinity about an hour previous to the discovery of the body, and because he has been recently of sound mind, it is the opinion that he became despondent and suicided. He was a married man, 35 years of age and belonged to Enniskillen.

BATTLE OF CRACOW ABOUT TO BEGIN

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, Nov. 12.—A despatch to Reuters' Telegram Company from Petrograd says: News of the beginning of a battle at Cracow, Galicia, is momentarily expected. The Germans have been digging trenches and erecting barbed wire entanglements along the whole Russian-German frontier, with the object of impeding the passage of the Russian forces. It is understood, however, that the main plan is to retire on the fortresses of Koenigsberg, Posen, Glogau, Breslau and Niess.

Rumor has it in the Japanese colony that the ships will rendezvous with a Japanese fleet, now nearing the coast of Chile, where it is supposed to be seeking the German cruisers, believed to be in that vicinity.

FOUR THOUSAND GERMANS WOUNDED

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 12.—Via London.—Four thousand severely wounded Germans arrived at Liege yesterday from the battlefields around Dixmude, where most sanguinary fighting has taken place, according to a despatch from Maastricht to the Nieuws van Dags. The message adds that 800 Hungarians passed through Liege today, en route to Cracow with several 8.30 centimetre guns.

ADMIRAL TROUBRIDGE WNS ACQUITTED

(Special to the Guardian.) WEYMOUTH, Eng., Nov. 12.—Rear-Admiral Troubridge, second in command of the British Mediterranean fleet, was today acquitted by court-martial of neglect in connection with the escape of former German cruisers Goeben and Breslau. Rear-Admiral Sir Archibald Berkeley Milne, formerly commander of the Mediterranean fleet, had been previously exculpated from similar charges.

LORD ROBERTS GOING TO FRANCE

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, Nov. 12.—Field Marshal Lord Roberts is going to France. An official announcement making this public says the famous general is going into the war zone "to see the Indian troops." Lord Roberts was born in Campore, India, 82 years ago.

AUSTRALIA TO SEND 250,000 MEN TO FRONT

MELBOURNE, Nov. 12.—A military force of 250,000 men will be Australia's contribution to the war, it is believed for the defence of the Empire. Australia already has sent off her first contingent to aid the Allies in Europe, and shortly expects to have 50,000 men on the fighting line.

Australia already has sent off her first contingent to aid the Allies in Europe, and shortly expects to have 50,000 men on the fighting line.

Besides this army, Australia has in training approximately 200,000 reservists, comprising all branches of the service. These men are drilling every day and will soon be ready to take their places in the fighting line if needed.

The Russian army, under General Rennenkampf, is fighting its way into East Prussia and has taken Johannesburg, which is on the railway from Lyck to Soldau, both of which towns are already in Russian hands. This gives Russia control of an important railway line which skirts the frontier of German territory, and several branch railways running into the interior. The central army, which drove the Germans back from the Vistula, has been in only unimportant engagements, but is known to be pushing forward to the borders of Posen and Silesia, which the Germans are crossing.

CONSPIRACY IN CONSTANTINOPLE

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegram Company from Athens, says:—

"It is reported that a conspiracy has broken out at Constantinople against the Germans and Young Turks. The chief conspirators were arrested and shot."

"The population of the Ottoman capital is becoming very excited as a result of the Turkish defeats on Sunday, and visited resentment on a number of German non-commissioned officers whom they attacked."

GERMAN OFFICIAL

(Special to the Guardian.) BERLIN, Nov. 12.—The German general headquarters has issued the following: "The enemy advanced from Nieuport as far as Lombardezyde, but was driven across the Yser. The eastern bank of the Yser, as far as the sea, is now clear of the enemy. Our attack across the Yser and the south of Dixmude is progressing. In the region east of Ypres we have advanced further and captured 700 French soldiers, four cannon and four machine guns."

FRENCH OFFICIAL

(Special to the Guardian.) PARIS, Nov. 12.—(Official tonight.) To the north we have held all our positions. The enemy has sought to debouch from Dixmude by a night attack, but was repulsed.

HOME GUARD MEETING IN THE ARMOURIES

A very enthusiastic meeting, and a gratifyingly large one in view of the short notice which was given, was held in the Drill Shed Wednesday evening to discuss and take steps towards the organization of a "Home Guard" in Charlottetown. Major Weeks was unanimously appointed to take the chair, which he afterwards relinquished to Colonel Moore, who accepted the chairmanship. Mr. Weeks shortly explained the object of the Home Guard, which is to be a union of professional men, artisans, clerks and other men, prepared to bear arms in home defence in the event of such an emergency as any time arising. Mr. W. S. Louson was appointed to act as secretary.

SUMMARY OF THE SITUATION

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, Nov. 12.—The critical stage in battle of west Flanders has now been reached. The next few days, if not hours, should produce something more decisive than has yet occurred. The Germans continue their attack with all the forces at their command against the British and French, who hold the line between Dixmude and Ypres, but, with the exception of the capture of Dixmude, which occurred Tuesday, and some little progress around Ypres, they are not able to make any material advance.

The French official report says all attacks have been repulsed. The Germans are not longer utilizing green troops in this region, but have brought up the pick of the army, including some Prussian Guards, who attempted an offensive movement against the British without success. Both sides express satisfaction with the progress of the battle. Berlin says the attacks of the Allies have been repulsed, and their own attacks making headway, while London and Paris feel that so long as the Allies can hold the line of the canal from Nieuport to Ypres their position is a strong one.

In France from north-west to south-east there have been engagements of lesser importance, in which, according to French reports, General Joffre's armies succeeded in gaining ground and strengthening their position. The Germans continue to destroy bridges and railways in Belgium, with what object remains a secret. It is thought, however, that they are making preparations to winter in that country, and they are taking every step to prevent their plans becoming known to their enemies.

CRUISER GOEBEN PIERCED BY SHELL

(Special to the Guardian.) PETROGRAD, Nov. 12.—A despatch from Constantinople says the Turkish cruiser Goeben was penetrated by a shell at the waterline during the recent bombardment of the Dardanelles by Allied Anglo-French fleet. The damage inflicted is described as serious.

The Goeben is one of the two German cruisers taken over by Turkey after the outbreak of war, the other being the Breslau.

REPORTED SINKING OF GERMAN CRUISERS

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, Nov. 12.—A report is current in the lobbies of the House of Commons this afternoon that three German cruisers were sunk in the Pacific at a place not specified. No confirmation is obtainable.

HEROIC END OF RUSSIAN TRANSPORT

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, Nov. 12.—A graphic account has been received here of the end of the Russian transport, Pruth, which the Russians sank sooner than surrender her to the Turkish cruiser Goeben.

When called upon to surrender, her captain headed the Pruth for the shore opposite her valves and blew a hole in the bottom of the vessel.

Lieutenant Ragowsky perished while attempting to fire a second charge of explosives. Part of the crew got off in boats, while others jumped into the water and were picked up by a Turkish ship.

The ship's chaplain and a handful of men were left aboard. As the ship went down the chaplain was seen on deck giving his blessing to the men, who remained about him cheering and singing the National Anthem.

ECUADOR AND COLUMBIA WARNED BY ALLIES

(Special to the Guardian.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—France and Great Britain have warned Ecuador and Columbia in vigorous terms that violations of neutrality by those countries will not be tolerated.

RUSSIAN OFFICIAL

(Special to the Guardian.) PETROGRAD, Nov. 12.—The Russian General Staff issued the following statement: "In East Prussia on November 11th, an action developed in front of Stallupeneu, Kroniglawken and the region of Soldau. Our troops occupied Johannesburg (East Prussia) 70 miles south-west of Gumbinnen. Beyond the Vistula battles of secondary importance occurred in the region of Kalisz (Russian Poland and Naehava), where the advance guard of the enemy sought progress. In the Carpathians, the Austrians rear guard maintained at the crossings on upper Sau, or Sanok, were attacked by our troops. The siege of Przemysl which was suspended during the period which Austro-German armies were on the offensive has been re-established."

GERMAN OFFICIAL

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, Nov. 12.—A message from Bucharest, according to an Exchange Telegram Company despatch from Rome, says two Austrian divisions have been annihilated along the River Pruth. While a small Russian force made a frontal attack, the main force invaded Bukovina from the south and cut off the Austrian retreat and delivered an attack from the rear.

SIX BATTALIONS OF AUSTRIANS ANNIHILATED

(Special to the Guardian.) NISH, Serbia, Nov. 12.—Six battalions of Austrian infantry with quick-firing guns, which crossed the Danube near Saderevo, under cover of artillery fire on November 9th, have been annihilated by a Serbian counter-attack, according to an official communication given out at Nish today.

All men not killed, wounded or drowned in the Danube, fell into our hands," the Serbian announcement continued. "We made 2,000 prisoners and captured quick-firing guns."

GERMAN STEAMER CAPTURED BY FRENCH

(Special to the Guardian.) PERPIGNAN, France, Nov. 12.—A French cruiser steaming off the coast captured a German steamer which had on board 150 men and what was described as a "suspicious cargo." The Germans on the steamer are interned here.

ITALY IS RUSHING TROOPS TO TRIPOLI

ROME, Nov. 12.—Italy is sending troops to Tripoli to defend her settlements and loyal tribesmen against Arab rebels and Bedouins who have raided supply columns in the interior and have attacked an encampment of submissive tribesmen at Derna.

Turkey has disregarded the promise made to Italy by Germany that the Porte would not threaten Italian colonies and that Turkey had no designs on Tripoli. Events are tending more and more to force Italy into the war on the side of the Allies. The newest and most momentous crisis has developed in Cyrenaica, due to the aggressions of Bedouins stirred by the preachers of Turkish and German agents.

GOOD HOPE AND MONMOUTH OFFICIALLY DECLARED LOST

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Admiralty today announced that in the absence of further information as to the fate of the British cruisers, Good Hope and Monmouth, in a naval engagement off the coast of Chile with a German squadron on Nov. 1st, is now officially presumed to be lost.

The list of officers and men serving on these vessels at the time they encountered the Germans will be published shortly. The Good Hope was the flagship of Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Craddock.

THE THREE WEEKS CONTINUOUS BATTLE

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Official Bureau issued the following statement tonight:—Operations during the last few days consisted mainly in fighting at Lys, where the points of interest were first on the line of Hallebecke, Wytshaete and Messines. There have also been severe encounters on the line from Zandvoorde to Freilzheim.

A characteristic of this fighting has been frequent vigorous infantry attacks by the Germans, accompanied by heavy shell fire, and alternating equally vigorous counter-attacks, the general result being the maintenance of our line, not without considerable losses on our side, but with still heavier losses on the other. Six machine guns and over one hundred prisoners were taken by us on the eighth.

The Allies' strength has been constantly maintained by reinforcements. Lately the stress has been in the neighbourhood of Ghelvelde, to the north of Ypres and Dixmude.

The German artillery fire was practically continual. The bombardment being intended to pulverise our defence preparatory to the advance of their infantry. In the centre the struggle has been at Ypres, the defence of which will certainly be reckoned in history as one of the most striking episodes of the British army.

For more than three weeks our position, which projects like a bastion into the enemy's lines, has been held under a rain of shells, which hardly ceased day or night. During this time the enemy poured successive waves of infantry against it, only to see them break to pieces one after the other.

THE TYRANNY OF TEARS SUCCESSFULLY PRESENTED LAST NIGHT

An overwhelming audience greeted Mr. Irving Beers and his associates at the People's Theatre last night in the splendid English comedy-drama "The Tyranny of Tears," which was presented under the auspices of the Patriotic Fund.

The hall was absolutely crowded, and by their enthusiastic and generous applause the audience showed a perfect appreciation of the efforts of the actors, who deserve the utmost credit for the excellent production for which they were responsible. The play, which consisted of four acts, contained a strong moral, and demonstrated the futility of married life without a proper sympathy between husband and wife. Mr. Parbury, an opulent novelist, takes a kindly but perfectly legitimate interest in his pretty female secretary, Miss Hyacinthe Woodward, with the result that his wife, a highly-strung and inconsiderate young lady, develops a disastrous jealousy. Complications naturally ensue, and the proposal of Mrs. Parbury that the secretary should be discharged because—although she does not communicate the reason to her husband—Miss Woodward kissed his photograph, is gently but firmly rejected by the man, who sees no justification for the action. Failing by persuasion to get her husband to discharge the girl, Mrs. Parbury plays to her trump card;—she weeps, causing Mr. Parbury to complain of his misery under the tyranny of his wife's tears, whence the name of the play. In the meanwhile Mr. George Gunning, a good-natured, interesting and highly humorous personality, the bosom friend of Parbury, begins to cultivate the friendship of the Secretary, whom he afterwards marries,—the work of Colonel Armitage, Mrs. Parbury's father—thus separating in an educational and eminently satisfactory manner, Mr. Parbury and the cause of his wife's uneasiness. The denouement is pretty and the plot is developed in a splendid and pleasing style. The acting was highly creditable. Mr. Beers, as Parbury, and Mr. Chas. Dennis, as Gunning, being everything that could be desired. Mr. Harold Morris, as Col. Armitage, and Mr. J. A. S. Bayer, as a precise butler, were both splendid. Miss Lucy Blanchard was an engaging secretary, while Miss Blanche Toombs acted the part of Mrs. Parbury in admirable style. Miss Edna Gordon had a small part to play but she played it well.

Mr. Beers, as director, and Mr. Dennis, as stage manager, are deserving of special thanks for their efforts to make the play the huge success it was, while all the actors were excellent in their respective roles.

Between acts Miss Edna Gordon gave a recitation, Miss Lucy Blanchard sang a stirring patriotic song, Mr. George Beers sang Harry Lauder's latest, a ringing war song, and the "Bulwark Quartette," who were provided by Mr. W. G. Hogg, and who had to respond to three encores, gave some of the finest combinations of vocal music ever heard in the city.

In thanking the audience for their attendance, Mr. Irving Beers also expressed the utmost thanks, on behalf of the Patriotic Fund to Mr. W. G. Hogg for the free use of the Theatre and to the Band for their gratuitous services. He also referred to the excellence of the acting of the local amateurs.

The following is the cast:—
