—PAINFULLY INJURED—
While a Summerside lady was going home from church on Sunday night last with her husband in crossing Central Street, she was knocked down by an auto, said to be carrying no lights but a lantern hung in front. Her head was badly cut. One leg hurt and her clothing badly torn. The injuries though painful were not serious, and the lady at last reports was making good progress, and has recovered from her injuries.

Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous to force the weight down. Marmola Prescription Tablets overcome all these difficulties. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or exercise, and have the added advantage of cheapness. A case is sold at one dollar by all druggists the world over, or send the price direct to the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this, you have no excuse for being fat, but can reduce steadily and easily without going through long stages of tire some exercise and starvation diet or fear of bad effects.

Mr. James Paton and Immigration Prospects

your province who would keep appointments that our agents make in order to individually interview these prospective settlers. After all, a conversation with a man "on the spot" is worth even more than what our experienced agents would be able to tell them.
I am sending a copy of this letter to the Hon. Peter C. Larkin, High Commissioner for Canada, because I know he would wish to emphasize the statement that anything that this Department can do to assist Prince Edward Island to secure some farmer settlers for their province would be supported to the utmost by him.
In addition to the above, might I suggest that those who are going to deal with this matter place themselves immediately in touch with the Secretary of this Department in Ottawa, and no matter what the Department may instruct us to do we shall carefully carry it out in the best interests of your province.
Yours faithfully,
J. O. SMITH,
Supt. of Emigration for Canada.
116 Union St.
Aberdeen,

Dear Mr. Paton
I have summed up for all practical purposes, the method which, if you are able to put it into effect on your return, we will be able to make a beginning in getting some of the emigration located in Prince Edward Island. Of course what is everybody's business works out to be nobody's business, and to this end if the Government do not appoint Labour Bureaus throughout the Island to canvas the situation thoroughly, such as they formerly had in effect in Ontario and the West up until the war, and which worked out very satisfactorily, appears to me the Island will have to get together and appoint a live representative on a salary to take care of compiling the information asked for, and meeting settlers and placing them on arrival. He should be assisted by a sub-committee of clergymen who have the local knowledge and leisure to assist in placing these people and paying them frequent calls until they get started.
If there is anything should occur to you that I have overlooked, I shall be delighted to know and give it prompt attention.
Yours Sincerely,
D. J. MURPHY

Mr. James Paton,

Dear Mr. Paton,
In harmony with our conversation recently—The Emigration situation as it appears to me after a very energetic canvass of my territory (embracing ten Counties as well as Shetlands and Hebrides) is summed up as follows:—

- 1st. The Wealthy Field:
Those with considerable wealth are fixtures. Markets, comforts, settled conditions and love of home are universal; putting ourselves in their circumstances gives the answer.
Exceptions:
Of this class there is always a small restless element—those who, seeing no chance of their children being able to make their fortune, are willing to make the venture for the sake of their family. This class we search out and try to advise and secure.
Then again we have the sons and daughters of said class who are out for venture or larger opportunities. These too we are very keen about and, when we get the scent, keep after them with literature, but above all with personal letters of interesting detail, so that they may have something tangible to work on. Persistent propaganda gets them. Their numbers I cannot estimate.
- 2nd. The Middle Class:
Those who rent Farms and Crofts, families with capital of from £200 to £1500.
Of this class there is a very large field. The drawback is the money transportation costs, eating up their life savings and leaving scarcely enough to keep the family in food during the time necessary to find their bearings in a new home.
For the securing of such a "Class" some assistance towards passage money, or assurance of a home and opportunity to work immediately on arrival, are necessary. The universal unemployment since the war has unnerved even the bold, and the eternal answer is—"Unless we are assured work or land from which we may secure our food, we dare not venture."
Surely on Prince Edward Island you and your influential Board of Trade know of many farms where you could settle these enquirers. Have no fear as to the type my Agency sends you. We only accept after very diligent enquiries, and rare are the failures.
- 3rd. The Farm Labour Class:
The Fishermen:
These we have in unlimited numbers, or as many as we can absorb each year. Some can pay their fares; these are mostly, however, work. The vast majority, however, have only work enough to pay for meagre daily food and of course have no funds in reserve—in this class the fishing element predominates. Their markets have been lost since the war.

---the Enterprise Pipeless Furnace is DOUBLY Guaranteed

Besides bearing a written guarantee from the manufacturers every Enterprise All-Cast-Iron Pipeless Furnace sold by us is guaranteed by R. T. Holman, Limited. The Enterprise people and ourselves have been in business for many years and we cannot afford to guarantee any article that we are not sure is absolutely reliable in every way. In considering the purchase of a furnace be sure that the one you select is guaranteed to satisfy, and then make sure that the guarantee is strong enough and backed by a concern that you can depend upon.

Steel and iron joints expand unevenly with excessive Heat—Enterprise Furnaces have no top joints and is ALL-CAST-IRON. Therefore there is no danger of smoke, gas, dust and the other annoyances of Steel Radiators and ordinary Pipe Furnaces.

The big drawback with other furnaces is the fact that the radiator is made of a combination of steel and iron, two metals which expand unevenly, thus opening the joints and allowing the escape of gas, smoke, dust and other annoyances. THIS DRAWBACK HAS BEEN OVERCOME BY THE ENTERPRISE PIPELESS FURNACE which is made of all-cast-iron, with deep cut joints, the radiator particularly, being free from top joints altogether and the lower cut joints being exceptionally deep. Thus, no matter how sudden the change in temperature, the joints will not open like other furnaces, a danger that is ever present with the steel-and-iron type of radiator.

SUMMERSIDE

There we have the two elements which really made English-speaking Canada—the farm worker and the fisherman. While depression is as great as now, we can get them the assurance of a house over their heads, work to earn their keep and assistance towards passage money. As they succeed they will repay, for I know them—it is not charity these Scots want.
The opportunity for Emigration is now at its best. When Prosperity returns—as it surely will—the same effort will not secure anything like the results to be obtained now.
Between the lines you can read of what is wanted at the other end. Nevertheless I would like to point out the following:—
(a) One of the points of paramount importance to be observed in connection with the emigration of farm workers and household workers, is the method adopted for the reception and placing of such parties. We have found from long experience that sometimes a vacillating policy has been pursued—the Provincial Government or Immigration Society requesting at first a certain number of such people and then curtailing both the number of persons required and the period in which they had to arrive. This meant that much of our labour was lost, as we were invariably able to get the number required when first notified, and those who had to remain behind were naturally disappointed and did no good to our propaganda work.
Briefly the essentials required are:—
(a) Advice well ahead of number of people required.
(b) Destination i.e. point from which they will be placed, and name of official in charge.
(c) Wages to be paid. If possible, state approximately.
(d) Latest date by which parties must arrive.
(e) If fishermen, cost of outfit necessary to start with, and information about methods of marketing.
D. J. MURPHY
Col. O'Kelly, Glasgow, wrote that

President of the Maritime Board of Trade, regarding the appointment of a permanent secretary was read and approved. The letter stated that at Moncton, 1919, at Amherst in 1920, Charlottetown in 1921 and St. John's this year, this matter had been fully discussed and the executive instructed to take the necessary steps that the right man be secured and placed in the field. The means of raising $7,750 or $8,000 and it was proposed that the money be secured by asking the government of Nova Scotia $3,000, New Brunswick for $2,000 and P. E. Island for $1,000; the balance to be secured by the boards of Trade.
British Empire Exhibition
In another communication to the British Empire Exhibition Executive it was stated that the Exhibition will be held in London next year and that the Exhibition Mission will arrive in Charlottetown on the evening of Oct. 11 remaining until the morning of Nov. 1st.
