C.N.R. PROPOSALS AGAIN DISCUSSED

Hon. W. T. White Made Ringing Speech in Support of the Government's Position. There were two Alternatives, a Receivership or Government Aid.

The Aid Proposed by Government will Convert Subsidiary Companies into Profitable Parts of the System. Government is Effectively Protected by the Agreement and Canada's Credit is Involved in the Settlement.

(From Our Own Reporter)

OTTAWA, May 18.—The debate on the C. N. R. resolution is expected to conclude to-morrow. With that over the bill will be introduced by the Finance Minister at once and given its first reading. Upon the motion for second reading the Liberal party will have to show its hand more clearly than has yet been done.

The continuation of the debate today was chiefly featured by the speech of Hon. W. T. White, Minister of Finance. As one of the ministers chiefly concerned in bringing about the agreement, Mr. White spoke with authority on the financial aspects of the question. He emphasized the fact that the alternatives were government aid or a receivership. With such a great system it could mean nothing but disintegration and even if the Government itself were the receiver it would only result in great damage to the credit of Canada.

Mr. White contended that the aid which the Government was now giving would convert many of the subsidiary companies into highly profitable parts of the system. It was for the purpose of linking them up into one workable system that the present plan was adopted. With regard to the safety of the agreement, Mr. White said that never had he seen an agreement more effectually devised for the realization of the security than that which had been provided in the present instance.

The matter had been given the most painstaking consideration and it constituted legislation that well deserved the name of progressive. The whole of Canada was now concerned and the sooner the situation was cleared the better for Canada's credit in London. He felt that the responsibility of the country was with the Government. Other speakers of the day were W. M. German, of Wexford; J. E. Armstrong, of East Lambton; W. A. Buchanan, of Medicine Hat; and F. F. Pardee, of East Lambton.

AVIATION RACES HAVE STARTED

(Canadian Press.) FRANKFORT, ON MAIN, May 17.—The Prince Henry aviation competition began today at Darmstadt. The start was made at four o'clock in the morning. Eighteen Military Aviators and thirteen Civilian aviators took the air. About thirty additional Military will take part. One fatal and several minor accidents occurred. Lt. Wals following an explosion in his motor was slightly burned and his companion killed. Prince Henry witnessed the start.

TERRIBLE TALE OF TRAGEDY AT SEA

A terrible story of horror and hardship is told by the survivors of the boat-load of sixteen, the last of the crew of the Leyland liner Columbine—destroyed by fire at sea on May 3rd.—to be rescued. The missing life boat was picked up, as reported in yesterday's Guardian, by the U. S. Revenue Cutter, Seneca, forty miles south of Sable Island. Wireless messages from that vessel appraised the world of one of the most pitiful tragedies in Marine annals. There were sixteen men in the boat when it left the smoking sides of the burning Columbian thirteen days previously. Twelve of them died of hunger and exposure, and the four emaciated wrecks taken aboard the revenue cutter were in a state of lethargy approaching death itself. The Seneca was on the way to Halifax for fuel and stores when she rescued the men.

The men left the Columbian so hurriedly that there was no opportunity to supplement the store of water and the twenty-gallon cask of water stowed in the stern of the boat was soon exhausted but rain fortunately fell and they suffered comparatively little from the pangs of thirst. The hard-tack biscuit soon gave out, however. All told, there was only about one hundred pounds of it in the boat and this was pretty well exhausted in the first week.

When their short allowance of biscuit and water had failed, they maintained life by chewing, not leather and the few stray crumbs of hard-tack. The first two days after drifting away from the famished Columbian they saw three steamers, too far away to be signalled.

The death of these men places the number of lives lost in the disaster at fifteen. Chief Officer Tierce, Seaman Oscar Kendall and Peter Belanger and fireman Ludwigsen were the four men who survived the pangs of hunger and exposure. Those who died in the boat were Peter Trier, who perished as he rescued arrived. Officer George Hull was the first man to die. He perished a week ago Saturday after being a week afloat. Engineer Margets, Fireman Anderson, Antonio, Richman Gustafson and Jacob, Cabin Boy Dickman, Antonio, Schrimberger and Sailor Christensen all perished in the intervening week.

CONFEDERATION CELEBRATION

Preparations are moving forward at an appreciable rate for the celebration in Charlottetown next August of the jubilee of the inception of Confederation. The various sub-committees that have been appointed to deal with the different departments of work are busily engaged in carrying out the duties entrusted to them. The General Secretary, Mr. C. R. Snaikwood, is at present engaged in ordering a large quantity of jars, and other receptacles and other supplies that are necessary in connection with the exhibition that will be one of the features of the celebration programme.

As regards the accommodation of visitors, the citizens of Charlottetown are being circumscribed this week in preparation for a canvass to ascertain to what extent they will be prepared to extend their hospitality in this respect. Citizens are being asked to give their co-operation in the celebration by receiving during the few days the event will last as many guests or boarders as their resources will enable them to accommodate. With respect to the invitations that are being extended to notable persons, in the Dominion and Empire to be present and participate in the celebration, Sir Charles Tupper, the only surviving one of the Fathers of Confederation, has been specially asked to attend and it is expected that if circumstances of health will at all permit, Sir Charles, who is residing in the Old Country, will gladly come. As noted in yesterday's Guardian, Sir Charles will make an attempt to come to Canada to unveil the Cartier Statue in Montreal in September—from this it may be assumed that Sir Charles will favourably consider the invitation to come here in August, and perhaps the only drawback to his coming will be the state of his health and its ability to withstand the long journey. Up to the present he has been received from Sir Charles to the invitation extended him. Among other prominent statesmen who have been also specially asked to participate in the celebration is a member of the Imperial Cabinet, the Right Hon. Winston Churchill, the First Lord of the Admiralty.

UNEASY FEELING TROUBLES IRELAND

(Canadian Press.) SYDNEY, N. S., May 17.—Mrs. Tena Atkinson, the hearing of the charge against whom of being an accessory after the fact in the murder of Benjamin S. Atkinson, was concluded on Saturday afternoon, has been committed to stand her trial before the Supreme Court on that charge by Magistrate W. R. Hearn.

Mr. Mellish stated that the defence were not going to call any witnesses. He understood that Mrs. Atkinson had been bound over to stand trial on practically the same evidence before and that in all probability His Honor would do so again in the face of the additional evidence produced by the Crown. He will apply for bail to one of the judges of the Supreme Court of Halifax.

When Magistrate Hearn gave the usual statutory warning to the prisoners after asking her if she had anything to say, Mrs. Atkinson in a low voice answered, "I have nothing to say."

Mr. Mellish, at the conclusion of the hearing, asked Crown Prosecutor Hearn if the case would come up at the next session of the Supreme Court meeting here on the last Tuesday of June. Mr. Hearn answered that he could not say positively, but that in all probability it would.

Chief Justice Townshend will be the judge at the sitting of the court. The argument of the admissibility of the Haynes statement will be heard before him if the case comes up at all.

OTTAWA, May 18.—From hotel clerk to a fortune and the management of a big coal mine is the jump made in a few days by James A. Rogers, who was information clerk at the Belmont Hotel. Rogers is to take up his duties as managing director of a Canadian coal company.

Outside of the salary from his new position, Rogers is now worth $150,000 in cash and securities. A few weeks ago he was depending for his living on his salary at the Belmont. "Jim" Rogers has been quite a few ups and downs in the last few years ago on coming of age he inherited $60,000. It took him just two years to go through that sum and then he found himself penniless and almost a physical wreck.

Rogers relatives sent him to western Canada, where he worked in the mountains for a year, and brought himself back into good condition. Then he decided to come to New York and landed here penniless. He got a position in the Belmont as extra office boy, but it was not long before he was a clerk in the front office.

Then a chance to make money running a summer hotel was offered Rogers and he took the chance. He came back in the autumn with $1,000, but the old spending fever was on and the money did not last long.

Rogers headed for the Canadian mountains again for his health. He recovered, and decided that he wanted to succeed in New York. So he came back three years ago. He worked hard, and soon had his position as information clerk at the Belmont. Meanwhile his sister in Canada, had been watching him, and convinced that he was sincere in his efforts, she came to visit him several weeks ago.

Nationalists and Ulsterites both Arming. Ammunition and Rifles Landed for Nationalists. United States Rifles Found Among Nationalist Volunteers.

(Canadian Press.) LONDON, May 17.—Gazette Cable says there is an uneasy feeling in all parts of Ireland following the political events of the past week at Westminster which were reflected in Military incidents which caused great excitement. The most significant feature in the latest developments is that preparations are not now confined to one side. Hitherto Carson's volunteers had been under all eyes on account of drilling, inspections and gun running. The Nationalists evidently realizing that this was not mere bluff but may require to be met the politicians fail to reach a satisfactory arrangement.

Reports reached London Saturday of the landing of ammunition and rifles for the use of Nationalist Volunteers. Thus the Irish party is following the lead of the Ulster men. It is said that a number of rifles of American make are in possession of the Nationalist Volunteers in the Midlands but though several steamers were held up the police failed to find any trace of arms. One thousand Nationalist Volunteers gathered Friday night for drill and Carriek on Shannon. They also had a parade last Saturday night.

In the Ulster side a sensational accident marked the week end. The residence of Capt. Craig, M.P., was surrounded Friday night by the first Norfolk's stationed at Holdwood, County Down. News was conveyed to the Ulster Headquarters which resulted in a hurried mobilization of two Battalions of the East Belfast Regiment. They were met half way by scouts who informed them the troops had been withdrawn.
