— CORONATION DAY PROGRAM — The school district of Fernwood celebrated the Coronation of our new King by a community gathering in the schoolhouse in the evening at which an interesting program was put on by the school children, the young people of the district, and two guest speakers ,who kindly consented to give of their time and talent to make the occasion a memorable one. After the opening chorus "O Canada" by the school children the chairman, J. H. MacFarlane made a few introductory remarks. Then called on Alden Leard for a reading "The Boy and the Flag," this was followed by a pleasing address by Mr. D. E. Noonan of Bedeque, who, as a returned soldier described his meeting with our new Sovereign while being entertained at dinner by our late King George V during a time when he was recovering from wounds while overseas. His speech seemed to form a connection link between the beautiful Coronation ceremony and our gathering. Next a quartette "Put Me in Your Pocket" was sung by Misses Ella and Laura McIsaac, Messrs Alden Leard and Emmett McIsaac with guitar accompaniment by Alden Leard. Encored. A fine pageant was put on by the school children all of whom even to the tiniest tot did their parts exceedingly well. A song "The Red, White and Blue" with guitar accompaniment was very nicely sung by three little girls, Ruth Leard, Pauline and Noreen Henderson; then Rev. J. W. A. Nicholson of North Bedeque, gave a patriotic address which he managed, with his rare ability, to make humorous enough not to be dry; serious enough to waken ones better instincts; simple enough for the children to understand, and deep enough to call for serious thought, thus holding the interest of all from beginning to end. An appropriate reading was given by Mrs. George Henderson followed by another selection by the quartette, also encored. A collection was taken for the Red Cross, refreshments were served and tendered to the guest speakers and to Miss Gwendolyn McLean, teacher, who so capably trained the children and the celebration concluded with the National Anthem.—S.

She was in the eighth grade at Miscouche Convent and was working hard so that she could enter the senior class next year. She was a general favorite and will be missed in the home and at school. She was a member of the Children of Mary and received the last Sacrament before she died. Besides her parents several brothers and sisters are left to mourn. Coronation Day Celebration At Miscouche

Like the rest of Prince Edward Island the ancient village of Miscouche had fitting celebrations in honour of the crowning of King George and Queen Elizabeth.

The day opened with the Solemn Votive Mass of the Most Holy Trinity at 8.45 in the Parish Church, in accordance with the wishes of Bishop O'Sullivan, Bishop Catholic Diocese of Prince Edward Island.

The Convent children formed up in the Convent square and each carrying flags marched to the tune of O Canada, played by Miscouche Band, into the church and sat in the central aisle.

Rev. Dr. Monaghan was the celebrant of the Mass and also gave a short address on our duty as loyal subjects to His Marjesty King George VI. At the conclusion of Mass the thanksgiving "Te Deum" and prayers for the King were sung concluding with the National Anthem.

After the service the children marched to the convent grounds and formed a circle round the flag pole, where the Union Jack was floating in the breeze. A picture of the King and Queen was on display at the foot of the flag staff.

O Canada was sung followed by the flag salute. Rev. Fr. Monaghan and Mr. A. J. Poirier gave patriotic addresses. The pretty ceremony ended with the National Anthem.

In the evening a charming little program was enjoyed in the hall when practically the whole village attended. The proceeds went to the Prince County Hospital.

Rev. Fr. Monaghan presided and gave a short address of welcome. The guest speaker of the evening was Mr. B. W. Robinson, Mayor of Summerside, who delivered an excellent speech appropriate for the occasion.

The program opened with a song "Flag of Peace" and then a charming play "The Princess and the Robbers," A dialogue "The Rat in the Basket"; an interesting drill "Flags of the Empire" was particularly fine. Then another little dialogue "The Secret". The senior pupils received much applause for their story of the Coronation ceremonies, which they described in detail taking in the procession from the palace and the service in the Abbey.

A chorus by the whole school entitled "The Coronation Ode" and The King brought the program to a fitting conclusion.—S audience with a recital of piano music at the Canadian National Hotel, later in the year.

Judge A. E. Arsenault in a paper on "Liturgical and Church Music" asissted by a group of male singers from the choir of Saint Dunstan's Basilica, under the direction of Mr. William Brown, and Mrs. Hugh Miller in a paper on "Negro and Jubilee Singers," were most interesting and instructive. Others outside the club who performed during the season included, the Serenaders, Miss Rena Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gomez, P. D. Williams, Mr. Charles MacKenzie and a group of young performers who won first place in the recent Y. M. C. A. Hobbies Exhibition.

The financial report of the Treasurer, Miss Gwynneth Fry, showed a surplus and in all other departments of the Club's activities gratifying progress was noted.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Arthur Mould and the staff of the Canadian National Hotel for their very courteous and willing co-operation at all times and to the "Guardian" and "Patriot" for their interest and consideration.

Reference was made by the President to the loss, during the year, of one of the associate members, Mrs. George Warburton. It was regretted also that one of the members of the Basilica choir, in the person of Mr. Carl Kelly, who so willingly gave an afternoon of great enjoyment and interest, had passed away during the winter.

In the brief discussion of plans for the coming year which followed, many expressions of optimism and enthusiasm were voiced by the various members.

STRAWBERRY

the Island's acid soil, cool nights, salty atmosphere, heavy dews and ample rain and sunshine during the strawberry season.

Feeling confident of an important future market for the berries, Mr. Hemming urged the growers to transplant as many runners as possible this spring, in order that from the 1938 harvest they will be able to send at least 1000 tons to England. That would be the output of about 500 acres. He also stressed the point that the cost of production is materially lessened when grown in from 10 to 20 acres rather than in from 5 to 5 acres as at present for it then becomes possible to introduce the latest machinery and to employ cheaper labor under experienced supervision.

A committee composed of Messrs. Geo. W. Dewar, F. S. Reeves and P. L. Smallwood was named to assist Mr. Hemming in overseeing the work of collecting the berries, having them processed and packed, and shipped to England. This committee will wait upon the Hon. W. H. Dennis, Minister of Agriculture, who was unable to attend the meeting because of his absence from the City, but who previously expressed his desire to assist the venture on behalf of the Government.

Carleton and Vicinity

Mr. T. B. Gillespie of Carleton attended the funeral of Mr. E. W. Manson in Summerside Friday.

On Thursday evening, May 6th a pair of large American eagles were noticed hovering over the fox ranch of Mr. Ephraim Bell of Cape Traverse. They were seen by Dr. Bell, Mr. Charles Crossman and others on two different evenings.

On Thursday evening, May 13th, the Cape Traverse Young People's Union was reorganized Rev. Arthur Organ presiding. The meeting opened with the hymn Together Lord, We Come To Thee followed by prayer. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and after some discussion the following officers were chosen: President, Mrs. Douglas Bell; Vice President, Mary Muttart; Secretary Treasurer, Deane Bell; Assistant, Edward Quigley; Convenors, Christian Fellowship, Eleanor Bell; Citizenship, Margaret Woolner; Missions, Thelma Quigley; Christian Culture, Evelyn Bell, Dora Lord, Mrs. Harold Cutcliffe, Elmer Hansen. Plans were made for the next month's work and a committee appointed to arrange place of future meetings. A fifteen cent membership fee was agreed upon and it was decided to subscribe to the Pathfinder. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

The Cape Traverse Women's Missionary Society held their May meeting at the home of Mrs. Stewart McMicken on Thursday, May 6th with Mrs. Cutcliffe presiding. The theme was Jesus and Youth. The call to worship was read after which Happy the Home when God is There was sung. The Scripture readings from Mark's Gospel were given by Mrs. Cutcliffe, Mrs. Lord and Mrs. McMicken, followed by silent prayer, and prayer by Mary Muttart for the children and youth of our homes. After the hymn Around the World Thy Children Sing Their Song, Mrs. Cutcliffe led in prayer for the youth of other lands. The devotional leaflet on Jesus and Youth was read and roll call was answered by nine members. One visitor was present.

The minutes of last meeting were read and adopted and business was then discussed. Mrs. Norring very kindly gave an invitation to meet at her home in June for the Temperance program and mite-box opening. A letter was read from the Literature Secretary, Mrs. Deacon asking for subscriptions for the New Book to be sent as soon as possible. The study for this year is The Mission Work of the United Church Around the World. A letter from the Associate Helpers secretary, Mrs. Pickering was read, also one from the President, Mrs. Aitken asking for best efforts in the work for this year.

The following Watch Tower Heralds gave interesting readings—Mrs. Lord on Africa; Mrs. Leigh Lowther, India; Mrs. Maslam, Japan; and Mrs. Nathan Bell, China. Collection amounted to fifty cents. The hymn Lord Speak to me that I may Speak followed by prayer brought the meeting to a close. Mrs. McMicken served a lovely lunch and cup of tea. Her hospitality was much appreciated by all present.

P.W.C. Study Group Meets

The P. W. C. study group met in the College on Saturday, with the vice-president, Keith Johnson, in the chair.

The subject for discussion was "Literature". Supervisor Woolner outlined the different forms of literature—the ballad, the lyric, the sonnet, the ode, the essay, the short story, and gave a demonstration lesson on teaching the sonnet, "On His Blindness."

Supervisor McPhail then read a selection illustrating the metaphor in every day speech. He also outlined on the blackboard devices used in teaching literature which were 1. Answer the roll call by a memory gem; 2. Write a choice selection on blackboard; 3. Keeping a scrap book; 4. Have pictures of authors hung in classroom; 5. Making a portfolio; 6. Memorization; 7. Contests in literature; 8. Supplementary reading; 9. Dramatization.

The question box followed.

In conversation after the meeting, Mr. J. O. Hyndman stated that he regarded this initial meeting of strawberry growers as of more than ordinary importance as it should be the forerunner of other developments such as the growing of apples, cultivated blueberries and cranberries and the canning of many lines of fruits and vegetables and fish, and that the best results from such an overseas trade could only be had when the harbour of Charlottetown had been dredged to a depth that would permit of ocean liners making this city a regular port of call. At present the rail haul to Halifax is not only a serious but an unnecessary handicap to the Island natural markets, viz to Great Britain and other countries.

Anglican Sunday School Association Hold Meeting

The first meeting of the Anglican Sunday School Association of the Archdeaconry of Prince Edward Island was held last Tuesday in St. Mary's Hall with a very large representation from the Sunday Schools of the Province.

The Ven. Archdeacon C. de W. White, D. D. rector of St. Mary's Church and Hon. President of the Association presided, and welcomed his guests in his usual happy manner. Mr. Ross MacKenzzie, Superintendent of St. Mary's Sunday School added his greetings, and spoke of the splendid co-operation he had received in his work from Miss Mary Hunt and the late Miss Sarah C. Green, who although they had retired from the teaching staff had always willingly assisted in Sunday School work.

At a previous executive meeting Mrs. John Munn had been elected president. At Tuesday's meeting the vice presidents and other officers were elected, as follows: Vice President, Mr. Ross MacKenzzie, Summerside; Vice Chairman, Mrs E. V. Bell, Charlottetown; Superintendents of Departments: Junior, Mrs. A. H. Hart-Davis, Port Hill; Intermediate, Mrs. E. R. G. Bridgewater, Crapaud; Senior, Major F. F. May, St. Eleanors.

Two delegates to the Diocesan Board of Religious Education were appointed, Rev. E. R. G. Bridgewater, Crapaud; and Major F. F. May, St. Eleanors.

A financial report was given and adopted as read.

For those who make plans ahead the S. S. A. was reminded that the next meeting will be held in Crapaud the second Tuesday in July. An attendance was urged of as many teachers as possible at the Summer School, which will be held at Windsor, Nova Scotia from June 29—July 5.

The Reverend A. H. Hart-Davis was the special speaker for the evening and gave those present a most inspiring and helpful talk on the importance of our Sunday Schools.

The members then divided into two groups under the direction of Mrs. E. V. Bell as Primary and Junior leader, and Mrs. A. H. Hart-Davis as Intermediate and Senior leader. Special characteristics of age groups and methods of teaching were presented followed by discussion and suggestions of the members.

The ladies of St. Mary's Church, Summerside, provided a most delightful supper in St. Mary's Hall, where tables were gaily decorated with flags in recognition of the Coronation.

A hearty vote of thanks was given to the ladies of St. Mary's by the Reverend E. O. Lancaster of Milton.

The meeting closed with prayer. —S

Many Unite In Tribute To Lord Snowden

sent messages to Lady Snowden, and Ramsay Macdonald, former Prime Minister who made Snowden his Chancellor of the Exchequer, passed over the differences that broke their friendship to say: "A great man of our age has passed by".

Lord Snowden's two terms as Chancellor of the Exchequer were in 1924 and 1929-31. He was raised to the peerage shortly after retirement from his second term.

A message from the King to Lady Snowden stated: "The Queen and I heard of the sudden death of Lord Snowden, who during a long and distinguished career rendered great services to the state while gallantly struggling against adversity and ill health. We offer you our sincere sympathy in your irreparable loss".

Other telegrams were received from Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Archibald Fenner Brockaway, general secretary of the Independent Labor Party; David Lloyd George, who said: "I never met a man who endured his infirmities with greater fortitude and heroism". Messages came from many others prominent in all parties.

Despite his recent illness, Lord Snowden's death came as a shock to the country. Friday he was able to take a short automobile ride and seemed so well that Lady Snowden came to London to attend the State Ball at Buckingham Palace. She hastened back to Tilford when informed of her husband's death.

Lord Snowden entered the National Government in 1931 with Ramsay Macdonald, James H. Thomas and other Labor leaders of the time. He held the Chancellorship in that government until the general election in the fall of 1931 when he did not contest a seat. In 1932 he was raised to the peerage and remained in the cabinet as Lord Privy Seal but resigned in disagreement with the government's tariff policy and the Ottawa agreement.

TREATED JOB

although "we saw hundreds of buoys to which lobster lines were attached."

"I simply took the job so all my friends I had been poaching with could have a little comfort fishing illegally," he flatly declared.

Kenny said he made no attempt to stop poaching after his appointment. He and his brothers canned their illegal catch in his father's factory. He treated the job "as a joke" because the fishermen were "having a hard time," said the witness. "I know, because prior to my starting to poach I could not buy a package of tobacco.

Inspector LeBlanc admitted having borrowed $125 from R. J. Conley of the Conley Fisheries last year and said neither the interest nor principal had been repaid. He had needed extra money to build a boat but the debt had no effect on his enforcement of fishery laws. He admitted "negligence," however, in his reports concerning the Conley Company lobster pound.

Mrs. Melanson denied various statements made by witnesses regarding lobster-buying activities of her husband. The latter admitted having made one trip to Prince Edward Island last year.

Smith, a lobster packer and buyer at Point du Chene, said he never knowingly bought illegally caught lobsters and he made no profit on gasoline sold to Prince Edward Island fishermen.

Recalled to the stand, Mrs. Melanson said her husband sold 1,213 drums of gasoline last year and made a profit of one cent per gallon. Gasoline he sold in Prince Edward Island had been billed as for his own use.

Major Sutherland and Col. Barry gave information regarding fishery law enforcement.

er" of the Italian people. The Premier laid down his dictum before members of all phases of Fascist life, at their annual meeting.

The black-uniformed audience laughed and applauded his ironic references to democracies, which, he declared, wished Italy to abandon her self-sufficiency program "for we know not what."

He provoked a demonstration by an apparent reference to the United States when he spoke of a country which "prohibited collective labor contracts until a month ago".

(Presumably he referred to the upholding of the Wagner Labor Relations Act by the United States Supreme Court. Mussolini has set up a "corporative" system under which strikes are forbidden and arbitration of labor disputes is compulsory.)

Miss Jessie W. Strong Passes In Summerside

Many friends will learn with sincere regret of the passing of Miss Jessie W. Strong, whose death occurred at the Prince County Hospital on Sunday morning.

Miss Strong was born at Summerside and was the daughter of the late Charles W. Strong and Martha Wright. She was a graduate of Mount Allison Ladies' College and was organist of the Methodist Church and afterward of the United Church for over forty years, always in her place at the organ until her last illness a few weeks ago. Miss Strong had a beautiful Christian character and had devoted her whole life to her church and her music. She was active too in other branches of church work and was a life member of the W. M. S. of Trinity Church. Her work in the church will be an example and inspiration to those who will take her place.

Only near relatives to cherish her memory are her nephew, Allan B. Strong of Montreal, who came to see her only last week and her sister-in-law Mrs. A. W. Strong, whose husband died about 12 years ago also of Montreal, besides a number of cousins in Summerside and the United States.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday from her late home on Belmont Street to Trinity United Church leaving the house at 2 p. m.—S.

Delightful Play Presented By Trinity Y. P. S.

The play presented by the Y. P. S. of Trinity United Church in Epworth Hall on Friday was a delightful comedy full of funny situations. The quick repartee of the leading lady, which was taken by Miss Violet Richardson, a graduate in expression of the Ladies College, Halifax, N. S., and the wise cracks of the village nit wit, impersonated by Calvin Bowness, kept the audience in a merry mood all through the evening. The last act was a colorful one the ladies wearing lovely evening gowns for the reception of Governor Grayson and his daughter.

The play was under the direction of Miss Sue Meadows who also took the part of Angelina Knoop, replacing Miss Jean Nicholson who was taken ill on Thursday. All the characters were well chosen and each player presented his or her part in a charming manner.

The play was one of the best in amateur theatricals that has been put on in Epworth Hall for some time.

The story was good and followed the adventures of Patricia Grayson through all sorts of impossible situations ending with her engagement to the clerk of her bitterest enemy.

The specialties between the acts were of a high order. Miss Doryse MacNeill, talented pupil in violin, gave some charming selections, her accompanist was Mrs. Cleve Whalen. Another delightful number was a piano solo by Miss Audrey Mallinson; and piano selections by Miss Catherine MacCallum, both these young ladies are talented musicians. A vocal quartette, Miss Yvonne Arsenault, Miss Helen Davies, Mrs. Cleve Whalen and Mrs. Jack MacLeod, sang two numbers before the rise of the curtain for the last act. Miss Sue Meadows accompanied these charming singers.

"SWING TIME" PRESENTS ASTAIRE IN BLACKFACE AS HIGH SPOT DANCER.

Two hilarious romances interweave dizzily through a tuneful and hilarious plot in "Swing Time," RKO Radio's now musical hit starring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers. Astaire is the apex of one triangle, with Miss Rogers and Betty Furness at the opposing points, while Miss Rogers' triangle is comprised by the rivalry of Astaire and Georges Metaxa.

These four players, with the mirthful assistance of a new comedy duo, Victor Moore and Helen Broderick, keep "Swing Time" moving at high speed on the wheels of seven Jerome Kern songs, and the dances, which include the new and sensational "The Waltz in Swing Time" performed by the two stars.

A spectacular production scene, "Bojangle of Harlem", created by John Harkrider, presents Astaire in a blackface act with a special group of dancing girls. This and two lavish night club sittings and an extraordinary reproduction of a deserted Adirondack hotel in midwinter comprise the principal settings of the film which is being shown at the Capitol Theatre tonight and Tuesday afternoon and evening.—S
