SOCIAL EVENING—The Y. P. S. of Montague United Church were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allison MacLean on Monday evening. A very pleasant evening was spent in games and contests. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by a committee of the young girls and a very enjoyable evening came to a close.

MUSICAL TREAT—The congregation of Montague United Church were treated to a veritable feast of good music on Sunday last, when the Charlottetown Male Octette and the Cherry Valley Ladies Quartette had charge of a song service at the evening meeting. Every number was well rendered and was enjoyed by the appreciative listeners. The church was filled to capacity and the congregation are deeply grateful to the singers who gave so freely of their talent.

AT MT. ALLISON—The Junior Class at Mount Allison University, recently appointed their committee for the 1939 Junior Prom to be held early next month. The students, who graduate in 1941 are considering their coming prom with more seriousness than Junior Classes have since Proms were introduced as social functions on the campus. Because of the war the students will endeavor to provide a social evening that will be as successful as ever. The usual costly decorations without the usual costly decorations will be simple and attractive and it is expected to provide a setting equal to a more expensive layout. The Central Committee members included the name Lorne Bell, Chairman, Carleton Siding, P. E. I.

RINK FOR STUDENTS—Prince of Wales College students are to have a rink of their own this year—built by themselves. Yesterday a squad of workers under the direction of several members of the teaching staff began construction of an outdoor "ice palace" on the campus. Operations consisted of digging holes for posts to support the walls of the rink. The Provincial Government is supplying the materials, all the students have to do is supply the labor. Amateur carpenters attending the short course under the youth training project are to assist, it was announced.

HI-Y GRADS MEET—A special meeting of the Hi Y Grads club was held last night in the Y. M. C. A. Following a sumptuous goose supper the meeting was addressed by Col. K. S. Rogers, who took as his subject "Prince Edward Island in a Changing World." Among other things the speaker touched on the pressing need for reform in our educational and political systems. Col Rogers speech was particularly pertinent in its reference to the position of the Island's youth. "The hope of this province lies in its young men, young women and these are today banding together in Study Groups and in co-operative enterprises which will in a few years, work a tremendous improvement in the economic status of this Province. Chairman Dan Nicholson conveyed to the speaker the appreciation of the Club for his splendid address and expressed the hope that he would be able to speak to the club on some future occasion. The meeting was also favored with a solo by Mrs. Holi Trainer which was greatly enjoyed. Plans were discussed for the Grand Armistice Dance to be held in the O.C. fellows Hall on Friday.

WAKE UP SINGING!

WHEN you awaken with a "dragged-out" feeling, take a famous doctor's prescription with a Golden Medical Discovery, to help the stomach digest nourishing food that builds up and invigorates the body. W. J. Wingerden, 467 Main St. W., Hamilton, Ont., says: "I had no appetite, could hardly sleep, and was more tired in the morning than the night before. I had been eating this and felt worn-out. After using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I felt like a new man. I gained weight, had my old-time strength, and felt as good as ever before." It was a delightful site and the campers had a jolly time. Patrol cooking was experienced by all and to all appearances, the ideal type of camp for a small group. Miss Bentley was in charge and the other members of the staff were Miss Mary McNeil, R. N. Miss Dorothy Reay, Miss Jean Moore, Miss Sandy Brehaut and Miss Jessie Fullerton. Following this Camp the Guides of the 4th, 5th, and 10th Companies under the leadership of Miss Epiphonie Arsenault occupied the same site. Mrs. Reay and Miss Fullerton inspected this camp and found it to be in splendid condition. Patrol cooking was carried on with good results. Assisting Miss Arsenault were Miss Donahoe, Miss O'Donnell, R. N., Miss Felice Arsenault and Miss Mary Brown. The Baptist Church group was the site used by Mrs. Cudmore who was Commandant of a Camp of the 6th, 7th, and 9th Companies. Miss Dorothy Reay, Miss Buell and Miss K. Bagnall were the officers of staff members. This site proved satisfactory in all respects. The staff and campers wish to thank Rev. Mr. Denton for his inspiring service on Sunday afternoon also Mr. Ludlow Jenkins for his talks on Nature. A novel idea for tenting and the formation of patrols was tried out by the commandant and was heartily recommended. A great deal of work was done on the second class test and six guides were awarded the badge. Five Pioneer Badges, nine athlete badges and a number of swimming tests were also completed. Each guide piece of handwork in which she is most interested. These will be sent in and later on we shall hold an exhibit and sale of their work.

PROVINCIAL CAMP ADVISER

Undoubtedly the greatest event of camping season was the All Canada Camp at Rothesay. This camp of 225 Guides and Guiders from all parts of the Dominion was an outstanding success. Many new friendships were made; many ideas exchanged, many camp problems discussed, and many guide viewpoints broadened out. Fortunately, indeed, were able to attend. That camping on Prince Edward Island is still progressing is evident from the fact that three Guiders received their Campers' Licenses during the past year and are now qualified to conduct their own camps. Further evidence of our continued progress is noted by the fact that there were 121 campers in the Province, and this, together with the 28 who attended Camp at Rothesay makes an increase of 25 over any previous year's enrollment. Your Camp Committee is very pleased to report that camping in Prince County is now an established fact. Early in July a Group Camp was held at Ferris Point. Miss Serton of Borden and Miss Harrison of Summerside as Commandants. Miss Dorothy Bentley, Camp Adviser for Prince County was present as supervisor, and as Bentley reports, "The camp was very successful, both Commandants did splendid work. Many second class badges were completed, as well as Astronomers, Pioneers and Swimmers. We all felt very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Harrison MacFarlane for the use of the camp site and their many other kindnesses."

The Guides of Ellerslie and Tyne Valley camped at Port Hill. There were 33 Guides and 5 Guiders in attendance. Mrs. Hart-Davies was the very excellent commandant of this Camp. The camp was inspected by the Provincial Camp Adviser who is pleased to report a very fine camp with a well planned program of camp activities. The Commandant has since completed her 1st Ranger Certificate and has been granted her Campers' License. The Camp Committee feels deeply grateful to Miss Holman, Division Commissioner for Prince County, without whose untiring efforts these two camps could never have been the success they undoubtedly were.

A Camp of the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Companies was held at T. Hill. This was a delightful site and the campers had a jolly time. Patrol cooking was experienced by all and to all appearances, the ideal type of camp for a small group. Miss Bentley was in charge and the other members of the staff were Miss Mary McNeil, R. N. Miss Dorothy Reay, Miss Jean Moore, Miss Sandy Brehaut and Miss Jessie Fullerton. PROVINCIAL REPORT

I BEG to submit the fifth Annual Provincial Report of the Girl Guides Association for the year ending October, 1939. Before starting a report of a year teaming with events, I am making an appeal to all my listeners, at this time when the outbreak of the War among nations is tearing humanity apart politically, it is up to us to prepare and build for the future of the post-war generation which is developing boys and girls who will reach maturity after the war has ended. What will be their out-look in life? Will they have so little faith in the future that they will be hard and bitter when they should be seeing vision, or will they be steadied by the horrors of war, and determined, that, in their lifetime, there shall be no more Wars? We Guide leaders have a greater responsibility than ever before in trying to build a foundation of training for Guides under our care. It should help us when we realize that the four-fold Guides program of Service, Intelligence, Handicraft, and Health make for good citizenship. Some of us heard Sir Percy Everett's delightful after-luncheon talk, just after war was declared, in which he said that S. uters in England were urged to stay with their troops as long as possible, as the war would be fought more in the British Household than at the front lines. Girl Guide leaders should realize the importance of keeping on with their Guide work with its practical training, and its recreational value, which strengthens the morale. In Guiding, as in everything else, the crying need is leaders, especially leaders for the Guides of fifteen and over, who are called Rangers.

Perhaps I should explain why it always seems to be Ranger guides who are needed. In this Province we have 36 Guide companies, and only 7 Ranger companies. A Ranger Company should not have more than 18 or 20 members. While a Guide Company may run smoothly with twice that number of Guides. The aim of the Ranger is in the words of her enrollment promise, "to render service by taking the Guide promise out into a wider world." You can see what a scope there is, the forms of service being almost unlimited. We have been fortunate in obtaining the help of specialists who are willing to give some time each week to train the Rangers for some form of Service, such as knitting, First-Aid, and various kinds of Red Cross work. What we need is a leader or guider to plan their program and direct their activities.

In response to an appeal some weeks ago, one of the 7 Ranger companies have been lately organized, both being in Charlottetown. One is a Basilia company, and as its Guiders we are delighted to welcome back Miss Ruby Callaghan, who, after a year's holiday, is taking a Ranger job with Miss Donahoe and Miss McIntyre, with these experienced Guiders, its success should be assured.

The other Ranger company forms one of a group in Zion Church which, we are very pleased to be able to include in our numbers. This group comprises, besides Rangers, 2 Guide companies and a Brownie Pack, making an additional 94 members. Other new units in Charlottetown are, a second Guide company in the Basilia to be known as the 8th Charlottetown Company, and a second one in the Holy Redeemer Parish registered as the 10th Charlottetown, making in Charlottetown alone a total of 26 units made up of 625 members.

Queen's County outside of Charlottetown, has one Ranger company, the Marshfield-Dunstaffnage, 2 Guide companies one in East Royalty, and one in Melville, and 2 Brownie Packs, one in Mt. Stewart, and one in St. Margarets. A newly-formed, having a membership of 22 already, with Miss Fanny Leigh as Brown Owl, and one of the Charlottetown patrol leaders as acting Tawny Owl. We are now able to use some of our former Guides as Guiders. The 3rd Charlottetown Company is now manned by three Guiders who all made layettes for the Junior Red Cross, but as many of the girls left the District and the Captain Miss Gilmore moved to another part of the Province it was disbanded. The Guide Company which has been dormant is now starting up again under Miss Hancock.

The Marshfield-Dunstaffnage Rangers although obliged to discontinue their meetings during the winter and early spring, nevertheless, managed to crowd in a great many activities. Last October this Company took part in the Historical Pageant put on in Charlottetown for National Guide Day and in November were given a demonstration of Christmas card making. During the winter the Rangers studied for the Book-Lovers Badge. Meetings were resumed in May and kept up during the summer, when they were held at the shore, two of the Rangers taking charge each week with splendid results. By the sale of refreshments at a Halloween Social funds were raised to enable this Company to help in war work. These Rangers came in for the Royal visit, and were represented in the Guard of Honor for their Majesties at Government House. They also took part in the Guide Program during Confederation week.

The East Royalty Company took part in the Royal visit, and in the Confederation Celebration. This Company enjoy hikes, and outdoor meetings. A Bean Supper and Candy sale were means of raising money by which the Guides were enabled to buy their uniforms. The Mount Stewart Pack took part in the Royal Visit, held a pantry sale and took part in a program at the Women's Institute Concert. They held a Church parade and had parties for Valentine Day and Easter. Returning to the Charlottetown District, the 1st and 2nd Ranger Companies have been exceptionally active, and have done outstanding work. The 1st which is a District Company held extra Sunday afternoon meetings for a Sing Song, they made favors for the patients trays at the Provincial Sanatorium at Christmas, and many useful articles for the Children's Ward of the P.E.I. Hospital. They assisted Miss MacLeod in the Red Cross Campaign and held a Cake Sale and Rummage Sale. One unique and pleasant way of raising money was undertaken by the 2nd Ranger Company of Trinity. They raised money by the sale of fresh roses which was most successful. The 2nd Rangers made decorative screens to be used around beds in the Children's Ward in fact these two Ranger Companies became a sort of Junior Aid to the Children's Ward of the P.E.I. Hospital. 4 Rangers of the 1st Ranger Company gained the Ranger Star. I have summarized briefly the different sections of a Ranger Star. I think you might care to hear them. She must have passed tests for the following: Sewer Cook; 1st Aide.; Knowledge: Public Health; Empire; Pioneer; Hiker; Camp Craft; Pioneer and Nature; Needlewoman's Badge; Book Lovers and Any Arts or Craft Badge. As an alternative to Senior Cook she can cook a 3 course meal out-doors and draw up a menu for a week in summer and winter on a specified sum of money. As an alternative to Emmentaler she must have studied our own system of Proportioning. One of the alternatives to the Needlewoman's Badge is that of packing box into something useful. All Charlottetown Guide Companies and Brownie Packs did some special good turns at Christmas, particularly by providing dinners for needy persons and assisting Santa Pals. You have heard the very excellent summary of the summary of Local Association and Miss Holman's report, and as you may gather from that Prince County is in a very healthy state. One Company St. Eleanor's has had to be disbanded owing to the lack of leadership and girls of Guide age. Arrangements we hope, may be made to have the Guides of this Company attend meetings in Summerside. The 1st Ranger company in
