JOHNS-MANVILLE
PISTON PACKING
SERVES 20 YEARS

Recently your Johns-Manville distributor saw an Asbestos Packing that had more than 80,000 working hours to its credit. This particular seal had been in service 14 hours on the piston rod of a large air compressor. Even after these hours of grueling work it was still good!

Of course, air compressors are by no means the only place in which packings are used. Hardly a machine can run without these vital industrial servants. For example, Johns-Manville makes hundreds of styles and types of packings—they are used wherever a seal is needed to prevent leakage of steam, air, gas, oil, water or other fluids.

In addition to the many standard forms of sealing materials, Johns-Manville also specializes in "tailor-made" packings for specific jobs. Years of research and development enable J-M to supply a packing for every application.

Monthly Meeting Local K. of G.

The regular monthly meeting of the Knights of Columbus was held last evening with Grand Knight, Lt. Col. Leo P. MacDonald presiding. The Grand Knight presented the financial report of the Council for the six months ending June 30 which showed that the Council was in a good financial condition.

The general chairman of activities, Mr. William Smith, then called on his co-chairman for the reports, the lecturer, Mr. George Cheverie reading off, followed by Daniel McCormac on bowling, P. E. Hill on an banquet, Russel St. John on social, Eugene Cullen on study, R. A. MacDonald, youth, Louis Butler, stock committee, J. A. Doyle, membership, and R. E. Bradley on the floor.

The Grand Knight then turned the chair over to the Lecturer for the good of the Order and he introduced Mr. Eugene Cullen who gave an informative talk on the pasteurizing of milk. The talk was followed by a quiz program after which the meeting adjourned.

No Trace Of Missing U. S. Plane In Nfld.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 9 —(CP)—Aircraft from the United States returned tonight after a fruitless day's search for a U. S. B-25 twin-engine bomber, missing since Friday on a flight from Washington, D.C., to Stephenville on Newfoundland's west coast.

Impeded by bad weather, search aircraft have flown only seven sorties—30 hours flying time—in the last five days. U. S. Air Force planes took over the task from the Navy yesterday, confining their search within a 50-mile radius of Gander.

Central Presbytery Young People's Rally

The P. E. I. Central Presbytery Y. P. U. held their fall rally at Margate, Wednesday, Nov. 3rd. The afternoon session began with a worship service led by Rev. L. M. Murray. This was followed by a short business period. The president, John Forbes, presided and appointed the nominating and resolutions committees. After the business period the meeting divided into groups for study. Rev. K. G. Sullivan and Rev. B. W. Crowe were the leaders. They gave many helpful ideas on how to present the missions and culture programs in the Program Annual. After these helpful discussions the groups again assembled in the main part of the church and questions were collected and answered.

A delicious supper was served by the Margate Young People's Union.

At 7:00 the meeting was again called to order and the resolutions committees gave their reports. The speaker of the nominating committee was: honorary president, Rev. Ralph Wagner; president, Keith Moase; past president, John Forbes; vice president, William Cairns; secretary-treasurer, Gertrude MacLean. Convenors: William Hogg, Doreen MacLean, Jennie Moore, Rev. B.W. Crowe, David Murphy, Freda Howatt, Thea Adams, Rev. James Cross, and William Moase.

The resolutions were: Resolved We extend our thanks and appreciation to the Pastor and Official

Beautiful Farms On P.E.I. Says Drew

(By The Canadian Press)

HALIFAX, Nov. 9—A medal bedecked R.C.A.F. officer stepped to a plane ramp today and shook hands with a man he had not seen since 1931.

The man was George Drew, new national leader of the Progressive Conservative party. The officer was Group Capt. Alex Lewis, commanding officer of the R.C.A.F. base here.

In 1931 Group Capt. Lewis served at Mr. Drew's pilot at the first army-airforce co-operation scheme in Canada. In charge of the scheme was Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, now in charge of civilian defence in Canada.

Mr. Drew was a reserve army officer at the time.

The meeting was one of several for Mr. Drew, now on a tour of the Maritime Provinces. Before he stepped aboard a plane at Charlottetown he was introduced to Phil La Pave, mayor of the city.

Mr. Drew visited some of the farms on the outskirts of the city. "They are beautiful farms and this is wonderful country," said Mr. Drew as he returned from the trip with Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, party leader in the province.

Forses Victory
 In an interview shortly after his arrival here on the second lap of his tour, Mr. Drew said that if there is vigorous organization there is no reason why our party will not form the next Federal Government.

He re-iterated he could see no possibility of a coalition between Liberals and Conservatives in some federal ridings. He hopes his party will have a candidate in every federal riding for the next election.

Mr. Drew said he has never predicted the outcome of elections. He laughingly said he thought the recent United States elections indicated the wisdom of not predicting what the voters will do.

During his tour he is meeting with party officials to discuss questions of organization. He came here from Charlottetown after spending two days in the capital of Prince Edward Island.

Maritime Itinerary
 His current tour will take him to New Brunswick as well. Trips to other provinces will be undertaken as soon as possible, but they won't be before he seeks election to the Commons in the Ontario constituency of Carleton Place.

The party's nominating convention will be held Nov. 10-11. He may return to the Maritimes in a few weeks to participate in the federal by-elections of Digby-by-Annapolis-Kings, Dec. 13. The seat was made vacant through the recent resignation of Rt. Hon. J. L. Lahey, former Minister of Justice.

Mr. Drew referred briefly to Dominion-Provincial relations. He said the question was whether "we are going to have a strong federal system or whether we are going to have a unitary system of government under some other name."

"Every Dominion Government propaganda agency has been saying that a Dominion-Provincial agreement was blocked by Ontario and Quebec," said Mr. Drew. "That is a lot of nonsense."

Mr. Drew left the interview to attend a public reception. Later he was to address a meeting of the party's organization in Nova Scotia. He will address a public meeting tomorrow.

Board for the use of the church and also to the Maritime Union for the excellent supper provided. Resolved we re-affirm our stand on temperance and ask that our young people pledge themselves to total abstinence. Resolved that as a Young People's Union we deplore the increasing emphasis on possible war. The General Council has warned that war is not inevitable and that we should think and work for peace. Resolved that our Presbytery give full support to the missions project, bringing students from China, Korea, India, Japan, and Africa, for further study in Canada.

Mr. David Murphy spoke for a few minutes about the Drama Festival held last year. He urged more unions to take part in the festival next year. In the festival reports were heard from ten of the local unions. Miss Mildred MacLean gave a very interesting report on Augustine Cove Young People's Camp. It is hoped that next year each local union in P. E. I. will send at least one delegate to camp. Rev. George Gough gave an interesting and descriptive report on the General Council meetings held in Vancouver.

These reports were followed by a devotional service led by the Grapaud Union. The president introduced the guest speaker, Rev. Blair Colborne. He chose for his subject "Christians in an Un-Christian Society." He stressed the need of Christians witnessing for the Bible and the church in society.

Rev. James Cross installed the new officers, then closed the meeting with Benediction.

Strong Island Ayrshire Showing At Winter Fair

It's quite a jump from the barn at home to the show ring at the Maritime Winter Fair, especially when one has to become something of a barber, trainer and business man, to say nothing of the long run, more of the job just carrying on with the stock as though you were at home.

The first few days before the judging, the cattle sheds looked like a great bovine beauty parlor. The cows were for the most part, pretty rough after their trip from the island. They had to settle down quietly and the clipping, trimming, grooming and horn-polishing started immediately. It was just possible to talk for a while over the hum of the electric clippers, and the island exhibitors in the long run, more of their showings of previous years and hopes for the future.

This year the breeders seem to be much happier because it's a "clean" show. Many infections now eliminate risk of infection from other herds, and although this regulation stopped quite a number of entries, it is felt that, probably in the long run, more of the better breeders will show at Amherst in the future.

Jump In Ayrshires
 Although the total numbers in the cattle classes are less than last year, judging of which started yesterday, have jumped beyond all expectations to some 160 entries. The island is royally represented by the old-established A. McRae & Sons, which has been showing Ayrshires at Amherst since 1910, and a first-time exhibitor Mr. Almon Wood, Marshfield, with Keith Boswell & Sons and the Experimental Farm, Charlottetown, also Ayrshire exhibitors for a considerable number of years.

Major McRae and nephew Edwin (which should make it A. McRae, Sons & Grandson) had no spare moment in getting their 18 head in shape for yesterday's judging. Their outstanding young bull, Fairview Fashion Linda is not being shown this year. She was Reserve Grand Champion at last year's Maritime and in 1947 scored the highest Canadian R.O.P. with 18,000 lbs. milk and 684 lbs. butterfat, twice-a-day milking for 365 days.

Most of the McRae young stock on show was sired by the famous bull, Glenagarry Bit O'Fashion which is now in service at the Artificial Insemination Unit in Charlottetown.

"This is the keenest competition in years," Major stated. He seems to be looking forward to it. Almon Wood had two helpers with his 12 head. Donald and Wally, his sons, 14 and 13 years old respectively. In fact their father claimed that if the boys had not been anxious to see the show he would not have entered. Although the first showing at Amherst, the Woods' Ayrshires have been on display for a number of years at Charlottetown. Five years ago, Almon Wood switched from grades to purebreds and now has a herd of 35 head, 15 of which are milking, the latter all on R. O. P. and qualifying to date.

George Boswell had more than the 5 Ayrshires to look after, but with his cousin Roy Boswell he did a good job also on the pig and sheep exhibits. The estate of Geo. L. Boswell has carried on the show successes of thirty years, and hopes that Blackadder Gem may uphold its records. As a 4-year-old in 1946, this cow was the highest Ayrshire butter-fat producer in the 305 day period with 607 lbs., testing 4.59. Her grandmother was twice Grand Champion of the Maritime, her mother first prize 2-year-old and her son Junior Champion 2 years ago.

Other P. E. I. Entries
 In the Boswell herd are Blackadder Bessie, first prize junior heifer at Charlottetown, Blackadder Lady Burton, first prize 3-year-old dry cow at Charlottetown and Blackadder Fashion Denna which was first prize two-year-old at the Maritime in 1946.

Keith Boswell, who has been connected with the Maritime Stockbreeders' Association for some 26 years and was a veteran of World War I (with Canadian Field Artillery 4 years) thinks the Ayrshire competition is "terrific." However, he hopes that some of his 13 head will score, especially the Islands Royal Prince, which was Reserve Junior Champion at Charlottetown in 1947 and 1948 and Leitchcroft Gallant, first prize senior bull calf at Charlottetown.

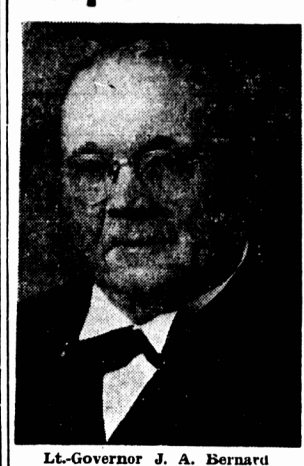

The senior yearling bull, Charlottetown Sir Roderick Hill seemed in fine fettle and his mate, also from the Experimental Farm, junior yearling heifer, Charlottetown Sir Roderick Belle will offer stiff competition.

Look For New Flare-up In Holy Land War

TEL AVIV, Israel, Nov. 9 — (AP) — Most people here, including Israeli's army commanders, believe the Holy Land war will flare into an open fight again soon and that the battle probably will be with the Irguzin in the Arab triangle of Central Palestine.

They believe it may be the last outbreak of battle before peace is arranged. Israeli army information is that the Iraqis have gradually taken over most of the Jenin-Tulkarm-Nabulus triangle from Trans-Jordan's Arab Legion and have built up to an attack strength of about 12,000 men plus irregulars recruited in the area.

To Our Acadian People

Lt.-Governor J. A. Bernard

In the early pioneer days of this Province, stout hearts, willing hands and sturdy limbs were the open doors to success, and higher education had to make way for the immediate necessities of that day. As a decade was added to a decade, new needs were felt and new problems arose, necessitating more and better educational opportunities for the young, and so sprung up almost everywhere the common school and other institutions devoted to the training of the future citizens of the country.

Today, the extremely complex and ever rapidly changing pattern of our modern civilization demands an entirely different concept of the education and training which must be given to the rising generation. If the principles of Christian and democratic living are to be preserved. Only by the proper Christian training of many of the young as leaders can we hope to maintain our Christian way of life. The Saint Thomas Academy Society has been endeavouring with rather limited means to secure for a number of Acadian youths the opportunities of such an education. The Society has already accomplished much. To enable it to continue and to extend its work, more financial help is imperative. With the goodwill of all the elements of our population, the Society, in its appeal for funds will, I feel sure, attain its high purpose.

This appeal has my unqualified approval and I bespeak for it the wholehearted support of all our Acadian people. I feel sure that in this, as well as in so many worthy campaigns of the past few years, our Acadians will not be found wanting.

Each and all, let us do our part. Let us give our just share and make this campaign the success which its importance demands.

Bubonic Plague Spreading In West

WINNIPEG, Nov. 9 — (CP)—Ground squirrels and rats are carrying the bubonic plague into parts of the Prairie Provinces, and the dread disease may enter Manitoba within 10 days.

The warning came in an address here yesterday by Prof. R. A. Ford of the University of Manitoba Zoology Department. He said one fatal case had been reported in Alberta this year.

"The disease on this continent has spread from the west coast, which abandoned ships in San Francisco harbor in 1906. The plague spread to ground squirrels throughout California. It finally cropped up in Nebraska and the Alberta."

It is only a matter of time, Prof. Wardle said, before ground squirrels and rats in Manitoba become infected. It probably will take 10 years before the usual signs—dead squirrels and gophers on the road—become numerous.

The disease is transmitted by mites which live on the disease-ridden animals.

Manitoba health authorities say the best prevention of the disease is elimination of the rat population and a general sanitation program.

Agreement With Nfld. Reported Near

OTTAWA, Nov. 9 — (CP)—Complete agreement on the terms of Newfoundland's entry into confederation will probably come some time next week, sources in close touch with the negotiations predicted today.

They expected the negotiations to end about the middle of the week. Discussions on the financial terms of union are reaching a decisive stage, they said.

Members of both the Canadian and Newfoundland negotiating teams were still close-mouthed about the details of the financial discussions. The sources which predicted early agreement said they feared it might be endangered by premature publicity.

United Church Plans Recruiting Campaign

OTTAWA, Nov. 9 — (CP)—The United Church of Canada will shortly launch a campaign to recruit 125 men a year during the next five years for the ministry. Dr. Willard Brewer, Montreal Moderator of the General Council of the United Church in Canada, said today: "If we are going to get enough men and the right kind of men, we will have to magnify our office. We must fill the ranks of the ministers in order that the Church will not be weak."

 Clark Ruse plant, which manufactures aircraft parts and did maintenance work during the Second World War. Clark Ruse was sold by War Assets Corporation at a reported price of $250,000.

C. E. Hibbert, general manager of the new firm, says that during the first six months' work on the plant about 100 men will be employed, and when production begins that figure will be jumped to 500.

The company will spend about $400,000 for machine tools and other equipment. All materials, equipment and labor will be Canadian, said Mr. Hibbert.

The company's purpose is to design new aircraft, with the preliminary work being done in England. Mr. Hibbert estimated the unit, with about 30 engineers, "we could turn a new plane in 15 months" under that arrangement.

"If we can get room and things go as planned," he added, "the plant may be used to build Firefly sailing boats. This is a pleasure-type of boat that is very popular and their manufacture here would open a great new field."

(Business Week in its current issue says that Britain, the United States and Canada have framed a plan to make the Dominion an aircraft arsenal for the Commonwealth in the event of another world emergency.

The magazine, published in New York, says in a feature entitled "Washington Outlook" that under the plan Canada would "take on the job of building transport and bomber aircraft. The United States contribution would be largely 'engineering know-how' on high-speed aircraft."

responding period of 1947. The Government launched its import-cutting export-boosting program known commonly as the "austerity" program last November when a heavy flow of American imports was threatening the country's dwindling supply of U.S. dollars.

The program embodies a series of prohibitions and quotas on American products coming into Canada and measures designed to eliminate the flow of Canadian goods into the U.S. market.

Trade figures show that exports from the U.S. have declined since the program went into operation while exports across the line have climbed fairly steadily.

The September favorable balance of $11,400,000 compared with an adverse balance of $11,400,000 in August and a similar deficit of $73,800,000 in September, 1947.

September's commodity trade balance with the United Kingdom was favorable to Canada to the extent of $24,100,000, compared with $27,900,000 in August and $39,400,000 in the corresponding month last year.

Foreign trade of Canada in September was valued at $57,700,000 compared with $49,700,000 in the corresponding month last year. The month's imports were valued at $27,700,000 compared with $20,600,000 in August and $13,400,000 in September last year.

Aggregate value of external trade for the first nine months of this year was $4,108,200,000 against $3,927,500,000 a year ago.
