At the meeting of the Presbytery yesterday, Rev. D. B. McLeod, of Orwell, refused the call to Chatham, and the call in his favor to Zion Church Charlottetown, was sustained. The Presbytery will meet to issue it on March 28th. The usual reports on stations, Sabbath schools and young people's societies were presented. The commissioners, composed of eight ministers and eight elders, were appointed to the assembly. The Presbytery closed at a late hour last evening.

The funeral of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Moore took place yesterday afternoon. The service at the house was conducted by the Rev. G. M. Campbell and the impressiveness of the occasion was augmented by the presence of a double quartette from the First Methodist choir, under their master, Professor Watts. The choir led in the hymns and also sang a beautiful selection appropriate to the occasion. Their presence and a choice floral cross evinced the loving sympathy of Mr. Moore's colleagues of the choir. The floral offerings were many and the large number who braved the storm showed how general was the sympathy with the bereaved family.

MILLINERY FASHIONS

—FOR—

SPRING 1899

From a letter just received by Sentner McLeod & Co. from their head milliner who is now taking a course of instruction in Millinery with Malle Belanger head Milliner for Messrs Caverhill & Kissock Montreal.

Montreal March 1st. 1899.

Messrs Sentner McLeod & Co. Charlottetown

DEAR SIRS,—I am now hard at work taking lessons from Malle Belanger. Caverhill & Kissock's spring opening is something grand and they say it surpasses anything ever shown in Montreal.

Purple, mauve, cadet blue, deep shades of pink and green are the leading colors for spring.

Floral and sequin Toques and straws are very much shown. Spotted chiffons and nets are found on all Hats.

The majority of Bonnets have chiffon ties shirred and bowed very daintly.

Hat Brims are all made to have the Bicycle tire effect. Narrow ribbons and straws are used in all conceivable designs. This is going to be a great flower season, large roses, water-lilies, pansies, lilies of the valley, forget-me-nots, lilacs, ospreys and cupid wings and ornaments of all kinds go to make this a very gay millinery season.

There is more work on the Hats this season than there has been for a long time.

If you read the Weekly Witness of Feb 28th. it will give you a good idea of the fashions for 1899.

Yours very Truly
MARY MURNYAN

OWING to the unfavorable weather the meeting of the Natural History and Antiquarian Society last evening was not so well attended as usual. Mr. James Tait read an interesting paper on "Floriculture" and much valuable information was given regarding the manner of raising and caring for house and garden plants. A list of decorative plants was given which he had found to be most satisfactory and easily cared for. The President, Mr. Newson, opened the discussion with a review of the ancient history of flower culture mentioning the development of grains from grasses and picturing the earth before the bright flower and humming insect had appeared. Miss Pippy, Messrs Watson, May, Shaw, McSwain, Bentley, and Arsenault continued the discussion, and a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Tait brought the enthusiastic meeting to a close.

BLOOMFIELD March 7.—The farmers are now awakening to the realization that they are a great factor, perhaps the most important factor in the progress of our Dominion, and are putting forth more strenuous efforts in improving their farms and their stock. They are doing a big business at the mussel mud this year. It is calculated that between two thousand and three thousand loads are being taken from Mill River every day; but owing to the damage done to the roads by the recent thaw, the hauling will not be so brisk, till it will again freeze up—Mr. James Corcoran is meeting with marked success as an agent of patent medicines; he has been in the business but a short time, and has succeeded in disposing of about eight thousand packets, all of various sizes. His medicines are being met with marked approval.—Mr. B. Gallant intends working the briek business on a large scale this year; he has taken in about one thousand cords of kiln wood, which will be consumed in the burning of the kilns. Mr. N. Fox is engaged to superintend the work.—Mr. Laurence Butler, lost a very fine horse a few days ago. While hauling mud from the river a distance of about seven miles the horse took weak and trembling, with difficulty he got the animal home, where he died a few hours afterwards.

MORE SNOW IN COLORADO.

LEADVILLE, Colo., March 4.—The sixth week of the great snow-storm in this section of the State opened with a blizzard that is again blockading the railroads and threatening another coal famine. At a funeral here the other day it was necessary to have the coffin on toboggans dragged by men on snowshoes, but was found impossible to get to the cemetery.

The mining camps of Dillon, Kokomo, Climax, and Wheeler, which have been cut off from service for five weeks are in bad straits. The road dug twelve miles through the snow, and which was simply a cut eight feet deep, is again filled in with snow. Miners on toboggans will endeavor to remove women and children to Leadville for safety.

On the railroads in that locality it will be necessary to use dynamite to clear the track. At Leadville 1,500 men have been laid off on account of the blockaded roads to the mines.

DON'T forget to order a supply of canned goods at the reduced prices this week at Beer & Goff's. 73i

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.

Service Last Evening—The Mission Closes this Morning.

Although the weather was very disagreeable last night a large congregation was present at the closing preaching service of the mission at St. Peter's Cathedral. The singing was exceedingly good. The sermon was based on Revelation II 7. "To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life which is in the midst of the garden." No mention made between first and last books of the Bible. The first tells us of God's Paradise on earth. The last tells us of God's Paradise in Heaven. The God who gives of the tree of life is the same God of love who denied the fruit of the tree of life in the garden of Eden. This is possible because Christ has come to give that fruit of life, His Body and Blood to save us from sin. Men always feel the guilt of sin and that guilt must be wiped out by propitiation of some kind. Man cannot by himself make that propitiation. Jesus made by his offering himself on the cross that satisfaction and we may be free. Again men feel the power of sin, the feeling that we are held as in a vice, but because sin may be laid at the foot of the cross, the application of Christ's passion transforms us, the Blood of Jesus applied to our souls, by our examinations of conscience, by confession of sin, by the sacraments, all life is imparted to us—and these things are real, true and life giving. Never must we cut ourselves off from Christ, from prayer, from our Bible readings, from the sacraments, and again, never let the channels by which Christ comes to us be choked by sin or indifference. Only Christ can give us freedom from sin. No matter what comes, cling to Jesus and His precious blood.—An instruction was given on Hezekiah's words to his people when pressed by the King of Assyria. "Answer him not." Any who have found help will be beset by many worries from people regarding their submission to Christ. "Answer them not." Trust Christ. Truth answers for itself. No matter what people say "answer them not." We cannot help or take away from the truth, no matter what we think.—After the instruction the congregation arose and solemnly renewed their baptismal vows, not as adding any responsibility in God's sight, but as reminding us of what those vows are. A memorial card was presented to each one who had been attending the missions. The mission ends with a celebration of the Holy Communion at 6.50. a. m. and 7.45 to-day, at which it is expected all communicants who have been attending the missions will communicate.

Steady Nerves and Rich Blood

are essential for perfect health. Your system needs renovating as well as your house. If your blood is thin and poor it needs to be freshened up as much as dirty paint. If your nerves are unsteady, they need strengthening just as much as a rickety chair. It's dangerous to have them so.
