FIGHTING PLANTS
Thorns, poisons and Dangers Used in Their Defence

Plants have to defend themselves from their enemies in the same way as men. They have to fight with each other for room enough in the soil to live, and the weaker plants often go under in the struggle for existence. The battles of plants, however, are mainly fought against the animals and insects which are always threatening to destroy them.

Many plants have wonderful weapons for their protection. The thorns of the rose bush, bramble and goose prevent cows and horses from eating them, as well as keeping off sheep and alge. The cactus family of plants have a formidable armor of prickles and daggers. The plant known as the Spanish bayonet is armed with taper-pointed spears that have double-edged. Some plants, such as the ragged robin, have sticky stems, covered with fine hairs to which insects stick if they climb up to try to steal the honey.

Many plants use poison as a means of protection. The sun-spurge has a poisonous juice which kills any insects which approach it, while the poisonous properties of the deadly nightshade are well known.

The common bladder wort, an aquatic plant, not only defends itself against insects and animals but catches worms and fish for its food. Perhaps the most original means of self-defense is that possessed by a strange plant called the rattlesnake iris, which grows on the prairies of America. When ripe its seeds give a rattling noise very similar to that made by a rattlesnake. This is greatly feared by animals, who will never go near the plant.

TUMOR IN THE STOMACH
Completely Removed When She Took "Fruit-a-lives"

NEWBURY, Ont., April 14th 1914.

Some years ago, I was sick in bed, and thought I was going to die. I had a growth in my stomach, which the doctors said was a tumor and they said that the only thing to do was to go to the hospital and have the tumor cut out. I dreaded an operation although both doctors said it was the only cure. I said I would die before being operated on. At this time, my mother in a vision sent me some "Fruit-a-lives" and induced me to try them as she had heard of another woman who had been cured of a similar growth in the stomach by taking "Fruit-a-lives".

"Please my mother," I began to take "Fruit-a-lives" with the happy result that they cured me. I have not been to a doctor since and my health is first class.

I recommend "Fruit-a-lives" every time I get a chance and I will be glad to have you publish this letter as some other women may now be a sufferer from the same trouble and "Fruit-a-lives" will cure her.

TIGHT SKIRTS INJURIOUS
Women Doctor Says They Mean Less Exercise

Fashion is retarding the physical development of women, was an assertion made by Dr. Jennie Gray in an address delivered before the Junior Suffrage Association of Toronto. The subject of the address was the possibilities for women in nation-building.

Dr. Gray declared that the tight skirt was leading to women taking a car even for distances as short as several blocks. Walking was one of the greatest factors for physical development which the city dweller possessed, and walking to business instead of using the cars, was a health opportunity that should be seized upon. The future race of Canadians depended on the women of to-day and their proper physical development. Such development was not possible with the styles now being worn. While the modern nations do not have the women bind their feet, as does China, the binding together of the ankles in such a way as to force the women to walk in a deformed manner was countenanced.

The health enjoyed by Canadians to-day was due to the fact that their forefathers lived the hardworking outdoor life that made for physical development. With the ever-growing city life such work was impossible for many, and showed the need of sufficient outdoor exercise outside working hours. The physique of the future generations depended on such being undertaken.

Replanting the Forests
Over twelve thousand letters have been received at the Dominion Government Forest Nursery Station at Indian Head, Sask., and almost two and three-quarter million trees distributed for planting on the farms of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. To accommodate this constantly increasing demand, a branch nursery has been established near Saskatoon. Nine inspectors supervise these prairie-farm plantations, and give personal advice to the farmers, and the Forestry Branch, Ottawa, issues bulletins free of charge to anyone interested in this work in Canada or elsewhere.

Modern Drama Dependent
Preaching at St. Paul's Cathedral, Canon Alexander deplored the decadence of the modern drama and of public taste. "I suppose," he said, "no thoughtful person can regard with satisfaction the ways of morbid sensationalism which has crept over the national consciousness, creating an art, if we call it so, which is full of the vulgarity from which all true art is always and inevitably free, and which moves in a wholly different world from that which gave us the passages and situations of 'Measure for Measure,' 'Othello,' or 'Romeo and Juliet.'"
