—WESTERN BOYS' CAMP.—The camp scene became quite animated Thursday afternoon with the arrival of several motor boat loads of equipment and supplies from Alberton five miles down the Kildare river. Several men were at work putting up the general headquarters including kitchen and dining hall. This is a unique structure 15 by 30 feet in size and built of a pole frame covered with wire netting over which paper roofing is spread. The boys will arrive in camp Friday night bringing with them their sleeping tents, blankets etc. A landing has been built along the river right by the camp. The athletic field will be laid off as soon as the boys are settled. The camp is beautifully situated and these warm summer days make it a veritable paradise. It has been decided to have a boys camp at Cardigan as previously announced.

IN MEMORIAM

LATE KATHERINE McDUGALL.

At Argyle Shore at the home of her brother, Angus MacDougall, there passed peacefully away on May 30, 1914, Katherine daughter of the late John and Mary MacDougall, aged 94 years. She was a devoted and faithful member of the church of Scotland, and was beloved by all who knew her. She will be greatly missed in the community where she was born and lived all her life. The burial services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. James MacDougall, and interment was made in Argyle Shore Cemetery. She leaves two brothers, Angus at Argyle Shore and Alexander in Washington, U. S. A., also one sister Flora of Rose Valley besides a large number of friends and relatives.

MR. GEO. A. WILSON.

The death occurred in Omaha, Neb. on July 7th of Mr. Geo. A. Wilson, a native of Cornwall, this province, after an illness of only a few days of pleuro-pneumonia. The late Mr. Wilson went to Omaha from his island home in 1871, with his parents and was employed as a cooper in the Union Pacific Railway shops a position which he held for 43 years, being one of the oldest employees in point of service. Mr. Wilson visited his island home a number of times and, twelve years ago, married Miss Ada Godkin of Charlottetown, who survives him. There are also left to mourn his mother, Mrs. Esther Wilson formerly of Cornwall; his sisters Miss Maria, Mrs. L. W. Devalon and Mrs. John Bryans; his brother, Mr. James A. Wilson, all of Omaha. Interment was at Prospect Hill Cemetery, Omaha, on July 9th. The Courier extends sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

LATE CATHERINE BELL

Passed peacefully to rest in Lowell, Mass., on June 22nd, Miss Catherine Bell, beloved and youngest daughter of the late Neil and Catherine Bell, of Long Creek, P. E. I. The deceased formerly taught school in her native province, but has resided for a number of years with her sisters, Mary and Clara in Lowell, Mass. She was stricken with typhoid fever, and in spite of medical aid and kind nursing, gradually grew weaker, till the end came. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church for many years and during her illness was faithfully visited by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Craig, who also officiated at the funeral. The body was laid to rest in Westlawn Cemetery, Lowell. Besides the sorrowing sisters she leaves to mourn one brother, Dugald, in British Columbia. (Other papers please copy.)

SAINT JOHN EXHIBITION

The Experimental Farm System of Canada is co-operating this year in making the Agricultural Department of the Saint John Exhibition a larger and more complete feature than has been the case for some years. Owing to the early dates on which the Exhibition must be held in order to secure seasonable weather for those attending, the display of Agricultural products has during the last two or three Exhibitions not been as comprehensive as the Exhibit on authorities would like but this year a special effort is being made and the Experimental Farm System will make an exhibit embracing the following departments: Animal Husbandry, Field Husbandry, Forage Plant Cereal, Botanical, Horticultural, Poultry, Chemical and Bees. This exhibit will be in charge of special officials and will be of a high educational value and of great interest to all classes whether farmers or not. It is also planned to supplement the value of the exhibit by literature especially prepared and also by special lectures to be delivered under the supervision of the Provincial Department of Agriculture. In these days it is the up-to-date and scientific farmer who produces the goods that command the best prices and these lectures will describe the latest and most effective ways of getting the desired results. Other features are also under contemplation which will indeed make the Saint John Exhibition of 1914 an Agricultural Exhibition in fact as well as in name. The dates are from Sept. 5th, to 12th. 3575.
