

IMPORTANT READING MATTER SELECTED FROM THIS WEEK'S NEWS FOR THE GUARDIAN'S SATURDAY SUBSCRIBERS

MONDAY. Mrs. Annie McWilliams, Souris, who was receiving treatment in the Charlottetown Hospital, passed away there Saturday afternoon. She had been suffering from blood poisoning.

A. W. Docherty, Pinette, is the proud owner of a Kalol horse four years old which stepped one half a mile yesterday on the Charlottetown track in 1.26. First time to be hitched to a byke.

Many readers will be sorry to learn of the death of Miss Elizabeth Dobson of this town which occurred on Thursday last after an illness of only six days, of hemorrhage of the brain. She had been in her usual health until Friday last when she was suddenly stricken. She was a most amiable woman, a thorough christian, cheerful, companionable and lovable and all who knew her esteemed her very highly.

The members of the McKenzie Mission Band were entertained at the home of their president Mrs. R. E. Fielding, O'Leary, on Thursday evening, the 5th inst. A very enjoyable evening was spent in the playing of various games and other sorts of amusements. The liveliest game of the evening was a "peanut hunt," in which Edna Campbell, by her activity and tact, won the prize, which was a beautiful gold stick pin with a pearl setting. Other games were introduced which proved to be equally as enjoyable. Music was furnished by the Misses Pate, Johnstone and MacAulay. About 11.30 the usual repast was served by the competent hostess in her best style, after which the happy young people departed to their homes, after wishing their president Mrs. Fielding every success in her new home, whither she intends leaving for soon, their vain regrets that her place as president must be fulfilled by another ere long, and the singing of "God be With You Till We Meet Again."—A.

TUESDAY.

The home of Geo. W. H. and Mrs. Stevenson, Fredericton, was the scene of a very interesting event on Wednesday the 4th inst when their daughter Emily May was united in marriage to Andrew Boyd, merchant, Portauisque, N. S. Rev. H. R. Bell performed the marriage ceremony while Mrs. Wyand, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. The bride, who was given away by her father, was prettily gowned in white silk voile with net and chiffon trimmings. She wore a bridal veil with lilies of the valley and carried a shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums and maiden hair fern. The house was nicely decorated for the occasion with ferns, autumn leaves and cut flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd left on the evening express for their future home in Portauisque, N. S., amid showers of rice and good wishes.

Last Monday evening Rev. William Baester performed the ceremony that united in marriage George Stanley Howlett and Miss Eva Goodwin, two popular young people of Blue Lake. Only a few friends and near relatives of the contracting parties were present at the ceremony, after which a sumptuous repast was partaken of and greatly enjoyed. The groom is engaged as engineer for the Minor Mill & Lumber Company at Glendale, running the bull donkey at Camp 6, while the bride is the esteemed daughter of Mrs. L. Wagoner of this place. Mr. and Mrs. Howlett will make Blue Lake their future home, having rented a cottage on Knob Hill, where they are now keeping house.—Blue Lake Advocate, Sept. 23rd. (The above mentioned is a son of John Howlett of Annondale, P. E. Island, who left this province three years ago and has since been engaged with the above company. He is one of the many successful Islanders abroad.

On the 26th of September, a very interesting event took place at the home of W. and Mrs. Francis, Stellan, being the wedding of Gertrude Mary, youngest daughter of J. E. Johnson, Green Hill, to Robert Henry, youngest son of C. Fraser, Trenton. The bride looked charming in a travelling suit of blue broadcloth, with hat and feathers to match. She was attended by Miss Cassie Fraser, sister of the bridesgroom, who was attired in a very pretty blue crepe-de-chene dress, with hat to match. Raymond Fraser supported the groom. Only the immediate relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony, which was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Ross, of Trenton. After receiving the sincere congratulations of the friends, the happy party adjourned to the dining room, where they partook of a dainty luncheon, before starting on their wedding trip to Prince Edward Island, returning on Monday to Trenton, their future home, where a warm reception awaited them. The many presents useful and ornamental testified to the respect and esteem in which the young couple are held.—New Glasgow Exc.

The marriage of Capt. Lulu Mary Large, of the staff of Grace Hospital, Winnipeg, and daughter of the late Wm. and Mrs. Large, Charlottetown, P. E. I., to Captain Ludwick Ursaki, late in charge at Paris, Ontario, was celebrated on Thursday evening at the Salvation Army Citadel, Winnipeg, by Brigadier Burditt, Provincial Officer, and was a most happy event in every detail. The hall, beautifully draped and ferved, was well filled with the concourse of comrades and friends, while on the platform, in addition to the staff officers and principals, were the full Citadel Band and the Songster's Brigade. Each contributed pleasing numbers throughout the evening.

It was not to be expected that there would be many dull moments in such a meeting, and indeed from the opening song to the closing prayer there was a happy sequence of events, sparkling allusions being interspersed with the various songs and remarks, and the whole being toned down by degrees to meet the spirit of the solemn marriage ceremony at the last.

Ensign Minnie Smith spoke of Captain Ursaki's exemplary soldier days in the Corps at Regina, where he was faithful and untiring in his service to the cause of God.

Captain Bonyng had a fine, new song ready for the occasion, but in response to a request was persuaded to change it in favor of one rather significant for the occasion, and so he gave "Anchored Fast." The audience did some heroics on the chorus, and wanted the Captain to sing another.

Adjutant McElhenry rose to speak on behalf of the Corps, and said some true and well-deserved things about the contracting parties, referring to the groom's Cadetship under him at the Temple Corps, and to the bride's activity in the Songster's Brigade here.

The Band was next on the list, and gave a well-rendered number. Prof. Hawley then unfolded a tale of Charlottetown, and spoke of his kindly association with Captain Large as Junior, Drill-girl, Cadet, and Comrade, and then invited the audience to do honor to the bride by joining in the natal song of her home Corps, "The Sweet Little Corps by the Sea." They certainly joined.

Staff-Capt. Desbrisay, herself a Charlottetown girl, speaking on behalf of Grace Hospital, did not forget to pay a tribute to the bride, the home and Corps, which had sent out such a creditable number of Officers. She remarked how Providential and agreeable it had been to her, as one of the first officers out of Charlottetown, to meet in official capacity, after so many years, another of the late officers to come from the same Corps. She praised Captain Large's skillful and faithful service in the hospital, and prayed God's blessing should attend the couple through life.

Following a choice chorus by the Songsters, Brigadier Burditt arose, and with him the two principals, supported by Captain Bonyng and Captain Bessie Martin, whereupon the marriage ceremony was impressively performed and the blessing of Heaven invited on the two lives henceforth to be lived together.

It was good to note the true ring to the testimonies of both bride and groom. Mrs. Ursaki's closing words were: "As I pledge my troth to one whom I love well, so do I pledge my life anew to God for service." Captain Ursaki said salvation was the most important step in life, and urged all to take it, but after that in importance came marriage, which to him was not a passing fancy, nor following the example of others, but was taken in order that together they should go on the better to do God's work in the world. He closed by joining with his better half in heartily thanking all who had assisted in the preparations for the meeting, and wished every success to Winnipeg Citadel Corps.

Brigadier Burditt then read the following telegrams: "Heartiest congratulations and God's blessing while you travel through the United States.

"Regina Corps." "Heaven's richest blessing on your future lives, and pray they may be happy and useful.

"Brigadier and Mrs. Morris." Upon the Doxology being sung and benediction pronounced, Captain and Mrs. Ursaki received the congratulations of many friends and comrades, including Miss Bertha Large and Mrs. Foster, the bride's sisters from Prince Edward Island, after which the city Officers and intimate friends partook of a banquet prepared by the League and served in the lower hall. The excellency of the spread was a matter of general and flattering remark.

At its close, on motion of Adjutant Tudge, a message of congratulations was despatched to Captain Ernest Pugmire and Captain Grace Vickers, whose marriage was being celebrated concurrently at Toronto.

Captain Ursaki was converted at Regina on January 22nd, 1905, under Ensign Hall and Lieut. Johnson. He entered the Training College two years later. His first appointment was as Lieutenant at Lisgar Street, Toronto. From there he went to Swansea, where, unfortunately, he fell sick. Upon his recovery he was appointed to assist Captain Hale at Paris, and later at Niagara Falls. On promotion to Captain he was sent in charge of Ridgetown. From there he went to Chesley and then to Paris.

Mrs. Ursaki (nee Captain Lulu Large) was born near Charlottetown, at which Corps she was converted when but a Junior. She was enrolled as a soldier and held local offices for four years. She then applied for Officership, was accepted, and entered the Training College in 1906. Commissioned as pro-lieutenant, she was sent to assist in the Rescue Home, Toronto. Six months later she was promoted to pro-Captain, and in the following year was transferred to the Bloor St. Women's Hospital. In April, 1910, she was transferred to the Grace Hospital, Winnipeg.
