JUST PUBLISHED

Webster's NEW INTERNATIONAL Dictionary, (G. & C. Merriam Co., Springfield, Mass.) surpasses the old International as much as that book exceeded its predecessor. On the old foundation a new superstructure has been built. The reconstruction has been carried on through many years by a large force of trained workers, under the supervision of Dr. W. T. Harris, former United States Commissioner of Education, and reinforced by many eminent specialists. The definitions have been rearranged and amplified. The number of terms defined has been more than doubled. The etymology, synonyms, pronunciation, have received unsparring scholarly labor. The language of English literature for over seven centuries, the terminology of the arts and sciences, and the every-day speech of street, shop, and household, are presented with fullness and clearness. In size of vocabulary, in richness of general information, and in convenience of consultation, the book sets a new mark in lexicography.

400,000 words and phrases.
 6000 illustrations.
 2700 pages.

Public Notice

As measles seem to be getting prevalent in the schools of Charlottetown owing to the neglect of some citizens, public notice is called to the Regulations of the Board of Health, especially to Rules 1 and 6.

Rule 1 states that any household in whose house occurs a case of measles shall immediately notify the Board of Health, through its Health Officer or secretary, of the same.

Rule 6 states that no member of any household where measles exists shall be permitted to mingle with children in schools, churches, or other public places.

There is a penalty of $40.00 for failure to obey the rules.

The Board of Health requests all citizens to comply with the regulations at once, and assist in stamping out the disease.

W. W. CLARKE,
 Secretary.

Glasses Needed

The preservation of eyesight would be an easy matter if people would be fitted in proper glasses. Thus taking the strain from their eyes, and allowing the glasses to do the eye-work that Nature did not intend to do.

Glasses can be made to do this. Step in that we may prove it to you by our scientific method of Examination, Examination, rec.

BRITISH CAPTAIN'S BRAVERY. FIERCE FIGHT IN HUMAN BODY.

The Imperial Merchant Service Guild have just received from the Royal Human Society, a Bronze Medal and a Testimonial on Vellum signed by the Duke of Buccleuch, K. G., as President of the Society for presentation to their member, Captain W. Kirkwood, commanding the British steamer "Agenoria." It appears that whilst this vessel was lying at anchor in New York Harbour, one of the sailors fell off the ship's gangway on to the Quay and then into the water. Capt Kirkwood on hearing the cry raised, rushed on deck dressed in sleeping garb and finding the cause of the disturbance, without a moment's hesitation threw a life buoy into the water and jumped in after the man. There was a strong tide running at the time, the river was full of floating ice, and the thermometer registered 14 degrees of frost. By this time the man was some yards away from the ship under one of the jetties, but the Captain pushed his way through the ice and reached the man who was unconscious just as he was sinking. All this occurred so rapidly that it was some little time before assistance could be rendered by the Officers of the ship, who proceeded to the rescue with ropes. The line was assisted to the Captain who was so benumbed with the cold that he was unable to make it fast to the man's body, but after a struggle he succeeded in doing so. Both men were then hauled out of the water together and taken on board but it was not until the seaman had been restored to consciousness that Captain Kirkwood would allow any attention to be paid to himself. This rescue is all the more remarkable owing to the fact that Captain Kirkwood could not swim. The details of this gallant rescue being brought to the notice of the Guild by the Officers of the steamer, representations were forthwith made to the Royal Humane Society, with the highly gratifying result referred to.

SUNSHINE
 are the two great creators of energy. You can get along without Scott's Emulsion if you have enough sunshine, but for the millions who don't get much sunshine, Scott's Emulsion is absolutely necessary. You can always get Scott's Emulsion. Get sunshine, too, whenever you can.

ZULU NAMES.

The Zulus have a custom like that of the ancient Hebrews in naming a child, of giving a name that will mark the time, or place, or some incident that occurred when the child was born. Recently at Durban, Natal a child was brought for registry on a day when a strike had interrupted traffic on the railroad. The child was given the name of Umhlabelungwe ubelabisi timela, meaning, "When the white men stopped the train." We wonder what the boy was called for short.

REMOVED

We have removed from 120 Boston Street to 180 Queen St. to stables formerly occupied by Fred. Cameron, trainer. These stables are situated between the tailoring establishments of John T. McKenzie and James Callaghan, most convenient to everybody, large and roomy, having in connection eight large stalls, where horses can be tied in perfect safety. We will be pleased to meet all our old and new customers with better accommodations and facilities than ever for first class work. Thanking one and all for their past patronage I take this opportunity of soliciting a continuance of same.
