The Health Value of Blood Medicine

By "blood medicine" we mean, for instance, Hood's Sarsaparilla, for nearly 50 years the standard remedy for blood disorders.

LETTER OF CONDOLENCE

Mr. Robert Steede, Hunter River. Dear Sir and Brother.—We the officers and members of Hackett, L. O. L., No. 1484 wish to convey to you our sincere sympathy in this your hour of sorrow when your beloved wife was taken to her eternal home wherein awaits love that cannot sever, while your heart is heavy with sorrow, you can only sympathize but commend you to our Supreme Grand Master who can comfort you in this, your sad hour.

Chinese policemen were murdered under singular circumstances. Recently in what is called the King-wan district, Shanghai, remained a puzzle until, by chance, two days after the crime, it was ascertained that the eyes of both victims had been gouged out. This discovery cleared up the mystery for the Chinese authorities who recognized an ancient criminal practice.

The two police had been bludgeoned to death at different times in the night and their bodies, one a half mile from the other, had been left near the Shanghai-Woosung railway line. They had not been robbed and their carbines were found with the bodies. A foreign inquirer, questioning a Chinese police official about the murders, was answered briefly. "Police see too much," the official said.
