Conference May Adjourn Soon

Fail To Agree On Monetary Problems—Leaders Of Gold Bloc Leave For Homes

(By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, July 10.—(Canadian Press Cable)—A stout effort to bridge the divergence between non-gold countries and the gold bloc over the question whether monetary matters should be left in World conference discussions, was under way tonight in a meeting of the newly-appointed drafting committee of the full monetary commission.

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett was appointed a member of this select committee of 10, largely as a "peace-maker," for in the committee strength is equally divided between the gold and non-gold countries. The committee is to report to the main conference steering committee tomorrow afternoon, and the outcome is unknown.

But delegates, feeling it was impossible to bridge the gap, expected to see a decision tomorrow to adjourn the conference at the end of July until some time in the autumn. The steering committee today agreed to drop the discussion of tariffs and quotas but failed to reach any decision on the more important question of whether the conference is to go on with monetary matters. Despite the insistence of the gold men it would be less so long as the United States is opposed to stabilization of currencies.

While the British, representatives of the Dominions, the United States and some of the smaller powers want the conference to proceed and accomplish whatever it can, the representatives of the gold countries tonight remained adamant. The French believe the United States will be willing to talk stabilization.

Receives $45,000

"It was a bombshell," said Madeline Gash, London, Ont., telephone girl, in describing the effect of the will of the youthful ex-almirant, John A. Greer, who bequeathed his friend a life income and a $45,000 trust fund. The supreme court is being asked to approve a settlement with the estate under which Miss Gash will receive a lump sum of $10,000.

LINDBERGH NOT COMING TO ISLAND

Regret At Inability To Accept Invitation Received From Airways Official.

Colonel Lindbergh, noted United States aviator, whose arrival at Halifax was expected yesterday, will be unable to accept the Prince Edward Island Government's invitation to visit this Province on the present occasion. The invitation, falling Colonel Lindbergh's arrival in Halifax last week, was forwarded to New York, but reached there after the Colonel's departure. The answer received yesterday was as follows:

Hon. W. J. P. MacMillan, Acting Premier, Charlottetown. Your telegram addressed Colonel Charles Lindbergh arrived here after his departure. Replying on his behalf compelled to inform you that on account of time it will be impossible for him to diverge from present itinerary which we regret cannot include Prince Edward Island. Your cordial invitation deeply appreciated.

CHAMBERLAIN SPEAKS IN COMMONS

Endorsement Of United States Price-Raising Policy Is Revealed In Debate On Economic Conference.

LONDON, July 10.—(C.P. and A.P. Cable)—The House of Commons was told today by Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, that the British Dominions led by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada had in effect saved the World Economic Conference from an early death last week.

The Chancellor declared Great Britain's basic policy was one of raising wholesale commodity prices, but he did not reveal any definite steps to carry this out. Likewise he merely smiled when George Lansbury, the veteran Labor leader, demanded hotly to know what was the British policy with respect to the gold standard.

Mr. Chamberlain was guarded in his references to the sliding American dollar, but of President Roosevelt's blunt rejection of currency stabilization last week, which precipitated the conference crisis, he declared it had "a very profound and a very disturbing effect" on opinion in the gold standard countries.

The House cheered as the British Chancellor indicated if the British Government had known President

LINDBERGH AT NORTH HAVEN, ME.

Will Take Off Today If Weather Conditions Are Right—Plane Slightly Damaged.

NORTH HAVEN, Me., July 10.—(A.P.)—Fogs and minor damage to their powerful monoplane today delayed Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh on their flight northward to Greenland by way of Halifax.

It offered them the opportunity to linger today and tonight at the summer home of Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, mother of Mrs. Lindbergh, and visited their son, Jon, and the filer's mother, Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh.

Unconcerned over difficulties which prevented him from reaching Halifax, his destination yesterday, Col. Lindbergh indicated he would take off tomorrow morning on his airway mapping flight, provided weather conditions were right.

Fog conditions which forced the Lindberghs to swerve prevailed to a lesser extent today. Visibility was

Sir Reginald Wolseley Dies

BERRYHARBOR, Devonshire, England, July 10.—(A.P.)—Sir Reginald Beatty Wolseley, who came here from Waterloo, Iowa, in 1891 to assume the baronetcy after working 14 years as an elevator operator, is dead.

Only a few villagers attended the funeral service at which the widow, the former Marion Baker, was dressed entirely in white. Twelve farmers acted as the bearers.

The widow, who was the nurse of Sir Reginald's mother, in 1890 went to Waterloo from England to inform him of his mother's last wish that he return to his native land.

Council Decides To Resume Work On City Streets

Repairing Of Damaged Sections And Surfacing Of Concrete Base Authorized By Board—$7,000 Limit Suggested.

A decision to repair the holes in the asphalt surface of the city streets and to cover with an asphalt surface the concrete base laid last year on a number of streets was reached last evening at the monthly meeting of the City Council. His Worship Mayor Stewart, who presided at the meeting voiced protest but the resolution carried with a unanimous vote of the Council. $7,000 was suggested as the probable cost of the project.

A letter was read from the Secretary of the Abegweit Club, asking for recompense for $108.75 lost, as a result of the club not being permitted to continue its indoor circus as the Council had granted permission to the club to do.

Councillor Holman pointed out that two weeks had elapsed before any complaint had been made as regards the inadvisability of cancelling the agreement.

On motion it was decided to allow the communication to lay on the table.

A complaint from a resident regarding the parking of cars on Great George Street for considerable periods of time was read.

The letter was referred to the Police Committee.

A complaint was received regarding damage to a garden by water from the street. The communication stated that the condition was due to lack of drainage.

A letter from the Provincial Rifle Association, regarding the Corporation Match, which was shot annually at the Rifle Range was read.

Councillor Kennedy, for the Finance Committee, reported that the names of defaulting tax-payers were to be published this week.

Street Repairs

Councillor Reardon for the Street Committee, reported that the committee had decided to repair the streets. Although conditions were not favorable for the spending of money, he believed it to be false economy to allow the streets to go to ruin. It would be foolish to allow them to go to ruin, as it would cost more to have them repaired next year.

His Worship stated that somebody had been writing to the papers,

Loved Prelate Laid To Rest

Large Concourse Attend Funeral Service Of The Late Rt. Rev. Monsignor MacLean, Vicar General At St. Mary's Church, Souris

The poet who wrote that "Death should come gently to one of gentle mould" must indeed have had in mind one such as the kindly and well beloved servant of the Lord whom death summoned peacefully away from St. Mary's Parochial House, Souris, July eighth.

This venerable and distinguished Prelate was for almost half a century one of the most well-known personalities in the Province. Few personages throughout our fair Island could have been so esteemed and respected by so many people, in all walks of life, as was the dignified and saintly Father MacLean, and with his passing a dominant personality is removed from its earthly scene of activity.

Ordained to the Priesthood in the Basilica of Quebec, June 13, 1886, he was appointed assistant to his former Pastor and friend, Rev. Francis J. Macdonald, Curate at the old St. Dunstan's Cathedral, for a short time, he became Pastor of East Point and St. Margaret's until 1890, when he returned to St. George's as Pastor until the death of Rev. Father Francis Macdonald. Pastor of Summerside for nineteen years, he was appointed to the pastoral charge of St. Mary's Church, Souris, in 1919. In all the various fields of activity success attended his every effort, and in the temporal and spiritual, his various missions still bear the imprint of his rare and splendid gifts as a learned and zealous priest and as an administrator of unusual ability.

Prudent in act and temperate in speech, discreet, practical and experienced, these qualities thoroughly fitted Monsignor MacLean, for the duties of Vicar General, which office he filled for twenty years, and his faithful service as Vicar General to two distinguished Bishops merited the title of Prothonotary Apostolic, the first priest of the Diocese to be so signally honored by the Supreme Head of the Church.

An immense congregation assembled in St. Mary's Church to

PROSPECTS FOR AGREEMENT BRIGHTER

European Countries To Co-operate In Wheat Acreage Restriction.

LONDON, July 10.—(C.P. and A.P. Cables)—Prospects for an agreement on wheat acreage restriction brightened today as the "big four" wheat producing nations—Canada, the United States, Australia and Argentina—received an assurance of co-operation from a large part of Continental Europe.

Poland and the four Danubian countries—Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia—have agreed in principle, it was said following a meeting of the "Big Four" today, to limit their exports of wheat, probably for a period of two years.

PREPARES FOR 3 A.M. TAKE-OFF

General Balbo Gets Ready For Long Flight

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, July 10.—General Italo Balbo announced tonight that unless weather conditions grew less favorable he intended to order the 21 Italian seaplanes enroute to Chicago to take off for Cartwright, Labrador, at 3 a.m. (11 p.m., E.S.T.) After lunch, the Italian Air Minister ordered his companions to rest.

some person whom he believed to be interested in the Tourist Association, and had been raising scare headlines. Elm Avenue had a good concrete base, and there was no use putting asphalt on streets with concrete bases. A communication had been received from the banker as regards the financial condition of the city. Complaints were not worth listening to, the Mayor stated, as complaints were always being made.

Many streets had been costing twice as much as they should have for repairs. It would be a good thing to have a little roughness to prevent reckless driving.

Councillor Trainor stated that the repair work should be done. He had broken a spring in his truck in one of the holes. There were 487 holes on Elm Avenue.

His Worship replied that he did not care if there were twice as many.

Councillor Reardon stated that the streets must be kept in repair. Anybody with common sense would know that it would cost more to repair them next year than at present.

The Mayor characterized the statement as "absurd."

MATTER'S ADVENTURES RELATED

Round - The - World Flier Was Lost For Sixteen Days In Northern Russia Before Help Arrived.

(By Stanley P. Richardson, Associated Press Staff Correspondent) MOSCOW, July 11.—(Tuesday)—A dramatic story of how airman Jimmie Mattern was lost for 16 days in the wilds of northern Russia before being rescued was related early today in a special dispatch to the newspaper Izvestia from its correspondent at Khabarovsk.

The dispatch gave the first comprehensive details of the mishap to Mattern, who took off June 14 from Khabarovsk in an attempt to fly to Nome, Alaska, on another stage of his solo round-the-world flight. The Texas flier last week sent a telegram here saying he was safe at Anadyr, Siberia.

Fourteen hours after leaving Khabarovsk, the Izvestia dispatch said, Mattern noticed that his motor was beginning to falter and he decided it would be better to land.

Finding no suitable place in the wild, desolate country, he pressed on, apparently hoping the trouble would right itself, only to meet with a virtual complete failure of the engine. This necessitated his coming down in an extremely unfavorable hilly spot about three miles from the left bank of the Anadyr River, on which the village of Anadyr is situated.

Kidnappers Ask $250,000 Ransom

The Victim John J. O'Connell, Jr. Is Nephew Of Powerful N. Y. Politicians.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 10.—(Associated Press)—John J. O'Connell, Jr., 24, nephew of Edward J. and Daniel P. O'Connell, powerful New York upstate Democratic leaders has been kidnapped and held since Friday for $250,000 police learned today.

Negotiations for his release have come to a standstill. The abductors had telephoned a warning that they would kill their captive if police were called into the case.

Young O'Connell, powerful athlete and lieutenant in the United States National Guard, is believed to have been snatched away from his home as he got out of his automobile at 115 a. m. Friday.

His parents noticed his failure to return home Thursday night, but did not suspect that he had been kidnapped until they heard of the death threat Friday. This was telephoned to Samuel Aronowitz, law partner of Edward O'Connell, who is Albany County Democratic chairman. Aronowitz is a former state commander of the American Legion.

"Tell Eddie (Edward O'Connell) that we've got his nephew and that he will hear from us," a muffled voice over the telephone told Aronowitz. "If he tells the police we'll kill him."

The two political chieftains made frantic attempts to get in communication with the kidnapers today through intermediaries, but were said to have been unable to reach them. Sources close to them said they were ready to pay a moderate ransom, but could not hope to raise $250,000.

Their fear was that young O'Connell, because of the great strength for which he is noted among his friends, would endanger his own life by attempting to get away. He weighs 225 pounds, is a courageous fighter and a good runner.

FOURTH YEAR COURSE OFFERS NINE SUBJECTS

Students May Complete Second Year In Arts Or Pre-Medical Course.

Courses in nine subjects will be offered at Prince of Wales College in the Fourth Year Course, which will begin this Fall. In a number of subjects two courses will be offered. Only five subjects may be taken by any one student.

Following is the curriculum: English—A careful study of various types of prose and poetry. Facts and Ideas (Crofts); Types of Poetry (Ginn); Hamlet; Ordeal of Richard Feverel.

Latin—Aeneid VI, Horace Odes I, De Senectute, Latin Prose Composition.

French—Coppee, Six Contes (Blackie); Les Precieuses Ridicules (Blackie); Les Francs Oral (Heath); Kastner and Mark's New-course; French composition Part II (Dent).

History—The story of man from the early times to the present day. Economics—Introduction to the study of Economics. Ely; Outlines of Economics.

Sociology—Principles of Sociology, texts to be announced.

Chemistry—(Two courses), Inorganic Chemistry; Qualitative analysis (Miller); Organic Chemistry, (to be chosen).

Physics—Kimball's College Physics Laboratory.

Biology—(Two courses), Comparative Anatomy, (Davison); Mammalian Anatomy.

For students desiring a General Education, English, History, and probably Sociology will probably be compulsory. The other two subjects to be chosen by the student. For students taking the course in Arts, English, History and Latin will be compulsory, the other two subjects to be chosen by the student. For students taking pre-medical or pre-dental work two courses in biology, two courses in chemistry, and history will be compulsory.

There will probably be no Fourth Year course in mathematics, as mainland universities do not require such a course, and only the exceptional student would desire it. The course in Greek provided by the College will count as a subject for those who take it.

LONDON, July 10.—(A.P.)—Great Britain's unemployment figures issued this evening show 144,771 fewer unemployed on June 26 than a month before, and 309,235 fewer than a year ago at that time.
