P. E. I. Protestant Orphanage Review

Many months have gone by since a general review of the work of the Protestant Orphanage has been given to the public, on whom rests the greater part of the financing of the institution. Over this period the work has gone along successfully, though not without its difficulties and worries, but who is without their troubles these days?

When the War ended most people thought the return to normal living would come right away; indeed there is inflation, disputes and strikes right in this garden province. All these have been felt keenly in the Orphanage work, for we know the collection of last fall was expected to carry on for another year; now with the much higher prices for everything included in the food and clothing, the trustees have their troubles. The cost of coal alone for this year is $400.00 higher than was paid last year.

But there is a bright side for though the orphanage has the largest number of children in its history, all are being well cared for; no serious illness has occurred during the year and all are in robust health. The building, though some repairs were necessary, is in excellent condition and the grounds during the summer were really beautiful.

The adoption work has been exceptionally heavy and this committee has been confronted with many problems as they deal with cases from all corners of the province. However, as in the past, the best interest of the child itself is the first consideration. What to do with children who have no relatives is also a problem and helpful suggestions would be welcomed.

The winter will soon be setting in and there is much to do in preparation. At the next meeting of the trustees, Mrs. H. S. Henderson, Chairman of Finance, gave a very clear statement of the work ahead and the committee will be glad to receive suggestions from the public.

At that meeting too, the date for opening the fall collection was set for Monday, October 13th, beginning in Charlottetown and spreading through the province at such time as collectors find opportune.

It will not be difficult for anyone to realize that the need for generous response in this collection is indeed great, if the institution is to maintain the high standard for which the Orphanage is noted. Far and near to many faithful friends who are something more in a child than an expense for food and clothing and through their kindness and help to these little ones, they will give to the Orphanage the "bread of life" and who knows but these same little ones may do the same. For many children who have passed through Orphanage hands and now have their own homes and families yet still find time to chat with the officials of happy days in the institution.

Work of this kind is surely well appreciated. "Let Us All be Up and Doing" for the evening song comes and when fall collection day, October 13th, rolls around be ready to help as you have been blessed.

SUMMERFIELD W. M. S.

The regular monthly meeting of the Summerfield W. M. S. was held at the home of Mrs. Norris Sinclair, with Mrs. Douglas Webster in charge of the devotional period.

Meeting opened by singing Hymn 182, "O Word of God Incarnate," followed by scripture reading, Psalm 119, chapter, verses 33-48, and prayers by Mrs. Keith Mayne. Mrs. Chesley Robertson of Charlottetown, Hymn 187, "Break Thou the Bread of Life" was then sung.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. 11 members and three visitors were present. Collection amounted to $3.45.

Proceeds of Auxiliary apron amounted to $12.10. Members reported eleven sick calls made during the past month.

Mrs. Elmer Stewart is to have charge of devotional period for next meeting, which will be held in the church, roll call to be answered by a verse containing the word "light". Mrs. J. A. Harding then sang very beautifully "Anywhere With Jesus".

The theme for the meeting was "The Bible For All the World," and was clearly outlined by Mrs. Scott, Mrs. George Downes and Mrs. Chesley Robertson of Summerside Auxiliary, after which Mrs. Scott expressed the need of more earnest study of the Bible which has been given to us at so great a cost.

A further questionaire on the Bible was given by Mrs. Scott.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Scott on her splendid talk by singing Hymn 298, followed by benediction.

POLICE TO THE RESCUE—A policeman's lot is a varied one and he is sometimes called upon to comply with odd requests similar to one received by the local force last week. It appears that a lady visiting the city had purchased a small black kitten, and unable to keep it in her hotel room until her return home, and finding no local animal nursery to take care of it, requested the City Police to do so. The request was readily complied with. But there were complications. The kitten was put in a basket which was then placed in one of the cells, where it was kept on milk and boloney diet. Apparently not content with "prison fare" and solitary confinement the kitten disappeared. It means still involved, later in front of the retail vendor's shop, and was again returned to its private cell. During the week-end rush at the Station the cells were put to other use and the kitten was removed to better quarters, that of the Chief of Police's private office. There it was kept until Monday morning, when it was delivered to its owner, none the worse for its experience.

Holroyd-Craswell Wedding

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Craswell, Winsloe, North on Wednesday, Aug. 27th, at six o'clock when their daughter Lois Ada was united in marriage to John Stephen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Holroyd, Winsloe. Rev. E. J. Davis, Minister, officiated. The bride wore a gown of white tulle and carried a bouquet of red roses with white satin streamers, while her cousin, Miriam Horne, acted as flower girl dressed in pink with matching veil and carrying a basket of sweet peas which she scattered in the path of the bride. Her first friend Verma Watts, as bridesmaid, wore a gown of pink sheathed in a gown of white tulle. The groom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a white bow tie. The ceremony was ably supported by Mr. Heath Craswell, brother of the bride.

The groom is wearing a white suit with blue accessories. Many friends join in wishing them many years of happy wedded life.

$10,000,000 Sunk In Sea Lure Divers

By Gordon Tait
SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 16 (AP)—An Australian syndicate is investing thousands of dollars in an expedition to locate and salvage more than $10,000,000 worth of sunken gold, most of it in an American sailing ship that was lost 80 years ago.

The syndicate, formed by J. E. Johnston, a marine salvage diver, plans to try first for the $1,000,000 worth of gold still in the liner Niagara, sunk by mines off the coast of New Zealand during the war.

Then it will seek the fortune, estimated at $10,000,000 in gold that disappeared when the 1200-ton American sailing ship General Grant was lost on the largest of the desolate Auckland Islands, 288 miles south of New Zealand, May 14, 1868.

E. J. Sheehy, a Sydney accountant and member of the syndicate, said $24,300 was being invested in the treasure search.

The General Grant came to grief on a voyage from Melbourne to England via Cape Horn and 67 of the 82 aboard lost their lives. Violent gales drove the ship off her course, a strong tide drew her into a cleft on the lonely, uninhabited island, and at the end of the cleft, sucked the vessel into a huge cavern. Trapped by the tides, while the crew was smashed against the reef.

Convinced More There

According to an old manifest, the ship carried 2778 ounces of gold, but Sheehy said he was convinced that nine tons of "specie" listed in the freight also was gold. All the passengers, he said, probably carried additional gold in their personal belongings.

(Gold frequently was shipped quietly out of the country in the last century to avoid an export tax and conceal from crew members and passengers the value of bullion aboard.)

Sheehy said that "with an eye on the gold" he had taken a lease on the 300,000-acre island on which the American clipper was wrecked from the New Zealand Government in 1923.

The New Zealand government has given one full rights to all gold that might be recovered," he said.

In the last 50 years six lives have been lost in unsuccessful attempts to recover the General Grant's treasure. The new syndicate hopes that with modern equipment, including a diving bell, the search will be successful without particular risk.

Diver Johnstone raised $7,500,000 of Bank of England bullion from the sunken Niagara, but the salvage syndicate received only 2-1/2 per cent commission on that undertaking. Sheehy said that the Bank of England has notified Johnstone he can claim 50 per cent of any remaining gold recovered.

The Niagara is lying in 438 feet of water and the remaining gold, Johnstone says, is under a shelf on the ocean bed. Johnstone plans to go down this time in a new diving bell, from which he will have direct control of a grab.

The expedition plans to leave a New England port in a chartered vessel in October and, after tacking the Niagara, will go to the Auckland Islands about the end of the year.

A Nominating Committee consisting of Harry Pineau, Annabelle Trainor, Florine Evans and Bob Chandler brought in a slate of officers and after one balloting the following officers were elected: President: Bob Chandler, Vice-President: Sterling Walker; Sec. George Anderson, Treasurer: Walter Conrad with Harry Pineau and Annabelle Trainor as members of the Executive.

An Executive Meeting will be held Thursday evening at the home of the President at 7:30.

Members present at the Meeting were: Frances MacMillan, Florine Evans, Beverly VanDerstine, Bob Forsythe, Paul Cudmore, John Burrows, Abe Zaken and District Commissioner Stan MacInnis.

Club Members anticipate a very successful and fruitful year of service to Scouting, whether by direct action or just by keeping Scouters happy and informed and helping them to realize their importance in the Movement. Any Scouters who would like to join the Club are heartily invited to attend our next meeting which will be announced in particular risk.

FIRST SOURIS TROOP

On Aug. 29th, a preliminary meeting was held in an effort to re-organize the First Souris Scout Troop. Films were shown and an informal talk was given to a group of between 70 and 80 interested youngsters.

Mr. Wally MacKenzie is taking over as Scoutmaster while his Assistants will be John MacDonald and Bill MacLean. Both Wally and John attended Oilwell at Nerepis this year and Bill is a former Scout.

Mr. Ken Fraser undertook the organizing the Niagara, will go to the Auckland Islands about the end of the year.

Perry-Darte Nuptials

Before a large crowd of relatives and friends, the marriage of Hazel Marie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Percy Darte and James Wilfred, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Perry, St. Nicholas, was solemnized yesterday morning at the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer at 8:15. Rev. R. Baines C.S.S.R., performed the ceremony and also celebrated the Nuptial Mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor length dress of white satin with Princess lines and a slight train. She wore a shoulder veil and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Gordon Connors, sister of the bride, chose a floor length dress of blue lace over satin with short lace jacket. Mrs. Connors also wore a shoulder veil and her bouquet was of Tullahoma roses.

Mr. Gordon Connors supported the groom.

The Wedding March was played by Mr. Alex H. MacLean. During the ceremony solos were rendered by Mr. Plus Callaghan.

Immediately after the church ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to about thirty guests at the home of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry left at noon on a short honeymoon trip throughout the Maritimes.

For traveling the bride selected a dark wool suit with accessories to match and wore a corsage of pink roses.

It was hot this afternoon. We watched the Mercury climb to mid-Summer heat. Jamie remained at home, and I saw the cattle lie in the shade of the trees in their pastures. The fisherman said: "She's one warm day" and the young pasturing horses, to Jamie's delight cooled themselves in the mill stream, which today left muddy flats in the drain on it from the sawing at the mill.
