

Canada Well Covered By Newspapers

Despite War, Canada's Reading Public Well Served.

Canada continues to be unusually well served by the press. This is brought out in the current issue of the Canadian Newspaper Directory compiled by A. McKim Limited, Advertising Agency, of Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and London, Eng.

There are 1381 publications of all kinds now being issued in Canada, including 133 dailies, 4 tri-weeklies, 40 semi-weeklies, 921 weeklies, 222 monthlies, 1 by-monthly, and 16 quarterlies. Reflecting the general prosperity which has obtained in Canada since war began, the publishing business is in a healthy condition. Since A. McKim Limited issued its first Canadian Newspaper Directory twenty-six years ago, the firm has seen the birth of many of the publications listed in its Directory and is in a position to have accurate knowledge of the field. The present day conditions of the Canadian press enables the Dominion to continue to boast the largest reading public in the World in proportion to population.

As usual, McKim's Newspaper Directory contains a wealth of general information regarding every town and city in Canada where a newspaper or other publication is issued, giving population, transportation facilities, telegraph, telephone, express, banking facilities and other accommodations. It is a veritable mine of pertinent, up-to-date information for business men at a time when such facts as it contains are in great demand for far sighted industrial leaders. The book itself is well bound, durable, neat and fits for a place on any office desk or in any library.

MESSAGE OF REGRET IS SENT TO SWEDEN

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Germany has sent a note to Sweden according to the correspondent at Stockholm of the Central News Agency, highly regretting the disagreeable issues raised on account of Sweden's transmitting telegrams to Germany.

Germany says she is obliged to the Swedish Government for transmitting the messages, but regrets that her representatives in Argentina should have sent the telegrams in the phraseology they did.

The Nya Dagligt Allehandan, of Stockholm, which printed the announcement that Germany had sent the note to Sweden, says the German Government has instructed all its representatives in foreign countries to refuse to accede to any attempt which may be made to force them to reveal to the Swedish Government the contents of code messages which they may submit to it.

DESBRISAY—WORRELL

Halifax, September 19.—It was late twilight last evening when the Sanctuary Guild of All Saints Cathedral put the last touch to the dressing of the chancel with flowers for the wedding, today, of Charlotte Austin, youngest daughter of His Grace the Archbishop of Nova Scotia and the late Mrs. Worrell, and Normand Rudolph, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Desbrisay, of Bathurst, N. B. district passenger agent of the C. P. R., and without doubt one of the most popular officials in the employ of that company throughout its whole system, as the bride is one of the very sweetest girls in her set. The dressing of the chancel was undertaken by the Guild as a labor of love—suffice it to say that it was in the purest taste, marked equally by simplicity and effectiveness.

No invitations were issued, but a very large group in which were noted many of the leading business men, were present to witness the ceremony in performing which His Grace the Archbishop was assisted by the Dean and by Rev. J. L. F. Foster, rector of Hubbard's and brother-in-law of the bride. Mr. Sangar, organist of the church, was in attendance giving masterly renditions of the wedding marches, and of beautiful voluntaries. The choir was also in attendance.

Miss Worrell entered the church with her brother, Mr. Frank Worrell, by whom she was given away. It is no excess of praise to say that no fairer bride has ever knelt at the cathedral altar. She looked truly lovely in her wedding gown of white satin with touches of silver, and her bouquet and orange blossoms were by her mother on her wedding day, her bouquet being of white roses and lilies of the valley. Tall, slender, most fair, most gentle, of lily-like grace was this bride. Such was the general verdict.

Bride and groom were unattended. The ceremony over, Mr. and Mrs. Desbrisay drove to Bishop's Lodge, where the group was exclusively a family group, including Mrs. Kirkpatrick of Kingston, sister of the bride; her little son, Master Clare Kirkpatrick, the Archbishop's namesake, and a most engaging child; Rev. J. L. F. Foster and Mrs. Foster; Mr. Frank Worrell; the two sisters of the groom, Mrs. Lossen, of Bathurst, and Mrs. Walker of Winnipeg, who are staying at Elmwood; Mrs. Turnbull, of St. John, who is a guest of Bishop's Lodge; Messrs. Bruce Burpee and Allen Seymour, of the C. P. R. official staff, Montreal; and the Dean and Mrs. Llywd.

Mr. and Mrs. Desbrisay left by the 3 o'clock train for Quebec whence they will go to New York. The bride's going away gown was of brown cloth trimmed with fox fur and worn with hat to correspond. The one regret here in connection with the wedding (a very hearty regret) is that their future home will not be in this city, but in St. John. They are followed by very many and cordial good wishes—the collection of wedding gifts testified conclusively to that—and a quite remarkable collection it was, including the following "presentations" to the groom, of whom his friends are accustomed to speak as "a very fine fellow."

From the C. P. R. staffs at St. John and Halifax, a silver tray and coffee urn, suitably inscribed.

From the staff at the head office in Montreal, a sterling silver tea set and tray.

From the management of the Halifax Hotel, a beautiful lamp.

OFFER REWARD FOR THE FIRST U. S. PRISONER

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM, Sept. 19.—German military authorities on the western front have shown concern about the imminence of the American army's entry to the fighting by offering rewards for the production of the first American prisoners. The general commanding the Eleventh Reserve Division, recently put the price of 400 marks on the first American soldier brought dead or alive into his lines.

Diary Tells Story

This information has been disclosed by the diary of a Prussian sergeant of the Twenty-Third Reserve Infantry Regiment. He wrote at the end of July: "We are supposed to have had Americans opposite us for some time now, and two divisions of Portuguese on our right. The men who brings in the first American, dead or alive, to headquarters has been promised the iron cross of the First Class, 400 marks and fourteen days leave."

Industrial Town Raged

The diary, which covers a period of nearly two months, describes in detail the destruction of an important industrial town by the Germans, and its transformation by a German army commander into a great mass of fortified ruins. Batteries have been planted in the cellars of private houses, factories and public buildings, which have been partially demolished to give a better field for the fire, while the streets and squares, and even the city cemetery, have been torn up and emeshed with wire to provide positions for groups of machine guns.

The diary describes how the troops quartered in the city spent their time when not on duty in firing machine guns from the barricaded windows and the roofs of buildings left standing, and in searching of hidden treasure, and in digging among the ruins for silverware.

Sacked Public Buildings

The sergeant tells how his friends found gold watches and priceless paintings from the museums, statuary and other works of art which they are hoarding in their dugouts. The cathedrals were sacked as well as other public buildings. The German authorities have removed the bulk of the municipal and ecclesiastical valuables to Germany, but many of the inhabitants, who were evicted from their homes at a few hours' notice when the city was cleared before its destruction, had no opportunity to remove their private possessions. The German soldiers, it seems, were eager to serve at St. Quentin because of the chances for "treasure hunts" there.

Germans Have No Rest

The diary does not indicate any marked depreciation of the German morale but emphasizes the discomfort of the conditions of life in the field and the terrible accuracy of the French gunners, who give the Germans no rest.

On the Flanders front, during the past few days the only activity has been slight outpost engagements. The Wurttemberg Infantry succeeded in taking a few small British posts on the north bank of the stream called the Breenbeck, east of Langemarck, causing the British to fall back on the opposite bank where their main defences are established. On the other hand the British have pushed forward their line east of St. Julien.

REAL WAR ROMANCE WITH HAPPY ENDING

LONDON, Sept. 19.—One of the bits of romance of the battle front, whose name is legion, came to light the other day. A society girl quarrelled with her soldier fiance and he rushed to the front, determined to throw away his life. She, heart-broken, became a nurse, and soon after was sent to France. There she was assigned to care for an officer who had been blinded by a fragment of shell. It was her fiance.

She did not reveal her identity, but did everything she could to mitigate his suffering. One day he asked her to write a love letter for him at his dictation. It proved to be to his fiancee in England—herself. She began taking the dictation, but broke down and revealed herself.

A complete reconciliation followed, although it was believed that he was hopelessly blind. A few days later, however, the surgeon made a re-examination and found the soldier's sight could be restored. An operation was performed. The wedding will follow when the bandages are removed from his eyes.

The Making of the Bible

It took the Bible two thousand years to grow. As it is the greatest work known to man—so it took immeasurably the longest time to build. It is rooted in many bibles—lost—forgotten—long-buried in the dust of the ages. A whole sacred literature went before it. The old Semitic legends; the ballads and the folk-songs, the recital of tribal deeds that ran from lip to lip and from father to son; the codes of ancient laws; the Bible of Southern Judah and of Northern Israel; the Book of Deuteronomy; the Book of the Priests; these were a part of the beginnings of the Book of Books.

St. John taught and preached and prayed and meditated fully fifty years before he wrote the Fourth Gospel. And so with all the Apostles. They taught and prayed and preached for years before they gave the world the written Word. First then, came the oral gospel, published through the church, not in writing, "but on the fleshy tablets of the New Testament," beginning about the year 50 A. D. Then came the gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

The whole Bible has been likened to a great Temple; the Old Testament as the nave, with its side aisles of psalm and prophecy; the Gospels as the choir, the last Gospel perhaps the very sanctuary; while around and behind are the Epistles and the Apocalypse, each a gem of beauty, and each supplying an indispensable feature of the majestic whole.

The publishers of the famous RED LETTER EDITION of the Bible inform us that only by means of a vast newspaper cooperation throughout the United States and Canada could this magnificent Bible be had for the nominal price asked. They state they are arranging to distribute at least two million copies, and that the RED LETTER represents a value of from three to four dollars in the usual channels of trade.
