move by accepting this period of control of existing armaments, pending the second stage during which the question of German armaments, as of all others, would be reopened.

New Angle

The disarmament situation developed a new angle today when following a conference between Ambassador Naotake Sato of Japan with Norman Davis, United States Ambassador-at-large...

This led to the opinion in some quarters the final outcome of the disarmament conversations would be an agreement primarily affecting the European nations...

FINAL SESSIONS

splendid work carried on by the native women and what they are doing in their W. M. S. which might well put to shame many of our so-called Christian women in the home land who take little or no interest in our missions.

Reports by Miss MacDonald and Miss Murphy will be particularly interesting to our women as both are known to us as earnest, consecrated workers. In their most recent letter was contained the good news that they both passed their final examinations successfully, but must still continue language study.

There is now being held a "Conference of the Federated Council of Christian Missions" for Japan. It was estimated that about 300 foreigners were present. Miss MacDonald said they enjoyed very much hearing a service in English.

REPORT OF MISSION BOXES

Secretary of Mission Boxes, Miss Annie Brims, sent in a very satisfactory report in which she reported increase in numbers of small packages from Auxiliaries and Mission Bands. A great many packages have been sent to Rev. A. Reoch at Manchuria, and in the December Message he thanks the Maritimes for their generous help.

HOME HELPERS REPORT

As this is only the second annual report of this department the Secretary expresses regret that "apparently" not much had been accomplished, but on weighing carefully the report we find that all Presbyterials have formed Home Helpers Departments and have sent in very satisfactory reports and we look forward to seeing this department one of the greatest sources of help in our Society.

1. Resolved that we, the members of the Women's Missionary Society (E.D.) assembled in this our 57th annual session, record our thanks to Almighty God for His love and care over us and pray that with His help and guidance we may be able to go on with our work more faithfully and efficiently than before.

2. Resolved that we express our gratitude to the Misses McCullough and Miss Annie Brims for their faithful services to this society for so many years, and deeply regret their absence.

3. We would assure our missionary workers, both home and foreign, of our appreciation of their devoted services.

4. Feeling that much of the ir-religion of the present day, particularly among our young people, is due to the desecration of the Sabbath Day by various amusements and of keeping open business houses, we pledge ourselves to do our utmost in every way, by example and precept, to secure the keeping of the Fourth Commandment.

5. As a society of Christian women we re-affirm our warm allegiance to the cause of temperance in our land.

6. We would urge upon each Auxiliary member her present responsibility to promote missionary interests and activity among the young people of her congregation.

7. We would tender our loving sympathy to all our members who in the last year have suffered the loss of loved ones and would pray that they may know the sustaining grace of our Heavenly Father.

8. We regret the absence through illness of our Recording Secretary, Mrs. R. W. Grant, and wish her speedy recovery.

9. To the Deputy Moderator, Rev. Norman MacLeod, D.D., for his wonderful and inspiring address and to Rev. A. Murray for his gracious welcome, we would offer our hearty thanks.

10. We would express to Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Legate and to Rev. G. C. and Mrs. Webster and to the Leaders, Zion and St. James Churches and our deep appreciation of the untiring efforts which have helped to make these meetings so successful, also to Rev. Dr. McArthur for kind greetings.

Prayer by Mrs. Frank Baird for Deaconesses and Home Mission Fields, after which hymn 545 was sung.

Business was then considered and resolutions sent in and discussed.

1. Resolved that this board express its sympathy with the efforts of the Maritime Synod to obtain enlarged powers, and pledge ourselves to co-operate with the Synod to the extent of our ability when the Synod shall have formulated a policy for intensive work.

2. Resolved that delegates at annual meetings be entertained by Harvard Plan. Passed with the recommendation that some other church or society serve the meals at a nominal price.

3. Resolved that we memorialize the General Board to form a girls auxiliary for 'teen age girls. Suggested that it be left to the discretion of the auxiliaries. If they see a lack of missionary education they could act accordingly to fill the gap.

4. Resolved that the price of "The Annual Report" be reduced to 15 cents. Carried.

A cordial vote of thanks was tendered Acting Recording Secretary Mrs. F. A. A. Mutch and Press Reporter Mrs. C. W. Patterson for their untiring assistance during the meetings, to which Mrs. Mutch replied.

extraction of a cataract. According to the police, the "cataract" was the inner skin of a soft boiled egg, deftly inserted under the eyelid during the operation.

The Operation According to Dares' story to the police, he was visited a few days ago by a stranger who gave the name of Hamilton and who attempted to sell him glasses. An examination by Hamilton disclosed cataracts on Dares' eyes. Hamilton then told Dares it was fortunate he had with him an eye specialist from Montreal, Dr. A. M. Macumber.

Dares told the police that Macumber entered the house at Hamilton's suggestion and confirmed Hamilton's diagnosis. Macumber told Dares an operation would save his sight, the fee for which would be $987 in cash. Dares agreed to the fee and the operation began.

A Specialist According to Dares, Macumber emphasized he used no knives or surgical instruments, removing the cataracts by means of a liquid and manipulation of the eyelid. The operation, performed in Dares' bedroom, lasted 15 minutes. He was shown a piece of scum or skin about the size of a dime, which Macumber told him was the offending cataract.

After the operation, Dares drove to a bank, withdrew $987 in cash. Macumber and Hamilton impressed upon him the need of secrecy because they said Macumber was connected with a large Montreal hospital and had no license to practise in Nova Scotia.

Moved Police declined to say how they heard of the case but after investigating they issued a warrant for the arrest of Macumber and Hamilton, charging them with false pretences. No trace of them has been found since.

Evening Session

Rev. G. Carlyle Webster, who led the devotions, remarked that the women during the last two days had faced their problems courageously, and expressed the hope that all would return to their homes inspired for further work.

The scripture was read by Rev. R. H. Stavert. Rev. J. A. Pritchard led in prayer.

Rev. Dr. Norman MacLeod, before beginning his sermon, remarked on the success which had attended the efforts of the women in their work.

In his address, Dr. MacLeod gave further answers to the inquiry, "Why support foreign missions?" To support foreign missions, in the first place, was a command of Christ. Immediately before his ascension, Christ had told his disciples that they should be his witness, both in Jerusalem and in Judea, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth. The Church must function in its extremities as well as in its centre, as poisons arising in the extremities of the body could poison the centres. The church which neglected foreign missions, soon passed into history.

In the second place, the Christian religion was universal, a universal religion and force. Religion was like the other forces. Like the Law of Gravity, it was not localized, but was universal. Truth, love were universal principles. Christianity was the only universal religion.

In the third place foreign missions were commercially profitable. In 1928 commercial profits from the Sandwich Islands were three times as great as when the first missionary went to those islands. Great profits had been derived from the territory opened by Livingston, from parts of India opened by Carey and Judson. Many of the necessities and luxuries of the present day were available through the efforts made by missionaries in years gone by.

Three sciences were for many years dependent on missionaries. They were the sciences of ethnology, that of races, of philology, the science of words, and archeology. What was true of these was also true of modern philosophy and psychology. There were still powers within human beings about which scientists knew little, and which were first brought to public attention by missionaries.

In the third place the Church of the Middle Ages had become corrupt because it had discontinued its missionary work. The Irish Church had been most powerful when she was sending out missionaries, but the light had come when she would send out no more. What had been true of the Irish Church had been true of the Moravian Church. When she had been sending out missionaries by the score was the time she had her greatest influence. The Moravian Church had begun a movement which had resulted in many social, intellectual and spiritual benefits to the British Empire.

The Maritime Provinces, Dr. MacLeod stated, had exercised a great spiritual influence through the missionary spirit. There was no greater urge, he said, than the urge to serve God in distant places.

In conclusion Dr. MacLeod felicitated the ladies of the W. M. S. and asked the blessing of God on them in their work.

WHEAT PRICES SUMMERSIDE and Prince County

DECLINE IN "PEG" MARKET

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28. — Lacking any semblance of strength, wheat prices declined sharply on the grain exchange today as Chicago turned downward and selling dislodged stop-loss orders. The liquidating movement came during the last hour and the close left wheat futures with losses of 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents.

Export business, which late estimates placed at between 750,000 and 1,000,000 bushels had little effect in stemming the selling spurge. October option closed at 61 1/2, November at 61 1/2, December at 62 1/2 and May at 67 1/2 cents.

Active and Quiet Operations in the closing stages were moderately active with orders entering the pit steadily. After mid-session the market witnessed a dull period, but the early trade was alternately active and quiet.

Hedging pressure was increased today due to clearing weather in Western Canada. This selling was actually not very heavy, but in the absence of support was sufficient to run prices into stop losses.

Only a moderate business was worked in cash grains but demand was quite keen, with spreads ruling 1/2 to 3/4 better on some grades. In the pit all coarse grains were liquidated in sympathy with wheat. Flax badly neglected at one time was off 3/4 cents.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28. — (C.P.) — Grain traders and exporters withheld comment today on the decision of the Montreal Harbor Commission to pay a subsidy of 3-16 of a cent a bushel on grain exported through that port between October 1 and the end of the navigation season.

The action is not expected to have any noticeable effect on the grain trade here. With the departure of the one vessel now in port, the Brandon, shipping out of Churchill, Manitoba's northern port, will close. Therefore the subsidy will not have the effect of diverting any shipments from there.

other exporters that any boost in the world total, now set at 560,000,000 bushels, which might be provided would not imperil the price lifting programme included in the agreement reached incident to the world economic conference sessions.

Canada and the United States met Russia's demand that she must have at least 75,000,000 bushels of the export quota—double her allotment—by offering her 8,000,000 more in the event such an increase was found feasible.

The Russian delegate, Abraham Gourevitch, left the meeting at Canada House before its conclusion with the assertion the position of his Government had not been changed.

"Why should we?" he asked. Later an official announcement said "no definite conclusions have been reached" but that "further negotiations will be carried on between the Governments."

The North American countries had already been promised by the other exporters they could have any additional exports over the world limit now set at 560,000,000, provided these were necessary and would not imperil the price lifting programme included in the agreement reached incident to the World Economic Conference sessions.
