Age Pensions than it did for teachers' salaries."

Rev. Father O'Hanley expressed his gratification at having had the privilege of listening to Doctor MacMillan.

Dr. Steele also offered warm words of commendation and expressed the belief that the future welfare of the teaching profession in this Province may be brighter than it looks at present. His message was one of hope.

Professor Blanchard spoke much along the same lines as Doctor Steele, illustrating one of his points by the telling of a story which sent the audience into roars of laughter.

The last speaker was Mr. P. S. Bradley, who explained that the "freezing" order with respect to teachers had been made more to prevent too many of the male teachers enlisting in the Armed Forces than to force them to remain teaching.

The meeting closed following the singing of the National Anthem.

Bell—McIntyre Wedding

A very pretty wedding took place in St. James Presbyterian Church at 7 o'clock last evening, when Miss Joan Alexandra McIntyre, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Heath McIntyre was united in marriage to Lieut. Gordon Douglas Bell, R. C. C. Signals, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest V. Bell, 161 Euston Street.

The church, richly decorated with spring flowers, was crowded with friends and relatives, who were ushered to their seats by Mr. Newton Large, and Nathaniel Larabee, R. C. A. F.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the minister, Rev. T. H. Bussell Somers, M.A., S.T.M.

The young bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She looked very winsome in her lovely gown of Nassau blue silk jersey, smart flower hat, and carrying a bouquet of Happy Day roses.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret McIntyre, who wore a gown of gold silk jersey with flower hat, and carried a bouquet of Talisman Roses.

The groom was supported by his friend, Mr. Donald Seaman.

Miss Lillian Mackenzie, Mus. Bach., assisted by the choir provided appropriate organ and choral selections, Miss Anabelle Lawson rendering beautifully the solo "At Dawning."

The bride's mother, Mrs. McIntyre, was attired in powder blue crepe, with fox furs and chic hat, while Mrs. Bell appeared in turquoise blue for her smart ensemble.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 165 Prince Street, when toasts were proposed and good wishes extended.

Lieut. and Mrs. Bell left later on their honeymoon, the latter wearing a red and grey printed silk dress, grey chesterfield coat, and red and black accessories.

Prior to yesterday's happy event the bride had been widely entertained and many exquisite gifts have been showered upon the popular young couple.

Describe Narrow Escape From Death On Huge Ice Cake

Mr. and Mrs. George Brookins, Kensington, have arrived home here from a trip to Montreal to tell how they were marooned for three hours on a huge ice cake in the spring-flooded Chateauguay River, Quebec, and how they were ferried to safety in a rowboat as they dodged great blocks of ice carried by in the swift current.

The Brookins, together with Montreal relatives, Mr. and Mrs. D. Basil MacCaubsey, were returning from a day's motor trip from Chateauguay, Que., to Montreal at the time along a road that followed the river.

"The river was rising," said Mr Brookins, who is a well-known horseman here, "and was flooding part of the road, but we had been told it would not be serious at this time of year.

"But we had only gone about a mile when the car stopped and refused to go any farther. It was 11 o'clock at night. We got out and tried to wade to safety but we found that impossible. The water was up to our waists. We had one thing to do—climb aboard one of the big ice cakes which the raging torrent was piling up on the river bank.

"We yelled ourselves hoarse trying to attract attention. Finally we saw a light appear. Rescue was soon at hand.

The first attempt to reach us was made with horses", said Mr. Brookins, "but that proved in vain when the water now was found to be 10 feet deep. Then rescuers launched a rowboat and took the four of us ashore, one at a time across the swift current and passing ice cakes."

TEACHERS PRESENT

the schools. Mr. J. Reginald MacDonald stated he was not in favor of a strike but that he would abide by whatever decision the majority should make.

The following members of the Teachers' Federation were then appointed to wait upon the Government at the close of the meeting and to present their Brief and Salary Schedule: Mr. Pius Callaghan Miss Estelle Bowness, Mr. J. Reginald MacDonald, Miss Mabel Matheson, Miss Mildred Crosby, Miss Mary Callaghan, Mr. Warren McGuirk, Mrs. McKay, Mr. Davis Lidstone, Mr. E. J. MacDonald, Mr. Earl Jelly, Miss Bertha Doyle, Mr. Claude Wood, Miss Doris Ferguson Miss Jacqueline MacDonald, Mr. Beers, Miss Mildred Auld, Miss Leona Mosher, Miss Helen Gallant, Miss Mamie Mill.

Text of Brief

"To the members of the Executive Council of the Government of the Province of Prince Edward Island. Gentlemen:—

"We come before you to-day as a delegation representing the teachers of Prince Edward Island. Our problem is not a new one but one which has occupied the attention of previous Government Councils on many occasions. The last representative to come before this worthy council met with some measure of success, but that measure was, in the minds of the teachers of this province, far from adequate. Fully realizing this, the Teachers' Federation has delegated us as their representatives to impress upon you the justice of our present claims.

"Firstly, we firmly believe that we belong to one of the grandest professions—a profession which has the privilege of moulding the character and instructing the youth of this province. The teachers have received the training necessary, as specified by the Government of this Province and are willing and anxious to take additional training which will make them better teachers provided some salary enticement is offered. As such persons, they are specialists in a field which barring religious training, ranks second to none. That the teachers are not satisfied was clearly shown by the mass exodus to other positions in the commercial world. The very fact that the freezing order was originated proved convincingly this fact. Why then, did such an event take place? You, Gentlemen, undoubtedly, are as familiar with the answer as we. Was it not that trained teachers were forced by financial need, to leave the work for which they were expressly trained and accept employment in industry, as unskilled persons, but nevertheless with greatly augmented remuneration. Let us not try to avoid the true facts. Enlistments for the armed services did not put our system in its present plight. Men did not represent a very large percentage of our number and even when they did leave for service, their position could easily have been occupied by competent ladies, providing the salary inducement was sufficiently strong.

"We are convinced that a great injustice has been done many members of the teaching profession by the freezing order which we mentioned earlier in our brief.

"Though a Dominion matter we are satisfied that it was done at the instigation of the nine Provincial Governments.

"Was it a proper reward for those who have given so faithfully many years to our profession? It seems to all teachers not only in Prince Edward Island, but across the Dominion, a slap in the face to a body which never yet has received proper consideration from those who employ them. To hold a person at a position with insufficient pay rather than allow them an opportunity for a financial "break"—the first in their lives—proved a good government joke—with the teacher again being the subject of the laugh.

"It is rather amusing to us as teachers to see how serious at times everybody seems to take this important topic of education. Volumes are written in our public press, the profession is set on a lofty mantle, and the time seems to have arrived when the populace have realized the teacher's worth. The result is amazing—the same old statutory minimum which after a life time cannot get by $775.

"It is almost inconceivable to think that after discussing educational problems, the teacher's side is never bettered. To compare their wage with other professions, is as ridiculous as to compare the salary of your newsboy with that of the business manager who employs him. It surely is well past time when the absurdity of this question should be realized and a sensible and proper adjustment made.

"To insure a proper education for the children of the province especially those in the rural areas, it is necessary that proper provisions be made for the future. That proper and competent instruction be assured we must provide our children with qualified teachers. And how are we ever going to accomplish this with our present salary set-up. To claim that we will continue to provide, till eternity, teachers at the present salary, is something, we know is an impossibility.

"With you gentlemen rests the power to correct this evil. It indeed is a great problem and is certainly worthy of your most earnest consideration. You are the physicians — we are the patients—we appeal to you for better treatment.

"We submit herewith for your convenience this minimum guide to facilitate your immediate implementation of the need described herein.

Meeting With Government

The teachers' delegation was met by Hon M. R. McGuigan, Hon Horace Wright, Hon. G. H. Barbour, Hon William Hughes and Hon. T. W. L. Prowse.

After hearing the brief Hon Mr. Prowse called attention to the fact that the Government was faced with demands for increased wages in every department.

He added that neither the Government nor any member could give them an immediate answer, but that education will receive careful consideration. It must be realized that the program outlined in the brief would cost the province several thousand dollars.

Mr. McGuigan suggested that the secretary of the Federation might sound out the various districts on increased supplements. In the final analysis such increases to teachers would have to come from the districts.

Speaking for the teachers, Mr. Beers stated that laborers could better afford to send their children to Prince of Wales College than could rural teachers Miss Jacqueline MacDonald stated one of the needs was to keep the matured teachers on the job and pay them decent salaries to stay. "We are making the people you will have to deal with in after years," she said.

Transvaal To Feed Children At School

PRETORIA, April 12 — (CP) — The Transvaal provincial administration has informed the government that it is prepared to undertake the feeding of African school children provided that the necessary extra staff is made available. At present there are no facilities and since there are 175,000 African school children in 1,000 schools in the Transvaal a large organization will have to be set up.

There are five inspectors of African schools in the Transvaal and the administration is pressing for their number to be increased so that they can act as supervisors in the feeding scheme. A further handicap is the fact that most African schools have no school committees such as those which have helped to create the feeding scheme for European children. Some mission bodies have indicated their willingness to undertake the responsibility of accounting for the money which must be spent on the scheme.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!
Pepless Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.
The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong, yet—you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, dopey, tired and pepless.
Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.
Get Dr. Williams Pink Pills today. They are world-noted for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams Pink Pills today.

In Memoriam

MRS. R. W. YOUNKER

Seldom has any community been more deeply moved with sorrow than were the residents of Winsloe and her many friends elsewhere when a message came that Mrs R.W. Younker had passed away on Saturday evening, March 25th at the Prince Edward Island Hospital where she had undergone a serious operation that morning. Mrs. Younker had been in failing health for sometime but her condition was not regarded serious until a few weeks previous to her death.

She was the only daughter of the late James Clark and his wife Susan Easton Clark of North Wiltshire, where she was born December 23, 1887.

Millie, as she was known to all, had a very cheerful disposition and her ever ready smile of welcome made for her many lasting friendships. But it is in the home that her loss is most keenly felt, as those who knew her best, loved her most. An ardent lover of flowers, she spent many hours each day in her garden, which was ever a profusion of bloom. She is survived by her husband, one son, Stanley at Winsloe, and three daughters, Helen (Mrs. Stanley Shaw) Winsloe; Joyce (Mrs. Ivan Ford), North Milton and Alice (Mrs. Dale Proude) Milton. The youngest of the family, Harvey, predeceased her in 1929 at the age of 3 years. There are also left to mourn six grandsons and one granddaughter, and two brothers, Russell Clark, Beechy Sask., and Nelson Clark, Simpson, Sask.

Her funeral, which was very largely attended despite the weather and roads, was held at North Winsloe United Church on Tuesday afternoon, March 28th, the service being conducted by her pastor the Rev. T. Constable, assisted by the Rev. J.R. Skinner a former pastor of Winsloe, now of Cornwall and the Rev. A.E. Todd, North River. The hymns beautifully sung by the choir were selected by the deceased "Does Jesus Care," "A Home Over There," and at the grave, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." There were many floral tributes bearing their silent messages of respect for the departed and sympathy for the bereaved.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Robert MacLeod who passed away April 14 1943.

If all the world were ours to give
We'd give it, yes and more,
To clasp the hand of father
And hear him speak once more.
If you have a father,
Treasure him with care,
For you never know his value
Till you see his vacant chair.

Ever Remembered by Wife and Family.
