MARRIED IN SOUTH AFRICA—The Daily Mail, Johannesburg, South Africa, August 10th, has the announcement of a brilliant wedding taking place in St. George's Church, Park Town. Jarvis Palmer of Johannesburg, S. A. The ceremony was performed by the Right Rev. the Bishop of Johannesburg, and assisted by the Vicar of St. George's. Mr. H. MURPHY-DUFFY—St. Malachia's Church, Kinkora, was the scene of a happy event on August 6th, 1925, when Mr. Daniel Murphy, an enterprising young farmer of Freetown, was united in marriage to Miss Lena M. Duffy, R. N., one of Kinkora's most popular and highly esteemed young ladies. The bride in an elegant dress of French Beige with hat to match was attended by Miss Pearl Murphy, while Mr. Percy Murphy, of Middletown, supported the groom. After the marriage ceremony, which was performed by Rev. M. J. Smith, the happy couple accompanied by their brothers and sisters enjoyed a delicious dinner at the home of the bride. In the afternoon the wedding party motored through the eastern part of the Island, returning in the evening to their future home in Freetown. All join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Murphy a happy and successful voyage through life.

Johnny Nemis Wins In Second

PORT ELGIN, Sept. 23—Johnny Nemis of Cape Breton scored a technical knockout over Young Herd in the second round of a scheduled ten round bout staged here Saturday night before a large crowd of fight fans gathered from all over the county. Joey Mack was advertised to appear against Nemis in the feature bout of the card but he failed to put in an appearance and sent Young Herd, of Sanford, Me., in his place. The scrap was good while it lasted but the Nova Scotian, and the towel was thrown into the ring in the second round.

In the semi-final Dujay won a judge's decision over Crawford after four rounds of furious fighting, while in the first preliminary McDonald defeated White, and in the second preliminary LeBlanc was awarded the decision over Beck.

All the bouts were well staged and although the main event was brief the customers seemed well satisfied with the good boxing exhibition. Frank Taylor, Moncton, refereed the main bout.

It was announced that Joe Irvine, Saint John, will fight Nemis here on Saturday, October 12, and Bud Jardine, Springhill, issued a challenge to Claud McKinnon, of Sackville.

P. E. I. PROTESTANT ORPHANAGE REVIEW

Time has been passing and the work of the Orphanage has been steadily advancing.

During the last few months the Adoption Committee has been busier than ever before, and today we are caring for, perhaps, the largest number of children in our history.

This condition can scarcely be attributed to hard times in the province for most have come to us through bereavement.

It is of course, openly stated that the Home is most excellently conducted and the children are much better cared for and their health more closely guarded than in the majority of private homes.

If this be true, is not the Orphanage doing its part well? But with the growth of the work, what about the means to carry on? It has been our privilege to extend grateful thanks to many thoughtful Friends and Societies, for kindness shown the children in the way of Outings. The latest is the Labor Union, through whose invitation many enjoyed an excellent day.

Now the Fall is almost here, and we are looking to our annual Fall collection, which usually opens about the first of November. This collection is the only appeal we make to the public and on it depends our success or failure for the year's balance sheet.

It is sincerely hoped the public generally as in the past will again carry us over.

There are also a number of persons who pledge to square up their pledges this fall. We would be pleased to receive your money and send you off the books.

Usually about this time there are many calls on a very generous public. In this respect as perhaps in no other in the Dominion, are there so many general calls for in many private individuals finance institutions for the benefit of their fellows, and in more the Governments do it in their own way.

After all, there is very little pleasure in having money; the real kick is felt either in the making or the spending of both, and many have found it difficult to give away wisely. A Miser is usually succeeded by a Spendthrift.

Our Orphanage is doing a good work in caring for unfortunate children; other institutions care for the adult, who has passed through the Child Stage, perhaps one of neglect. The Foundation of health and character is laid early.

You have visited the Home—what is your opinion of the care these children are getting? Have you a wish to adopt a child? There are many there to choose from, though in most cases the child chooses and you agree.

We begin a home—the child completes it. When ambition slacks—they fire it. When we would stray—they call us back. They are an anchor that holds through many storms and our sympathies go out to the stranded child.

Are we doing our full part for those unfortunates whose very lives depend on us?

FOG-AUTO MENACE FOUND

With the increasing number of automobiles, London fogs are found to be more dangerous than ever. Dr. John S. Owens declares that a test of fog near Whitehill recently revealed that it contained carbon monoxide—a natural gas-sulphuric acid and tar irritants. The carbon monoxide gas is believed to have come from exhausts from the many automobiles.

GET OUT AND GET UNDER

Abbies Football Practice This Evening Should See Big Turn-out.

There will be football practice for the Abbeys players this evening at 4.30 at the Prince of Wales College Grounds. All those who wish to play the game are asked to be on hand. This season the wearers of the red and black will endeavor to carry on the good work already achieved by the ball tossing aggregation. To buck through this undertaking will be a herculean task, but practice and the will to work, coupled with the necessary enthusiasm and love of the game, will no doubt prove one of the biggest assets in prestige and further glory for this city and the Island province in general.

The material is here, but lies dormant because of the lack of interest on the parts of fans and players alike. Therefore let's see a bang-up practice and an equally

Colorful Drama At Prince Edward

Fine shades of character drawing, against a colorful background and a story that is compelling and convincing, characterize "His Captive Woman," the first National picture now at the Prince Edward Theatre.

George Fitzmaurice, who produced and directed the film, has a reputation for color and romantic accomplishment in his pictures. And he has infused these plentifully into the dramatic tale of a girl hunted for murder, her sojourn on a desert island with the officer sent to bring her back, their rescue and return for trial.

Dorothy Mackail and Milton Sills play the leading roles. The island backgrounds, photographed in Hawaii, are especially attractive and those in the courtroom are graphic and effecting.

Donn Byrne wrote the original story called "Changeling," from which the film version was skillfully adapted. As a study in modern degeneration followed by regeneration, with the simple code of honor actuating an unimaginative and hard-boiled New York cop the reformation in the character of a typical dig-digger who has lost all illusions concerning men and life in general, it has few peers.

This is where the fine work of Fitzmaurice and the two principal players come into being. With a deep appreciation of dramatic values, even the rare moments of comedy, Fitzmaurice, once an artist with brush and canvas, has transferred his artistry to the greater screen. Sills, with his usual thoroughness, develops the policeman's character shrewdly. At first invincible in the face of feminine allurements, he falls gradually, largely because of the effects of propinquity and gratitude and the girl forgetting her past life finds the new birth in her soul, learning to respect and then to love the uncouth and forthright character of her captor.

It is pure entertainment gorgeously presented.

A Tonic—and a Mighty Fine Beverage!

The following quotation from an unalloyed testimonial bears witness to the remarkable health-building properties of Dr. Watson's Tonic Stout and Ale. Read it:

"I have tried Dr. Watson's Tonic Ale and I find it the best tonic I have ever taken. Please send me four packages of Tonic Ale and four packages of Stout."

A 7c package makes 8 gallons of this delicious, healthful and refreshing beverage. Since 1837 Dr. Watson's Tonic Stout and Ale has been popular in England.

Protection

"Protection," which opened today at the Capitol Theatre, is nothing if not exciting.

This Fox Film, a newspaper melodrama, makes even some of the Chicago front page gang feuds look mild and sugary. From beginning to end one frenzied struggle between the power of the press and that of the underworld, "Protection" sweeps on to a tremendous climax, which includes the bombing of the newspaper plant, and a surprise denouement. It's simply swell.

Robert Elliott, a newcomer to the screen, but one of Broadway's favorites, gives a splendid performance as a hard-boiled managing editor. Dorothy Burgess, cast as the rum
