MCGRAW "LITTLE NAPOLEON" OF BASEBALL DIES

Baseball World Mourns Loss of Colorful Figure—Former Giants

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Feb. 25.—John Joseph McGraw, pugacious "Little Napoleon" of many a baseball war, died peacefully in New Rochelle hospital today after a critical illness of 10 days.

Believed to be well on the road to recovery from a severe attack of uremic poisoning, the veteran sports leader suffered a sudden relapse Saturday night, slipping into a state of coma from which he never recovered, and died at 11:50 o'clock this morning.

The primary cause of death was the intestinal hemorrhage which caused his relapse. Contributing factors were cancer of the prostate gland and uremia. He would have been 61 on April 7.

At the bedside when the end came were Mrs. McGraw, Charles A. Stoneham, President of the New York Giants, and other friends and relatives.

Shock

McGraw's death came as a tremendous shock to baseball men. His life had been despaired of a week ago but the one-time truculent leader who piloted the Giants to 10 National League pennants and three world series triumphs during a managerial career that covered 30 years, rallied splendidly and high hopes for his complete recovery were held.

So desperately ill a week ago Saturday that the last rites of the Catholic Church were administered by Rev. Vincent DePaul Murry, pastor of St. Catherine's Church in Hephania where McGraw worshipped, the baseball warrior's condition took a turn for the better.

Intestinal Hemorrhage

At late as six o'clock Saturday night, McGraw seemed definitely on the upgrade and recovery nearly a matter of time. A little more than two hours later, however, came the intestinal hemorrhage which ultimately caused his death. Dr. Louis B. Chapman, the physician in charge, was hastily summoned as was Dr. Stuart C. Sanderson, chief surgeon of the hospital. There had been serious loss of blood and the sick man's pulse grew weaker and weaker.

Father Murry was summoned to the hospital and recited prayers at the dying man's bedside. Mrs. McGraw, called to the hospital a few minutes after her husband's lapse, maintained a constant vigil there until his death.

It was principally on the score of ill health that McGraw suddenly turned in his resignation as manager of the Giants in midseason of 1932 when the club was in last place.

"Little Napoleon"

John Joseph McGraw, of baseball fame, led behind a record of unprecedented and dynamic leadership when he retired from an active role in June, 1932, after 36 years as manager of New York Giants.

It was an ironic twist that McGraw left the Giants just where he had taken hold of them, as a disorganized band in July, 1902—in last place. The story of the rise and fall of their remarkable sports chiefdom of the old school, however, shows that he developed 10 National League pennants winners from 1904 to 1924, inclusive, that rarely was his club out of a contending position and that his blunt methods helped revolutionize the showmanship of the United States national game.

Third Baseman

McGraw was a brilliant third baseman, hard hitter and clever base runner in his playing days. He was a major leaguer at the age of 18. He started with a galaxy of famous old stars among them Hughie Jennings, Willie Keeler and Wilbert Robinson, on the Baltimore Oriole club that won National League pennants in 1904, 1905 and 1906.

At the age of only 23 he quit the playing end of the sport to accept a mid-season offer to manage the Giants in 1902 and thereafter devoted his entire time to the construction of pennant fighting outfits.

Conspectus

Although his championship of the Giants was only three world series in 1905 and thereafter he devoted his entire time to the construction of pennant fighting outfits.

International Sailing Races May Be Resumed

NEWPORT, R. I., Feb. 25.—Plans for a resumption of the Gloucester fishermen's sailing rivalry between Canada and the United States were in the tentative stage tonight. If they carry through it would mean two international sailing contests would come to this Rhode Island seaport next summer.

The ambitious programme was discussed at weekend conferences between fishermen and Captain Ben Pine, famous racing skipper of the Gertrude L. Thebaud, which once defeated the Lunenburg veteran Bluenose in an exhibition race off Gloucester, but later was soundly beaten by the Prince of Maritime Canada off Halifax in a series for the North Atlantic championship, held by Bluenose since 1921.

A race between T. O. Sopwith's British challenger, The Endeavor, and a defender of the America's Cup yet to be selected, is already on the cards for next September, and plans discussed today and last night are carried through the Canadian champion Bluenose of Lunenburg, N. S., and the Gloucester schooner Thebaud will also fight it out for International Fishermen's sailing honors in local waters.

Captain Pine was summoned to Newport by Dr. Horace Beck, chairman of the Newport Regatta Committee. In addition to Dr. Beck, those attending the conference included Mayor Mortimer A. Sullivan, Albert H. Hays, President of the Chamber of Commerce; C. L. Tallman, chairman of the City's Finance Committee; Dr. F. A. Corbett of the Regatta Committee; J. C. O'Rourke of the Gloucester Commerce and Captain John Mack, one of the delegation of New England fishing skippers who sailed Thebaud to Washington last spring seeking federal aid for the fisheries.

Before definite arrangements are made to hold a fishermen's race off the International Race Committee of Gloucester will be consulted to determine if that city would have any objection to holding the North Atlantic classic away from the Gloucester schooner's home waters. All arrangements for the International Fishermen's Trophy have been sailed either off Gloucester or off Halifax, N. S., and the Gloucester schooner would be the nearest thing to date to holding a race in neutral waters.

Tentative plans are to have the two fishing schooners race a week after the America's Cup race. If convenient for the owners of the Cup yacht, the Regatta Committee hopes to arrange a novel post-schedule contest, with the crew of the British challenger sailing Bluenose and the crew of the American defender sailing Thebaud. Such a novelty contest would furnish a novel American and British seamanship never before met.

Thebaud won in her first meeting with Captain Angus Walters' Bluenose, but she was defeated by Bluenose's second crew, but Bluenose took Thebaud's measure when they next met, in an official race off Halifax.

Cunningham Sets World Mark For 1,500 Metres

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—A new world record for 1,500 metres has been established today by Glen Cunningham of the University of Kansas.

The powerful striding Westerner hung up the new mark at the United States indoor track and field championships contested before 14,000 fans here Saturday night before he was able to defeat Bill Bontrouth, Princeton's star runner.

The Cunningham-Bontrouth duel was a climax to a spectacular evening of sport which saw four world records broken and one equalled.

The margin was as close as it was in the Baxter mile at the New York Athletic Club a week previous. Cunningham, the time, 4:48.44, was a narrow margin, equalled his own world record of 6:12.00 in the dash as he won off by himself and coasting.

Their grilling duel, with Gene Venkski, of Pennsylvania chasing them behind, ended in a tie for the final period to a night of record-breaking which saw the standards falling in the running broad jump, the 5,000-metre steeplechase, the 100 metres walk and the 60-metre dash time equalled.

Jesse Owens, former Cleveland school boy and now a freshman at Ohio State, pulled the 100-metre record out to 26 feet 3/4 inches. Joe McQuinn, former Fordham great and Olympian, lowered his own steeplechase record eight minutes and 50 seconds and Charles Reardon, back of the New York Athletic Club heeled and took his way through the walk to a new time of six minutes and 4.8 seconds. Ralph H. Johnson, a quiet Negro sprinter, equalled his own world record of 6:12.00 in the dash as he won off by himself and coasting.

Rangers Take First Game From Rovers

Accurate long range sniping forwards that back-checked their opponents today for the greater part of two periods, and a nonchalant goalie who blocked every business shot, were the main reasons for the Rangers' victory over the Rovers in their first game of the season.

YOUTH WINS SKI TITLE

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

THREE RIVERS, Que., Feb. 25.—Percy "Funch" Bot, youngest member of the Montreal Ski Club, today won the Canadian ski jumping title in the 1934 Dominion championships held in this district during the week-end.

Bot, who is 18 years of age, jumped 121 feet on his first descent of the chute and then soared through the air for 130 feet on his second try.

Executive of the Montreal Ski Club, Montreal, was second and Stanley Dufresne, Three Rivers Ski Club, third. Olie Bakkelund, Temiskaming, Ont., Ski Club, finished fourth.

Earl Bedevick successfully defended his combined title by taking the event with 428.7 points as a result of coming second in the jumping and eighth in the cross-country. W. G. "Bud" Clark, of St. Patrick's College, Ottawa, was second and Art Gravel, of the Montreal Ski Club, third.

FRENCH TEAM LOSE TO AMERICAN PAIR

BOSTON, Feb. 25.—The American professional tennis team of Bill Tilden and Ellsworth Vines continued their triumphant tour today after turning back their French rivals Henri Cochet and Martin Panja in straight sets in two singles matches at Boston Garden Saturday night. A crowd of 6,713 paid $14.75 to see Tilden, the old champion, defeat Cochet, his French rival of years standing, 10-4, 6-2, 7-5 after Vines had topped Pias 6-3, 6-5, 8-4.

Timely Tips On Sport

Sunday morning at 6 o'clock the hockey boys who have been ill returned by train to Charlottetown. They left Halifax at 8 o'clock being 23 hours on the way. Gulliver and Ferguson were in Victoria General Hospital for over a week and experienced the greatest kindness while patients there. Joey Beaton was at his home in Lunenburg, near New Glasgow. They are all pretty well shaken down from the illness but expect to be back in good shape the latter part of the week. Hymie McArthur is also rapidly improving.

The Abbies leave for Halifax Tuesday morning for their game, the first of a two out of three series play offs with the Wolverines. Several hockey enthusiasts will accompany the team and it is also expected that twelve curiers will go along to compete with Haligon curiers.

Johnny Dugan, a referee who has been engaged to toot the whistle in the Wolverines-Abbies and other finals in the Maritime playoffs will arrive at Amherst tomorrow and from there will go on to Halifax under orders of Pres. J. A. Hanway. Referee Dugan has wide experience and is a referee and last year was chosen as arbiter in the series between Moncton Hawks and Niagara Cataracts at Toronto.

Application has been made to London to have excursions with cheap rates for Friday night's saddle horse betwixt Wolves and Abbies and it is expected that this will be granted. There is a lot of interest being taken in this play off series and many have been holding back waiting for it. It is a pretty sure bet that an excursion will have a patronage far exceeding those previously given. The Wolverines game with a possibility of the road leading to the Allan Cup opens attractions for the furnishing of hockey excitement far superior to anything previously offered this season.

Abbie Intermediates, down three goals to Montague Primebros take on the Eastern team tonight in the second game of their two game series, leading to the Island Intermediate title.

The locals while not underrating their rivals say they will overcome the big lead and earn the right to meet Bedouin Beavers. And if determination means anything the visiting Primebros are surely in for a tough 60 minutes tonight.

The tilt is scheduled for the Forum at 8 p. m. sharp.

Previous to this game the Euston Street Wildcaes take on the Stovest Street Ramblers in a Midget
