HERR HITLER — A CHARACTER STUDY

Herr Hitler is so color blind,
What he sees white is black,
What he thinks is a hole in the wall
Is wall and hits him back.

So strangely he's constructed,
His back is at his face,
And when he stand upon his feet,
His head is at the base.

And then he has such queer thoughts,
What he thinks truth is lie,
And when we tell him he is wrong
He forthwith starts to cry.

He has so many mental twists,
I will recount another,
He thinks an Aryan is so high
He will tolerate no other.

He thought he had the world so scared,
That none would dare to fight;
But what a panic hit his breast
When faced by a lied might.

T'would seem he got a fearful fright,
That day at Munich Hall;
While shout he would each day before,
Not now he shouts at all.

Now Mr. Hitler take a hunch
And try and please be good
Or you will be with Kaiser Bill
At the woodpile sawing wood

Freetown And Vicinity

An event of great interest to many in this district and throughout the province was solemnized at St. Mary's Church, Cambridge, on December 28, 1939, when Catherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Cash, Graham's Road, was united in marriage to Austin Francis Callaghan of Framingham, Mass. Mr. Callaghan is a son of Mr. W. P. Callaghan, Summerside. The marriage ceremony was performed by Monsignor Hickey who also celebrated the Nuptial Mass.

The bride was beautifully attired in Aqua dress of street length and wore a corsage of orchids. She was attended by her sister Mrs. Leo Cullen. The groom was supported by his brother-in-law, Mr. Donald Mundy. After receiving showers of good wishes from a number of friends and relatives present the happy couple motored to the home of the bride where a delightful wedding breakfast was served. Among those present was the bride's sister, Mrs. Leonard J. McCarville of Freetown. She was beautifully gowned in fuschia tint with matching accessories and wore a corsage of roses. The happy couple left by boat on a honeymoon trip to New York and Pennsylvania where they were the guests of the brdie's uncle, Mr. Joseph Harding. Upon their return they will reside in Framingham, Mass., where the groom is an enterprising fox dealer. Miss Cash has been in the employ of the John Hancock Insurance Co., for the past nineteen years. Previous to her marriage she was tendered many showers at which she was the recipient of some very lovely gifts.

Their many friends here join in wishing them many happy years of wedded bliss.

Miss Mary Matheson spent the week end in Charlottetown, the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Malcolm Matheson Hillcrest Ave.

Mr. Joseph Croken has returned from visiting his brother, Rev. Harold Croken, the Brae.

Mr. Austin Scales was a recent visitor to Halifax.

Mrs. James Luttrell and son Francis and Miss Reta Ellsworth have returned to their home in Kensington after visiting in Freetown.

Friends of Miss Anna Stetson are glad to know that she was able to return home last week from the P. E. I. Hospital where she was a patient for some time. All wish her a speedy recovery.

Miss Emma Reeves was a visitor to Summerside on Saturday.

Mrs. Stanley Biggar and young son of Stanley Bridge, are visiting Mrs. Biggar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Drummond.

Several of the younger children of this community have been laid aside with what seems to be a mild type of influenza. All hope it has reached its climax.

Mrs. Charles Biggar, Stanley Bridge, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Andrews, Norboro.

Despite the inclement weather, there was a goodly number out to hear Rev. Mr. Fraser who conducted the Baptist Church Service on Sunday last.

Mr. Peter Perry and bride returned on Monday from Tignish where several parties were held in their honor. Their many friends in Freetown and elsewhere join in wishing them many years of wedded life together.

Mrs. Olive Wright left recently on an extended visit to Montreal. The best wishes of all go with her.

Freetown young people are invited to meet with Miss Enid Lewis this week. The young people are busy making preparations for a variety concert to be held in the near future in aid of the new horse shed which was erected late last fall.

Gleanings of Tryon and Vicinities

The youth and beauty of Tryon have been enjoying themselves very much for the past month or so on the open air rink on Tryon Pond. A large sheet of ice has been cleaned off for skating and all the young pople of Tryon and the surrounding communities of Crapaud, Hampton, Victoria, Augustine Cove, Albany, and North Tryon are in regular attendance. Mr. Heath Howatt has very generously donated a small building equipped with a stove and seats for changing boots. Mr. True Gillis has a busy job on his hands keeping the snow cleared off and is hoping the weather man will not send too bountiful a supply of snow. Another enterprising citizen, Mr. Brenton Carr has opened a canteen in his house nearby and is doing a thriving business.

Mr. Clayton Thomas of Tryon, was a visitor to Bedeque on Saturday evening.

His many friends in Tryon regret to learn of the illness of William Hennessey of Charlottetown of the 6th District Signals, who is now a patient in the Military Hospital, Halifax. Everyone wishes for his speedy recovery.

Miss Jessie Leard teacher in Hampton, P. E. I. spent the week end at her home in Tryon.

Rev. and Mrs. Trites of the Tryon Baptist Church are visiting relatives in Hantsport, N. S.

Mr. Norman Lord of Edmonton, Alta., has returned after spending a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lord of North Tryon. After an absence of Seventeen years he enjoyed getting back to old P. E. Island and hopes to come sometime soon again. Mr. Lord now holds a position with the Greyhound Bus Company.

His many friends are sorrow to know Mr. Hamilton Leard of Tryon, has been confined to his home for the past two weeks and hope to see him out soon again.

Mrs. Keith Thomas has returned home after a pleasant stay with relatives in Summerside.

Miss Jessie Martin of Crapaud, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Heath Howatt in Tryon.

Friends of Mrs. Manson MacNeill will be glad to know she is recovering after her recent illness.

Master Lyman Harvey of Crapaud spent the week-end in Tryon at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rozerson.

Mr. Bertram Cameron of Hampton, was a recent visitor to Tryon.

Mr. and Mrs. William MacDonald, of Rose Valley are receiving the congratulations of their friends on the birth of a bonnie wee lassie. Mrs. MacDonald was formerly Miss Edith Boulter of Albany.

Master Douglas MacLeod, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon MacLeod of Albany is now a patient in the Prince County Hospital, where he is quite seriously ill. We hope for his complete recovery.

Mr. John William Howatt, of Cape Traverse, an elderly citizen of that community passed away at his home there on Tuesday, Jan. 30th. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to his sorrowing family.

On Monday evening last, the young hearts of Tryon rallied to the strains of music which beckoned from Tryon West at the home of Mrs. Howatt Leard, where a dance was held, all had a wonderful time and hope to go soon again.

Mr. Lloyd Howatt of the S. S. Charlottetown spent last week-end at his home in North Tryon.

Friends will hear with regret that Mr. Vance Dixon of North Tryon, is still laid up with a infection in his hands. We hope to see him about again as usual soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bell of Tryon, are visiting relatives in Summerside, Bedeque, and Cape Traverse.

A BUG FULL OF TRICKS

Dr. J. Lewis Moorman, in the Oklahome Medical Association Journal calls the bacillus tuberculosis, subtle, evasive, paradoxical, intricate and complex." He says that this microscopical parasite is "A bug full of tricks."

There was knowledge of tuberculosis at least 2000 years before Christ. The clinical features of the disease were known by Greek writers in the fifth century B.C., while in the second century Aretaeus not only described the clinical features but suggested routine treatment. All down through the ages there are references to the problem in medical writings, the first post mortem report of military tuberculosis being given by Manget in 1700.

The tuberculosis death rate reached its highest point in the middle of the 18th century. Auenbrugger, the inventor of percussion, described this means of diagnosis in 1761. Late in this century Whytt described tuberculous moningitis and Pott tuberculous destruction of the spine. It was not until 1816 that Potit described laryngeal tuberculosis. Baillie and Stark, working in the post mortem room of the famous John Hunter, are said to have died of tuberculosis gained from wounds infected in the morgue.

In the 19th century there were notable advances: Laennec, the inventor of the stethoscope, drew up a minute history of 400 cases. A great scientific awakening came in the 19th century. In 1865 Villemin discovered the specific nature of tuberculosis by means of inoculation. Gerlach in 1870 proved that milk from tuberculous cows may convey the disease and in 1882 Koch discovered the "bug of tricks." Trudeau, Dettweillor and other pioneers in sanatorium care just before this time and in a short while Forlanini introduced pneumotherax treatment. The evolution of tuberculosis has traversed about 4000 years. It remains the greatest killer of men during the most useful period of his life, but discovered early it is readily cured.

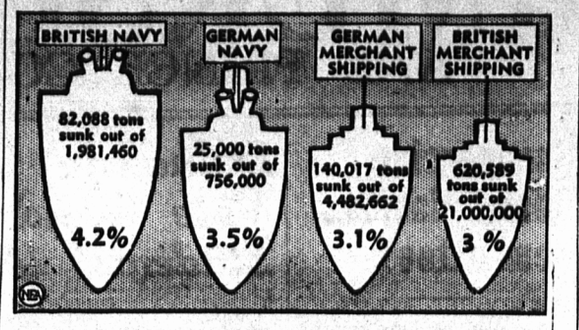
How German Losses Balance British



Although Great Britain has been the heaviest loser numerically in the war at sea, she has lost but 3 per cent of her combined total naval and merchant tonnage. Germany has lost an equal percentage of her smaller combined totals through the scuttling of the Admiral Graf Spee and commerce vessels and the reported sinkings of 35 submarines by allies.

WINTER

Way o'er the hills the sun is sinking fast,
The cooling air is filled with feathery flakes
The storm is breaking in a blast
And curving snow-drifts shapes.

Where are the days of summer drought and heat?
Where are the rippling pools so gay?
All lost and gone 'mid showers of falling sleet
Or radiant gleams of ice and sunbeam ray.

—E.A.B.

As the first month of the year 1940 falls dimly in the background February comes to us as the coldest month of the winter season. Although the cars ran through this vicinity the past month, if heavy snow falls occur in February "The one horse sleigh" will be the only method of travel.
