BUILDING FOR YEAR TO DATE 13 PER CENT AHEAD OF LAST YEAR.

The total awards for Canadian construction for the month of November, according to MacLean Building Reports Limited, were $1,632,300 compared with $30,075,100 in October and $21,453,900 in November 1922. Residential building accounted for 42.8% of the November total amounting to $692,700. Business building amounted to $2,834,900 or 18.1%. Industrial building $733,400 or 47% and Public Work and Utilities $6,371,200 or 34.4%. The activity was distributed among the groups as follows: Ontario 47.1%, Quebec 39.2%, Western 10.5%, and Maritime 3.1%.

Construction awards for the year to date amounted to $2,746,300 compared with 259,371 for during the corresponding period of last year, and increase of 12.5%. During this period residential building shows a falling off of 6.6% compared with last year, but continues as the most active type of construction, while business, industrial and public work and utilities show increase of 3.1%, 12.4% and 53.1%, respectively over the same period. The activity was distributed among the groups as follows: Ontario 48.5%, Quebec 33.4%, Western 15.2%, Maritime 2.9%. The Maritime and Western sections are the only divisions to display less activity than last year. There is no ground for pessimism in so far as the business outlook is concerned. Canada's position is fundamentally sound and the course of business is distinctly on the upgrade. The architectural community, which has borne the brunt of post-war adjustment and deflation, is now in a much more healthy position as a result of this year's bumper crop. The influence of this improvement will be far reaching, for practically every line of business in Canada closely allied or dependent upon agriculture. Leading industries have experienced a fairly profitable season. Labor has been well employed. Weekly bank clearings testify to heavier movements of goods. Railway earnings appear to better advantage. In some spots business is poor but regarded as a whole, conditions warrant constructive policies. It is evident that 1924 will witness considerable building activity—probably involving an expenditure of three hundred million dollars in the construction field. Much speculative building activity has been eliminated in favor of investment buildings and other high-class structures, while considerable activity may be expected in the engineering field. Building material prices and the labor situation seem to be fairly stable and it is expected that in 1924 there will only be a slight recession in building costs.
