The Guardian has received a communication too late for publication in this issue in which complaint is made of the condition of Grafton St. from the Railway crossing to Hillsboro Bridge. The writer would call the attention of the Street Committee to this section of street.

At the special Evangelistic service in the Central Christian Church last evening, a large congregation assembled, and Rev. J. F. Floyd preached a powerful sermon on the subject "How to come to Christ." Mrs. J. S. Floyd sang very nicely two solos. At the close of the sermon, one young lady made the good confession. Mr. Floyd announced that the special meetings would be continued all through this week, the meetings to begin at 8 o'clock.

There is no more important gathering in the city that the boys meeting which meets at the Y. M. C. A. at 10 o'clock in the morning. The earnestness of the fellows who attend and the depth of thought expressed in the topics discussed are worthy of the attention of any man. At the meeting yesterday morning the topic was "Pan the Flame." A most scholarly and earnest address was given by one of the students, Don A. McLean. The music is strong and such as appeals to every boy of manly desires. Each Sunday the topic is discussed by some one of these younger young men. Mr. McLean yesterday urged the young men to make the most of themselves. The flame which is love, and is placed in us is the one which we are to fan. He said we should cultivate this gift of God and make of ourselves the strongest type of manhood by fanning the flame of noble Christian principle. This meeting is of importance to every boy in the city and should be a gathering which should increase each week.
