To Farador Users Of P. E. Island

And All Who Desire to Help Suffering Humanity

Dear Friends:—Twenty years have just passed since the Farador was introduced into this province, and I desire to thank all friends, known and unknown, who by their kindly advice have helped the spread of this form of drugless healing.

In order to win its way the Farador had to face much prejudice and skepticism, but it won out by its actual merit, and will continue to do so in so far as people will avail themselves of it.

I will remember the first cure effected by its means on this Island. An elderly woman was left quite helpless from two strokes of paralysis. She had no use of her arms and was speechless, and had been in that condition for more than four months. In less than a week after commencing to use the Farador, she was almost as well as ever—able to speak clearly and do all her own work. She lived for six years after her recovery.

With the said splendid start, the Farador made rapid headway and hundreds of cures have taken place since then, practically all of them being cases that failed to respond to other forms of treatment.

The Farador, of course, has its limitations. There will be times when it must fail, but it has succeeded so often in grave cases of illness as to win the admiration of all right thinking people.

I would be glad if all owners of Faradors would bring them to me occasionally in order to have them tested and any needed adjustment made to the cords.

With best wishes for the New Year, I remain

Yours for health,
W. EDGAR ENMAN,
Farador Representative,
283 Sydney St., Charlottetown.

U. S. Policy Causes Sensation

LONDON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—United States invocation of the Nine Power and Kellogg treaties in the Manchurian situation was treated as the day's sensation by the London morning newspapers. "Grave United States step against Japan's Manchurian Policy," was the headline over the account of the action in the Daily Express, with a sub-head, "Stern Note to Tokyo."

"U. S. puts Japan on trial," headlined the Daily Herald. "Dramatic Development" and "Grave Change in Situation" read the headlines in the Daily Mail, which said "the direct nature on the United States challenge is in contrast with the dilatoriness of the League of Nations."

The agreement has been temporarily delayed. Hon. H. H. Stevens, Canadian Minister of Trade and Commerce, and accompanying tariff experts, were booked to leave for home yesterday but their departure has been postponed.

The trouble is understood to pivot around the amount of preferential duty that Canada is willing to accord New Zealand butter. The preference on Australian butter is three cents and Canada is agreeable to give the same advantage to the product from New Zealand. Indications are that the New Zealanders want a slightly greater concession in return for trading advantages on a variety of products which the country can import from Canada.

Mr. Stevens takes the stand, however, that the preference given Australian butter can not be exceeded. The importance of the Canadian dairy industry is not being overlooked by the Minister of Trade and Commerce, who is keeping the interest of the Canadian dairy farmers in view while at the same time trying to secure wider markets for a variety of Canadian products.

Trade Treaty Complications

VANCOUVER, B. C. Jan. 8.—A special cable to the province says: complications have developed in the Canadian-New Zealand Trade negotiations, and completion of

Want Direct Run Winnipeg To Quebec

(By Canadian Press)
COCHRANE, Ont., Jan. 8.—Cochrane Board of Trade yesterday made known a memorial would be presented to the Royal Commission on Transportation and Sir Henry Thornton, President of the Canadian National Railways, advocating the joint use for freight traffic of the old grand trunk Pacific Trans-Continental line from Winnipeg, Man., to the Atlantic seaboard via Quebec by both the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways.

At present during the navigation season on the Great Lakes a large amount of freight traffic is routed from Sioux Lookout, Ont., to Fort William and Port Arthur, Ont., where goods are transhipped to Lake vessels and conveyed eastward via the St. Lawrence Waterways system.

During the winter much freight is shipped from Winnipeg to Naking, Ont., Southwest to Capreol, Ont., and then Eastward through Pembroke and Ottawa to Montreal.
The use of the Northernmost of Canada's Transcontinental lines in the east would make for a more direct run from Winnipeg to Quebec. From Quebec onward traffic would follow the usual routes.

Bomb Explodes Near Emperor

CULL POTATOES FOR COWS

Raw cull potatoes can be used to advantage as a succulent feed in reducing costs of the dairy ration but 25 to 30 pounds daily is the maximum amount that should be fed to a cow, advises K. S. Morrow, associate extension service dairyman of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, in addressing dairy farmers who have supplies of cull potatoes on hand.

Although comparatively little experimental work has been done to determine the value of potatoes as a dairy feed, the experiences of dairymen have proved that too heavy an allowance of potatoes will impart an objectionable flavor to the milk. Butter from cows fed potatoes has been found to be ratty in body. Feed potatoes after rather than before milking.

White potatoes contain only slightly less dry matter than corn silage, but feeding trials have demonstrated that the dry matter of silage is superior to that of potatoes. Sweet potatoes, more nutritious than white potatoes but less valuable as a dairy feed than silage, should be fed in amounts not exceeding 25 to 30 pounds daily to each cow.

A man may be buried in thought and still be in a very shallow grave.
