NAME OF POST OFFICE SHOULD BE INCLUDED WHEN MAILING TO TROOPS STILL IN CANADA.

The incomplete addressing of mail intended for soldiers at training centres in Canada is the cause of numerous delays in delivery. Honorable William P. Mulock, K. C., Postmaster General, to obviate this situation, again requests the full co-operation of the public in writing out in full the correct and complete address on all military mail.

It is essential that the Post Office place-name should always be included in the addresses of mail posted to soldiers still in Canada because their mail is handled by the civil post offices and not by the Army Postal Service. The omission of the "name of place where the soldier is located" has resulted in many such letters and parcels being forwarded to the Base Post Office, where it is found that the Units named in the address are still in Canada. The resultant delay thus caused, and the extra work thrown upon the Canadian Postal Corps in locating the addressee of this mail would be entirely eliminated if the rules of correct addressing are observed.

Mail for Delivery in Canada should be addressed with the usual complete particulars—Regimental Number, Rank and Name, name and details of Unit (i. e., Company or Section, Squadron, Battery, Holding Unit, etc.) and Name of Regiment or branch of the service, in full, and the name of the Post Office where the soldier's unit is located.

Mail for Delivery Overseas should bear the Regimental Number, Rank and Name of soldier, Name and Details of Unit, (i. e., Company or Section, Squadron, Battery, Holding Unit, etc.) and Name of Regiment or branch of the service in full—and the words Canadian Army Overseas, but no place-name should be given.

All letters should be fully prepaid, and a return address should be given in the upper left-hand corner.
