Beatty and Others Threaten Resignation Over Singapore Base Proposals.

The House is preparing to debate the question next week during the discussion on the naval estimates. If the government is determined to give up the Singapore base, it is probable that they can probably carry their point in the House with Liberal support but their strategists fear the effect upon public opinion of an admiralty revolt headed by so popular a figure as Beatty.

The question now arises, will the Abbie net, eating up rebounds and so early moments of the period.
