MARRIED MEN, 6; SINGLE MEN, 1

The married men proved too much for the unmarried species in a fast game of hockey at the Crystal rink on Friday evening, when they beat them 6 to 1 in their second tilt this season. Chick Gallant was the star player of the married team, making five of the 6 goals. Frank Woodside made the sixth. Harry Dickie scored the lone tally for the bachelors on a rebound from Dick Steele in the first period. This period ended 2-1.

The second period ended 4-1 for the married men. When half way through the third period, the bachelors in a desperate effort to overcome the 4-1 lead of their opponents, took their goalie out of the nets and played with all their efforts centred on the six forwards, an old trick of professional hockey players, but it failed to work, as while their net was unguarded Chick Gallant slipped in two goals making the score 6-1.

The lineups follow:

Married Men—Goal, Peters; defence, Grady and Lea; forwards, Chick Gallant, D. Gallant, Woodside, C. Perry, H. Perry, D. Arsenault.

Single Men—Goal, E. Arsenault; defence, M. Steele, Gauthier, Corrigan; forwards, Dickie, D. Steele, Phillips, Gay, J. Gallant, MacInnis.

of the pendulum" due to the falling-off in production over a period of abnormally low prices.

Credit Where Due

Mr. J. A. MacDonald: "I would ask the hon. leader of the Opposition if trade negotiations, taken on by the Dominion Government with overseas countries, did not enhance the price of bacon?"

Mr. Lea: "I think that supply and demand did that."

In the last Liberal year, he continued, there were 73 hogs at the Falconwood farm. The report of this year gives the number at 32, a reduction of 41. They had been killed, he maintained, "to swell the returns of Falconwood institution."

Mr. J. Howard MacDonald: "Were they sold alive or dead?"

Mr. Lea: "A good many were sold to the institutes, but why sell them at all?"

The young pigs, he maintained, should have been kept "to show the farmers how to make profits out of hogs," and to demonstrate on the Farm the policy the Department was asking the farmers to carry on.

Hon. Mr. Sharp: "Isn't it more or less seasonal?"

Mr. Lea: "They are both the same season. Each number is taken at Dec. 31."

Mr. Wigmore: "There was no market for them then. There is a market for them now."

Mr. Lea said that the Conservatives were then in power at Ottawa. Premier Bennett had promised to blast a way into world markets for the farmers."

Mr. Wigmore: "We are getting the results now."

Mr. Lea said the farmers had become disgusted and had gone out of the hog business. The Provincial Department, in depleting the herd at Falconwood, were "the greatest sinners that we have in this Province" in regard to the present hog situation.

With the increased purchasing power of the dollar, Mr. Lea maintained that all aids to agriculture, including exhibition grants, might have been cut 15 per cent without injuring anybody. Nevertheless, the grants to exhibitions have been increased. Valuable as exhibitions were, he did not approve of this increase at the present time.

Mr. Lea Corrected

Hon. Mr. Sharp: "The leader of the Opposition complains that no encouragement was given by this Government to increased hog production; that our farmers were not advised to continue the hog industry in sufficient time to profit by the present prices. I may say that last year, when large shipments were being purchased for distribution to encourage hog production in Newfoundland, our Department got severe criticism from some of the dealers in this Province because they strongly advised against the sale of pigs. That information was given to the people, because we believed we would get the results of the Imperial Conference when the bacon quota for export to Great Britain was so largely increased, over and above our present exports, and we knew that hog prices were bound to increase."

Swine Breeders Appreciated

"To show you that the work of this department was appreciated," continued Mr. Sharp, "I may tell my hon. friend that at a meeting of the directors of the Provincial Swine Breeders' Association, held in the city only yesterday, a strong resolution was passed commending the Department of Agriculture and the Provincial Government for their efforts in encouraging hog production, both as regards quality and quantity." (Loud applause).

Mr. Lea Again Corrected

Mr. Lea: "They were a little late."

Hon. Mr. Sharp: "That is not the opinion of the Provincial Swine Breeders from all over this Province, and of both political faiths. They were entirely at variance with the views expressed by the leader of the Opposition, and they commended our efforts in trying to increase hog production in order that advantage may be taken of the increased market in Great Britain, now open to us as a result of the success of the Bennett Government in negotiating the Empire Trade agreements at Ottawa." (Increased applause).

Continuing, Mr. Sharp explained that in regard to Falconwood farm, the hog production is a seasonal matter. The herd is being continued from year to year, a number being sold yearly and also supplied to the hospital. Sucker pigs are bought at different seasons of the year, and it is possible the number might vary, from one season to another, without in any way implying that the herd has been depleted.

Brains Vs. Brawn

Mr. J. A. Campbell (Fourth Kings) said if the Province is ever to get anywhere we must forget what has been done in the past and look forward to the future. It takes men of strength to exist under present conditions, and to forge ahead. In earlier times, physical strength was properly regarded with esteem. Men were recognized, not for the brain they possessed, but for their brawn. While it has been alleged in the House that the "brains" of the Island came from Prince County, it could be claimed, Mr. Campbell said, that perhaps the brawn and strength comes from Kings County. The ex-Minister of Public Works (Mr. McIntyre) was cited by Mr. Campbell as an example. There had been a contest last year for the best tug-of-war team in the Province. It was good to find the people taking such an interest in the sport of their forefathers, and Mr. Campbell was proud that a number of Kings County boys were instrumental in winning that great contest.

Mr. Lea: "They say the ex-Minister of Public Works was anchor man."

Mr. Campbell: "Yes; he was anchor man." (Applause).

Opposition Wanderings

Continuing, Mr. Campbell said some of the speakers last night had "wandered all over the universe" in discussing Prohibition. (Conservative applause). He did not propose to do so. Our greatest problem is to find export markets for our farm produce. What has the Government been doing to aid our farmers in this matter? A great many people claim we could get along without a Department of Agriculture because they feel that the department has not been functioning in the interests of the Province. It was all very well for a Minister to get up and tell us that hog prices have improved. This was due to a scarcity of hogs and not to the Department.

Mr. Campbell said he had attended some of the farmers' meetings, and had heard accusations being made. The potato growers claim that they would have received better prices if it was not for the "butting in" of some of the dealers. There has been a Commission appointed by the Federal Government to inquire into the difference in prices. What steps have the local Government taken to see that our potato marketing situation is inquired into? We have cattle clubs and other organizations, but the interests of the common farmer will never prosper until the marketing question has been solved. The farmers cannot be expected to be patriotic to any organization if they are not receiving a living wage for their products. He had heard it reported that in the potato industry, price cutting by unscrupulous dealers had practically ruined the association.

Mr. J. Howard MacDonald: "Is that true?"

Mr. Campbell: "That is the report." He maintained it was difficult to get information. This Government should have appointed a certain committee to make investigation in the interests of the farmers. There was a great antagonism between the dealers and the shipping associations. The Government should have appointed an outstanding farmer, such as the leader of the Opposition, to investigate.

Mr. Campbell also criticised the Premier for budgeting for a deficit, and the Conservative Government of 1923-27 for closing the Technical School.

The Highest Profession

Mr. J. Howard MacDonald said the last speaker, in mentioning higher education, had implied that when students cannot get degrees at the College they have to resort to the farm. There was not the proper attitude to adopt. Farming is the highest profession in the country, and children should be taught to look up to it as such. It is all right to get an education, but let the student return to the farm and utilize his knowledge along lines of practical agriculture.

Mr. Campbell said he was not objecting to education for farmers, but to the scarcity of opportunities that are presented after one goes to the expense of getting an education.

Mr. J. Howard MacDonald drew attention to the fact that after several hours of discussion on the Estimates, not one motion had been made that any of the estimates be changed.

Progress was reported on the Agricultural estimates.

At 1 p. m. the House adjourned, to meet at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon.

We extend a hearty welcome to the visiting teachers and invite them to make their social headquaters at

Construction — The Keystone Of Posperity

Mr. W. D. Black, Vice President and General Manager of Otis Fensom Elevator Co. Ltd, in a very illuminating address delivered before the Canadian Construction Association in Toronto took for his subject "Construction, the Joint in the Armour of Depression."

Mr. Black advanced the estimate of Dr. Donald Marvin, Economist of the Royal Bank, to the effect that delayed or accumulated building was proceeding at the rate of $100 to $150 million per annum and ventured the opinion that this was not a note of optimism but rather one of grave warning. Mr. Black is convinced that if this accumulation is permitted to continue the result will be another period of feverish production followed by an era of credit contraction, depression and unemployment. He is convinced that a vicious cycle of events is operating and if permitted to continue will inevitably again plunge industry into succeeding periods of deflation and distress.

It is obvious that the brick manufacturer is not slow to sense this situation. We believe that the construction industry must be put to work if Canada is to go off the dole. It may not be the time for industrial expansion but homes are needed. The wages of fire, depreciation and obsolescence have not been idle. Depression's doubling-up program has had its day. Confidence is creative but it can't create homes without brick, lumber and labor.

The L. E. Shaw Limited is attempting to do its bit in an advertising broadcast to start construction and stop unemployment.

We cannot afford to spend good money on advertising to fool the public—we have something genuine to offer. We invite your keen comment and shall heartily welcome your kind cooperation.

This Progressive Woman planned for her Income with an Imperial Pension Bond

Every woman ought to ask herself this question: "Since I cannot work all my life, what should I do about an Income for my later years?"

HERE is the answer. An Imperial Pension Bond will guarantee to pay you a certain definite income every month after you reach the age you want it to commence.

For instance, a $50 a month Pension Bond to commence at age 60 would give you $50 plus profits every month as long as you live. This income would be paid for at least 10 years even should you not live that long.

Should you not live to age 60 the Bond would pay your beneficiaries all the money you had paid in plus profits.

Any time after three years you could withdraw the full surrender value plus profits or a monthly income payable as long as you live.

No medical examination is required to secure an Imperial Pension Bond.
