Islanders In California

(By R. E. Delaney, M. D., in Oakland Maple Leaf)

All the enterprising men of Charlottetown, P. E. I., are not exhausted. I found one enjoying prosperity in Ocean Park. He is William A. Simons. He has been 22 years in the Golden State, and lived in Denver, Colo., 25 years. He is a builder and contractor. He keeps a first class apartment house of his own in Ocean Park. His wife is a native of Montana. They have one son and one daughter.

George V. MacKinnon of San Pedro, who hails from St. George, P. E. I., is an old subscriber of The Maple Leaf. His wife is a native of California. Mr. MacKinnon is foreman for the Hammond Lumber Co. in San Pedro, and is about 30 years in the Golden State. He has two sons and two daughters. He has two brothers. One, Joseph MacKinnon, lives in San Francisco. The other, A. D. MacKinnon, in Oakland. One sister, Mrs. J. T. Stanton, lives in San Francisco.

Mrs. Annie Taylor, a native of Grand River, P. E. I., lives in the city of Eureka. Her maiden name was Annia Cantelo. They have been 38 years in California. Their family consists of three sons and one daughter. Mr. Taylor is a lumber grader.

IN LONG BEACH

I met in Long Beach a son of Hugh and Mrs. McVay of Charlottetown, P. E. I. This is James McVay, who has been eight years in the Golden State. He was an engineer on board steamships on the high seas for ten years, then lived in New York City till he left for California. His father and mother live at Rainier, Thurston Co., Washington. Every summer for the past nine years he has gone there and spends his vacation with his parents. He works for the city of Long Beach in the manufacturing of gas. His sister, Mrs. Mathewson, lives in Long Beach.

A real pleasant woman in Long Beach is Mrs. George Reid, who hails from Clyde River, P. E. I. She lived 20 years in Chicago, and has been six years in California. Mr. Reid, her husband, was a native of Charlottetown and a leather merchant in Chicago. He died seven years ago. She owns a number of tenement houses which she rents, and lives very comfortably. She was Bessie McCullum, daughter of John McCullum.

People of Charlottetown, P. E. I., will remember the late Mrs. Sarah Dugan, who was the police matron of Seattle for 25 years. She was a daughter of the late Dan McCarthy of Charlottetown. Recently I met her niece, Mrs. Molly Longley, who now occupies her aunt's beautiful modern home. The late Mrs. Dugan had a police funeral in Seattle and was buried from St. Alphonse Church a year ago last April. She was held in high esteem.

Mrs. M. E. Kelly and daughter Dorothy, of Oakland, spent several weeks visiting friends in Texas and Omaha, Nebraska, during the summer months. Mrs. Kelly, (formerly Minnie Campbell, Little Harbor, P. E. I.), is an active member of the Maple Leaf Club of Oakland.

A progressive citizen of Seattle is Joseph McDonald, native of Crapaud, P. E. I. He came here 30 years ago. He is a wholesale merchant of automobile supplies, trimmings, upholstery, etc. He owns the large building of his business establishment, besides a magnificent home in the Mount Baker district, suburb of Seattle. He also has a summer home at Rose Point, Hood Canal. He and Mrs. MacDonald were absent when I called. They were spending the week end at their Rose Point cottage. Every year he gives a picnic to all his employees and friends at Hood Canal. Mrs. MacDonald is a daughter of George Nicholson, of Crapaud, her maiden name being Nellie Nicholson. Their family consists of three sons. I met Mr. McDonald's brother, James, who was looking after his office. I also met Lloyd Ellis. His father and mother are natives of the Island. His mother was a Miss Oakes of Westmoreland. His father is Lewis Ellis.

Reviews Work Of C. W. League

ST. JOHN, Oct. 19 - Speaking at the annual meeting of the St. John diocesan branch of the Catholic Women's League here yesterday, Mrs. W. J. MacIntyre, of Charlottetown, P. E. I., National vice president, extended greetings and good wishes from the national executive to the diocesan convention, paying a glowing tribute to Mrs. J. E. Owens as one of the past national officers who had been held in very great esteem by the national executive. She said that the Catholic Women's League was international and existed in 44 countries, its total membership being 25,000,000. She spoke of the diocesan bodies being composed of different subdivisions and referred to the C. W. L. in this country as being centrally organized and representing 30,000 Canadian women. She touched upon the matter of immigration and spoke of the problems of looking after the strangers coming to our shores, especially the women. The Sisters of Service had been organized to care for this work and its membership was composed largely of teachers and nurses. Mrs. MacIntyre said. These Sisters taught English to the newcomers and trained the girls in the family in the rules of hygiene and rudiments of their faith. There are today, she said, 38 professing Sisters of Service and 25 postulantes and novices. The S. O. S. maintain hostels at the ports and meet the trains. In the west the Sisters of Service work is carried into the homes of the settlers and the children are taught by mail.

Mrs. MacIntyre spoke of the national scholarships that are open to any girls of the Catholic High Schools. She said a girl was given a four year university course with the understanding that she was to give her time to Catholic work and was being trained as a leader. Mrs. MacIntyre stated that the convener of education should see that all the Catholic High Schools receive the literature regarding this scholarship. Mrs. MacIntyre hoped that every Catholic woman might join and help along the work. No diocese, she said, would be asked to give more than it could and here was a duty to render moral support. The Most Reverend Andrea Cassulo, she said, was particularly interested in the work of the Catholic Women's League and had expressed appreciation of its endeavors.

In closing Mrs. MacIntyre expressed her gratitude at the gracious and courteous treatment received on this her first visit to Saint John. She referred particularly to Miss O'Neill, the president of the Saint John subdivision, who had spared no effort in making the visit a real pleasure.

A hearty vote of thanks for her splendid address was extended to Mrs. MacIntyre on the motion of Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson, seconded by Mrs. L. S. Doyle.

(Mrs. MacIntyre returned home Saturday evening from attending the convention, which was a most successful one.)

Junior Livestock Team For England

(Special to the Guardian) MONTREAL, Oct. 21 - In recognition of the very rapid progress which has been made in Canada in the development of Boys and Girls Livestock club work, the Dominion is to be signally honored in 1930, by the inclusion of a Canadian livestock team in the international judging competition held annually in Great Britain under the auspices of the rural branch of the National Association of Boys' and Girls Clubs.

The team which will represent Canada in this contest, which is held during the Royal Agricultural show in England in midsummer, will be selected at the coming Royal Winter Fair at Toronto, from contestants in the Boys and Girls Cattle Judging contests held at the Royal Fair under the auspices of the Canadian National Railways Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture.

The basis of selection of the team was decided at a conference of officials representing the Federal Department of Agriculture and the C. N. R. Department of Agriculture. The decision to include a team from Canada in the international contest in Britain, came about as a result of the recent visit to Canada of Mr. K. H. Eccles, president, and Capt. Ellis secretary of the National Association of Boys Clubs in Britain, which has a total membership of more than 300,000 and which includes a very large rural branch made up of the boys and girls farm clubs. As has been stated the Canadian team will be selected from the contestants in the annual C. N. R. cattle judging competition at the Royal Winter Fair.

The C. N. R. Dominion wide contest is open to all boys and girls calf feeding and cattle breeding clubs in each province which are organized under the joint policy of the Federal Department of Agriculture and the various provincial departments. This contest has been agreed upon as the basis of selection of the overseas team because of the fact that it is only the national boys and girls livestock judging contest and is based upon a national policy. The team to go overseas will consist of three members, either boys or girls, or both.
