"Voice Of Bugle Ann" At Capitol

One of the most amazing and dramatic court cases in history comes to life as poignant, gripping drama, in "The Voice of Bugle Ann," and incidentally gives Lionel Barrymore one of the most gripping roles now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

Barrymore plays Spring Davis, the old farmer who kills a man to avenge his dog, and makes a dramatic plea in court for dogs as man's best friends. The dramatic action is played against an interesting background, for with a pack of actual Missouri hounds, thrills of fox-hunting are staged. There is a love romance running through the graphic story, in the hands of Eric Linden, last seen with Barrymore in "Ah Wilderness!" and Maureen O'Sullivan.

Richard Thorpe directed the picture with deft skill that brings out all the human touches and shows the great attachment between the hill people and their hunting animals. Barrymore makes an eloquent appeal, in which some of Senator George Vest's tribute to the dog adds drama to oratory.

Two more of the "Ah Wilderness!" cast appear again with Barrymore in the new picture, Spring Byington as the mother and Charley Grapewin as the faithful friend. Others include Henry Wadsworth, James Macklin, Dudley Digges, Jonathan Hale and Billy Newell. Among scenes filmed in Missouri are inside glimpses of Jefferson City Penitentiary, where the prison sequence is laid.

In the colorful, glittering atmosphere of the burlesque theatre, with its soubrettes, songs, clowns and com. es, the action of the new Fox picture, "King of Burlesque," which is now playing at the Prince Edward Theatre, takes place.

Warner Baxter heads the gala cast of this picture, which includes Alice Faye, Jack Oakie, Arline Judge, Mona Barrie, Gregory Ratoff, Dixie Dunbar, Kenny Baker, Fats Waller and Nick Long, Jr., among the featured personalities.

Although the picture is a revealing glimpse into the gaudy world of burlesque, it does not confine its action to backstage drama, but launches into the life story of a genius of the theatre, played by Baxter.

With his two trusted aids, Alice Faye and Jack Oakie, Baxter has climbed from side street honky-tonks to Broadway's glittering palaces. Then when he falls in love with a lovely society woman who represents everything he had hoped to attain, he deserts his erstwhile friends.

Things go from bad to worse with Baxter, until his wife, Mona Barrie deserts him. When things look blackest, Baxter's old friends return to help him on the most spectacular venture of his life.

The close of the film shows Baxter suddenly realizing that it was Alice Faye he had loved all the time.

Warns All Enemies Of Germany

As ever march against us, we'll throw them out as we did Bolshevism itself.

"If our neighbors respect Germany's freedom, honor and equality, they'll find in Germany their best friend. But if the Bolsheviks try to open the gates to other countries, they'll find a new German army standing at Germany's door."

During his speech he mentioned favorably Fascist Italy which he said "had fought for 11 years against communism and we are happy over other countries which are fighting by other means against the same enemy."

Earlier, Hitler told the army today that his task was to "watch over labor, our people and our Deutschland."

"When I look at you," he said, "I know that Germany will be maintained against all threats and dangers."

are also the people of other neighboring countries bordering on the Mediterranean and there is, therefore, a fairly large consumption. Quality is governed by color, the cheaper varieties being red or pink while the more expensive article is dark brown or black such as sturgeon's roe. Shell fish is prohibited to Moslems by their religion the same as pork and this makes for a restricted demand in that class of fish food. Japan is the chief source of supply for canned crabs and clams for the limited demand that exists, according to the Industrial Department of the Canadian National Railways.

Youth Problem Discussed At Rotary

The need of an inquiry into the objectives of present day education was suggested by Lt. Col. L. T. Lowther, principal of Prince Street School, in the course of an address at Rotary Club yesterday. Colonel Lowther said that our educational system was designed a long time ago for the children of the aristocracy, for the leisure class, whereby they could achieve culture and enjoy their leisure more. It has not changed much with the expansion of democracy, with the requirement that everybody should be educated. It is not fair to turn young people out of school who need schooling and are of school age, because they are improperly labelled as "failures." In Denmark the course is designed early to be of value to the boy in following certain occupations.

The tremendous youth movement in such countries as Germany, Italy and Russia was referred to. Youth are being regimented, and such a man as Hitler may be leading them into another war.

Emphasis was placed by the speaker on the importance of parents understanding the mentality of their children; also on the benefits of hobby shows, supervised playgrounds, and the "Big Brother" movement sponsored by Rotary. Rotarian Norville Luck presided, the guests being Mr. E. J. Mitchell, Toronto, and Rotarians H. Greenway and L. M. Farquhar, St. John.

and told a dramatic story of a plot to kill the King, instigated by a foreign power. In October, 1935, according to the prisoner, he was in touch with a foreign power which wanted him to do the work. He told the War Office about it.

An Englishman put him in touch with this power and later he was introduced at the country's embassy to a certain baron while certain representatives of that foreign power tried to inflame him against Britain. An arrangement was made that the King should be attacked at the trooping of the color.

"Why should it benefit their country that the King should be shot," asked the prisoner's counsel of his client.

"They mentioned one reason was that certain parts of this Empire would be handed over to that power if the King were not in power," answered the prisoner.

"Do you mean colonies?"

"Yes."

"Did they suggest they were going to make a sudden coup somewhere?"

"Yes."

"What were you to do?"

"I was to shoot the King and get £150 ($750) for it."

"Did you report this to the War Office?"

"Yes."

McMahon said he heard that if the plot failed the King was to be shot in France. He admitted the prosecution's evidence concerning

ORGANIZE NEW SHIPPING CLUB

A series of agricultural meetings held during the past few weeks in the Mt. Herbert, Webster's Corner, Johnston's River districts culminated recently in the formation of another branch of the P. E. I. Co-operative Live Stock Marketing Board, Inc. This association will be known as the East River Live Stock Shipping Club, and will commence to operate as soon as hogs in these districts are ready for the market. These meetings were attended by J. A. Gillies, Secretary of the Live Stock Marketing Board who discussed with the farmers present the advantages of organized, orderly marketing of live stock. Mr. Gillies, stressed the absolute necessity of controlling the volume of stock offered to the trade, advising that marketing should be done regularly as the stock matured and came within the range of quality required by grading regulations, and through organized marketing channels. Farmers who persisted in selling their hog and lamb production direct to the processing plants or their representatives in the country at a buyer's quotation created a situation that had a most depressing effect upon the markets, and in periods when stock moved freely and in quantity, succeeded in lowering the general price level to a point inconsistent with values. Farmers attending these meetings appeared to be most enthusiastic and unanimously agreed to take action along the lines already indicated.

Messrs. L. W. Roper and H. W. Clay of the Dominion Live Stock Branch attended these meetings as opportunity afforded. The former based his discussion upon the advantages of improvement in quality of live stock production, while Mr. Clay devoted a portion of his time to giving a detailed explanation in connection with the substituting of carcass grading of hogs for that of grading on the hoof. He also discussed to the advantage of his audience live stock feeding practices that might well replace many now in vogue, and thus lead towards more economic production. Similar meetings are being arranged to take place in other parts of the Province during the approaching fall season.

Moncton Wedding Of Island Interest

MONCTON, Sept. 13.—A wedding of interest to many friends throughout the Maritime Provinces took place in St. Bernard's Church here when Rev. James E. Brown united in marriage Miss Frances Barrieau, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Barrieau and the late James Barrieau and Mark J. Dunphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dunphy, Moncton.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her uncle, James Buckley, New Glasgow, to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, played by Mrs. J. W. McCarthy. She wore a gown of white chiffon velvet, on princess lines, with train. She also wore a halo hat of velvet with hip-length veil bordered with pearls and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Mayme Barrieau, sister of the bride was bridesmaid and Frederick Dunphy, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Francis Dunphy, of this city, and Patrick J. Burns, Saint John.

(The groom is well and favorably known in this city, having attended St. Dunstan's University, where he was a star forward on the football squad.)

The incident was substantially true. He had thrown the pistol to the ground because he did not want to shoot, had never had any intention to hurt the King, but rather to save him, because "otherwise they might have carried out the act themselves."

Attorney-General Sir Donald Scernerville, cross-examining: "I suggest this plot story is the product of your imagination?" "I wish to God it were," answered McMahon.

"I want to go to prison," the defendant said later. "I want you to give me the heaviest sentence possible. It is only by doing that that you can save my life from the people I have given away."

At one point the prisoner wrote down the name of the person in the Embassy of a foreign government to whom he had been introduced. The prisoner also declared he had never fired a revolver in his life.

Earlier events showed the prisoner on the day of the revolver incident wrote a complaining letter to Sir John Simon, Home Secretary.

Counsel suggested this referred to the prisoner's complaints against two policemen, for which he was prosecuted for criminal libel, sentenced, had his sentence quashed on appeal, and was given his liberty after seven weeks. The prisoner had sent petitions to both the present and the late King, but neither contained threats.

The jury was absent today for only ten minutes.

IN MEMORIAM

ARTHUR BENJAMIN DICKIESON

It is with deep regret that we record the death of Mr. Arthur B. Dickieson, which occurred at his home in New Glasgow on Tuesday evening, September 8th, at the age of eighty six years. Although he did not enjoy good health for the past two months, it was thought at times that he would regain strength but God willed otherwise, and he peacefully passed away on the above mentioned date.

Mr. Dickieson was a man who was highly respected, and his sterling qualities won for him a host of friends. He served as Clerk of the County Court for fifty-two years. His word was as good as his bond. He was a member and took a leading part in the erection of the Christian Church building which now stands in New Glasgow. His happiest moments were when he was surrounded by his family. In the home where his family all reside he was the central figure.

He leaves to mourn, a sorrowing widow, one daughter, Miss Ruth and three sons, Aider, Richard and George. Four step-children, namely: Mrs. Henry Ross, Wheatley River; Mrs. (Dr.) A. B. Stevenson, New Glasgow; Mrs. Leslie Weeks, Elliot, and Mr. Melville L. Bradshaw of Joseph Reid & Co., Summerside. One surviving brother Mr. Charles Dickieson, is 102 years old, and visited his brother during his last illness and attended the funeral; also four grandchildren, Masters Arthur, Charles, Creelman and Arnold, whom he loved and was never too tired to help with their school problems.

The funeral which was one of the largest ever held in the community took place from his late residence the following Thursday at 2 o'clock, friends and relatives coming from all points to pay their last respects. The service was conducted by a very near friend of the deceased, Rev. W. H. Harding of Summerside, who delivered a beautiful message of comfort to the bereaved. The assisting clergymen were Rev. W. G. Quigley and Rev. W. J. McLeod. The favorite hymns used during the service were—"The Lord Is My Shepherd, It is well with My Soul and Forever with the Lord." Rev. H. R. Bell very effectively rendered the beautiful hymn "Good Night". Mrs. William B. Bulman presided at the piano.

Beautiful floral tributes were received from the following: Pillow, the Family, Wreaths, Miss Eva Bagnall, New Zealand, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams and family, Mrs. John McDonald, Miss Agnes Williams, Premier Thane A. and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. M. L. and Mrs. Bradshaw and Harriett, Dr. A. Dixon, Moncton, N. B., Mildred and John Dixon, Moncton, N. B., The New Glasgow Women's Institute, Miss Mira Ling, Cut Flowers—Mrs. M. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. James Houston, Miss Marguerite Houston.
