Will Lecture On Revolution

MARSEILLES, (France, Nov. 22.—(A.P.)—Denying that he was about any "mysterious designs," Leon Trotsky, exiled Russian revolutionary arrived here today on his way to Copenhagen, where he will lecture about the revolution which 15 years ago set up the Soviet Government.

Police took extraordinary measures to prevent any sort of demonstration. The ship which brought him from Turkey was met off Marseilles and Trotsky was taken in a police boat to the suburb of L'Estaque, where he boarded an automobile for Lyons, there to catch a train.

The revolutionary leader will lecture at Copenhagen University and then will return to Prinkipo Island, Turkey, the place of his exile.

"My trip carries no mysterious designs, and offers—at least that is my opinion—no public interest," he said in a statement to the press.

"My trip is giving rise to various interpretations, and this is undesirable."

Trotsky said his Copenhagen lecture would have a historical goal, not a propagandist goal, adding "that does not mean that I shall conceal my own point of view, which remains the same as at the moment of the insurrection of October, 1917."

Mounties Relay Santa Claus Letter By Aurora Borealis

CHRISTMAS REQUESTS OF LITTLE PENNSYLVANIA GIRL GIVEN OFFICIAL ATTENTION.

OTTAWA, Nov. 22.—(C.P.)—Down in Penfield, Pa., little Jean D'Amelio is happy today as she reads over and over a letter from Santa Claus relayed from the North Pole by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Jean had written to Santa Claus "Care of R. C. M. P., Craig Harbor Post Office, North Pole, Canada."

Her letter — asking for roller skates, electric train set, station and doll house with furniture—reached Commissioner J. H. MacBrien at headquarters of the Mounted here, just last week. Unfortunately, it was much too late to catch the boat which leaves each summer for Craig Harbor and Bache Peninsula, an R. C. M. P. post even closer to the Pole.

But Major-General MacBrien called on the resourcefulness of the Babain son of sheriff Arthur Babain, Richibucto, was brined when he attempted to save some equipment from the garage. He died later.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Blaine Slavin takes this opportunity of expressing his thanks to the gunman who shot him during an attempted hold-up. "He gave me relief at last."

Man's Life Sacrificed On Altar At Detroit; Cult Leader Arrested

Passer-By Lured Into Negro's Home, Found Beaten And Stabbed, A Confession Claimed.

DETROIT, Nov. 22.—Police, investigating an apparent murder, today elicited from the self-styled "King" of a weird cult, a confession that he selected and killed a sacrificial victim on an improvised altar at his home.

The confession was attributed to Robert Harris, 44-year-old negro Harris said his "religious order" has a membership of about 100 negroes in Detroit.

The victim was James J. Smith, 40, also a negro. Harris admitted, the police said, that he crushed Smith's head with the rear axle of an automobile, then stabbed him through the heart.

The police, recalling the slaying of Benny Evangelista, leader of a fantastic religious cult, his wife and four children here in 1929, said they would take Harris' palm prints to determine whether he was the wielder of the axe that killed the Evangelistas. Detectives repeatedly have expressed the belief that the Evangelistas were killed by the head of some rival cult.

Harris was quoted by the police as saying: "The ninth hour of the 20th day had come Sunday. It was predetermined 1,500 years ago that at that hour I must make a human sacrifice to my gods. It must not be a member of the Order of Islam, but some stranger—the first person I met after leaving my home."

That person, Harris said, was Smith, so he invited him into his home and crushed his head, "just to quiet him." The ritual then required, he said, that the body be placed on the altar and a sacrificial knife thrust through the heart.

An eight-inch knife was found thrust to the hilt in Smith's heart. A cheap magazine found in Harris' home was opened to a story of mysticism in the desert. The words "the believer must be stabbed through the heart," were underlined.

Although Harris has been tractable during the interrogation, four policemen were required to restrain him when the time came to place him in a cell.

Eaton Opens His Records To Auditors

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 22.—Contributory unemployment insurance will be considered at conference of the Dominion and Provincial Government during the approaching parliamentary recess. This was announced tonight in the Commons by Premier R. B. Bennett. In order to have effective machinery for unemployment insurance, it must have the sanction of the Dominion Parliament and the provincial legislatures.

BALTIMORE Md., Nov. 22.—George L. Guggle, of Columbus, Ohio, testifying in the receivership suit he filed against Continental Shares, Inc., said today that although Cyrus S. Eaton, the Canadian-born former head of the company, gave permission that the company's records as well as his own personal accounts be audited, attorneys for the brokerage firm refused to permit the audit until early this month and after the filing of the suit.

BORROWED 30 MILLION

Guggle, who at the outset of the case asserted that Eaton had "wrecked" the company, told the court today the Company's records show that Continental Shares borrowed approximately $30,000,000 from the Chase National Bank and that the money was used to pay off debts of Otis and Company, controlled by Eaton, to the lending bank and a group of Cleveland banks.

As a result, it is contended by the plaintiffs, the investment Trust's indebtedness to the Chase National Bank and other institutions was created fraudulently and the corporation's present bank-controlled directorate prevents the fraud involved in the creation of the bank indebtedness from being presented to the courts.

Other banks said to be involved in the proceedings are the Union Trust Company, the Guardian Trust Company and the Central United National Bank, all of Cleveland. The case is to be continued tomorrow.

Local C. N. R. Firemen Obtain Prior Rights To Steady Employment

Dog Stands All-Night Guard Over Fox

HARTLAND, N.B., Nov. 22.—(C.P.)—A silver black fox escaped from E. A. Britton's ranch last night. Britton found 11 dead hens in the yard. Believing a search for the fox would be useless, he retired. But a few minutes later he heard his shepherd dog, "Pal," leave the kennel. After arising this morning, Britton went into the woodshed and found the missing fox securely guarded in a corner by "Pal."

Conditions Prevailing Since 1926 Will Be Remedied On Dec. 1.

Official word has been received here that the argument between the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, and the Management of the C. N. R. has been amended to give prior rights to all firemen of this Province who entered the service up to and including 1926. As a result sixteen firemen of this province will go back to the service. These men have been working intermittently since 1926. The agreement will become effective on December 1, 1932. It provides for the restoration of these firemen to their former status, as they will take the place of men who were transferred here from outside the province. In pressing their claims the Island workmen had the strong support of the local Conservative members of Parliament and it is gratifying to note, the success which has attended the efforts to remedy a situation which has existed since 1926.

FIRST WESTERN WHEAT DUMPED INTO HALIFAX

Eight Cars Arrive, Forty More East Of Campbellton; 600,000 Bushels Leave Ft. William.

HALIFAX, Nov. 22.—Eight carloads of grain were unloaded in Halifax Saturday at the elevator—the forerunner of a great quantity of wheat to pass through this port during the winter. Already 1,250,000 bushels of grain have been booked for passage through the port, F. C. Cornell, traffic manager of the Halifax Harbor Commissioners announced last night. This quantity will be brought in before December 15, he said. What would follow after was undetermined, but he anticipated the million-bushel movement was but the start of a busy winter season.

Men In Transit

Of the quantity booked, 600,000 bushels are now in transit east of Fort William, and about 40 cars are now east of Campbellton, N. B., and headed for this city. A carload averages 1,300 bushels, railroad officials said. The grain cars so far have been attached to regular freight trains, but as the movement increases, special grain trains will be run into Halifax.

Fight Against Want Launched

CINCINNATI, Nov. 22.—(A.P.)—The American Federation of Labor today launched what its president termed its "sternest struggle" against want.

President William Green told 300 delegates, in outlining the federation's problems at the opening of the 52nd annual convention, that "we are here to work for the worker. We hope to make a valuable contribution here toward the reconstruction of our impaired capitalistic structure."

He said the executive council already had suggested steps looking toward the "improvement of conditions," one the six-hour day and a five-hour week and the other compulsory unemployment insurance.

The plan the council specified, would be adopted in every state, paid for by employers, and administered by a state commission. Its benefits would not be denied to those out of work because of a trade dispute, or if non-membership in a labor union was a condition of employment.

Unemployment Insurance In England

(Canadian Press)
LONDON, Nov. 22.—Indications were given in the Speech from the Throne at the opening of the new session of Parliament today, the National Government is going to attack the problem of unemployment and unemployment insurance in no uncertain manner.

The speech forecast, but did not give details, schemes designed to reduce the total of unemployed and at the same time improve the system of relief to those who will inevitably remain out of work, while endeavoring to put the unemployment insurance fund back on a sound basis.
