CALENDAR.—The Guardian has received from the general agents, Hyman & Co. Ltd., Charlottetown, one of the 1913 calendars issued by the Union Assurance Company of London, England.

INSTITUTE ORGANIZED.—An agricultural meeting was held on Wednesday evening at Hetheralds for the purpose of organizing a Farmers' Institute. Mr. McPhee occupied the chair. An address was delivered by Jas. A. Telfer, Maritime Representative of the Sheep Division, Ottawa, on the Care and management of sheep, and by Prof. Ross on the Value of Institutes. Mr. Telfer spoke on the suitability of various breeds to various kinds of land and urged upon all those present, the necessity of dipping their sheep and of giving them suitable attention.

SCHOOLS CLOSE.—The Christmas closing exercises of the West Kent and Queen Square Schools, Charlottetown, took place yesterday morning and were attended by many visitors, trustees, and parents. The exercises were well arranged and the respective programs well carried out.

GREGORY'S VIEW.—Chester Gregory, secretary of the Post yesterday evening according to a Sydney Exc. said that he did not think New Glasgow would accept any reasonable offer in which Moncton concurred. He says that if Halifax is out of the league this year it will be out for good. Amherst will undoubtedly have a team this year, he says, and arrangements have already been made for the rink. The league will pull through this year without difficulty, he says, and next year St. John and Glace Bay can come in and make it a six team league.

SALISBURY.—Rev. J. B. Champion, pastor of the Methodist Church, Salisbury, N. B., which has been undergoing extensive repairs during the past few months was re-opened on Sunday, Dec. 8th. The day was fine and the services largely attended. A Moncton exchange says that the three very able sermons delivered during the day by prominent visiting clergymen elicited the closest attention of all present. The preacher at the morning service was Rev. George A. Ross, of Fairville, St. John, the Rev. Neil McLaughlin, of Fredericton, and Rev. J. L. Batty, all well known in Charlottetown.

A WEDDING.—A very pleasant event took place on Wednesday night, Dec. 18th, at the home of Duncan and Mrs. Darrach, Marshfield, when their daughter, Edith J., was united into the holy bonds of matrimony to Horace L. Vessey of York. To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Hazel McEwen of Morell in a very capable manner, the bride, gracefully leaning on her father's arm, who gave her away, entered the parlor which was suitably and handsomely decorated for the occasion. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Hawley. The bride, who was unattended, looked charming, dressed in sublime silk trimmed with silk fringe, and wore a bridal veil, carrying a bouquet of white carnations. After the ceremony hearty congratulations were extended to the bride and groom after which they repaired to the dining-room where a sumptuous repast was partaken of, the tables being laden with all that the inner being could desire. After each had done justice to themselves they retired to the parlor where music, games and social conversation were indulged in. The bride and groom were the recipients of many useful and costly presents which shows the high esteem and popularity in which they are held. The groom's present to the bride was a gold watch to which the bride was joining the happy couple towards their future home in York where their many friends wish them every success and a long, happy and prosperous wedded life.
