U. S. Task Force Blasts Japanese At Wake Island

New Details Of Raid Given In Communique

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Oct. 6—(AP)—Japanese installations and the garrison at Wake Island were heavily bombed and shelled yesterday by a strong task force of the United States Pacific Fleet, said a communique issued today by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz.

The force was commanded by Rear Admiral Alfred E. Montgomery and included an aircraft carrier. The bombardment by naval units began at dawn, said the announcement. No details were given.

The text of the communique: "A strong Pacific fleet task force, commanded by Rear Admiral Alfred E. Montgomery, U. S. N., heavily attacked enemy held positions on Wake Island with carrier aircraft and ship bombardment commencing at dawn Oct. 6, 1943, west longitude time. Further details are not now available."

This new disclosure followed by a day disclosure from headquarters of Admiral Nimitz had been held at Pearl Harbor Fleet Headquarters recently. It was announced by Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the United States fleet, Admiral William F. Halsey, commander of the South Pacific Force, and Admiral Nimitz.

Wake Island is approximately 2,000 miles west of the Hawaiian Islands. This assault on Wake was the stage for a navy force attack on the island since it is an overwhelming enemy force Oct. 21, 1942, by a carrier commanded by Admiral Halsey.

Admiral Montgomery's raid was the enemy's Pacific perimeter outposts in six weeks. Marcus Island was bombed and strafed Oct. 20, 1943, and a similar attack on the Gilbert Islands and Nauru Island West of the Gilberts, on Sept. 17, 1943, by land-based army and navy heavy bombers.

Hitler Scrapes Bottom Of Manpower Reserve

LONDON, Oct. 6—(CP)—The Germans now are registering 59-year-old men for military service—stays they never reached in the First Great War—spokesman for the ministry of economic warfare said today.

Men of this class will not be called up at present, he added, but their registration gives plain evidence that Hitler is scraping the bottom of his manpower reserve.

FARTHING TO STAY

LONDON—(CP)—The farthing, value 1-2 cent, is here to stay. Asked to eliminate farthing, the Ministry said an extra farthing on the price would make the farthing's margin of profit too big, and taken off it would make it too low.

P. E. I. OBJECTIVE IN 5TH VICTORY LOAN SET AT $3,000,000

Prince Edward Island's objective in the Fifth Victory Loan has been set at $3,000,000. Mr. Ewen MacKinnon, Provincial Chairman of the National War Finance Committee announced yesterday. This is $500,000 more than the Province's objective for the Fourth Victory Loan and twice the amount asked of subscribers here in the First and Second Victory Loan Campaigns.

But the chairman and officials of the National War Finance Committee here are confident that the objective can be reached and that the people of the Province will measure up to the pace they set in former campaigns for war purposes. There is a general realization of the fact that the money is desperately needed to supply the Canadian and other Allied fighting men with the materials of war on the battlefronts of the world.

"Speed the Victory."

The slogan for this loan is "Speed the Victory" and the quicker this Province and others reach and surpass their objectives the quicker the victory will be won.

Prince Edward Island subscribed $3,107,500 to the Fourth Victory Loan earlier this year, which is considerably more than the objective asked of them this time. But it is not everyone is asked to do even better.

Provinces, municipalities and districts, even the individual salesmen, have been assigned as minimum objective the amounts they realized in the Fourth Victory Loan Campaign.

P. E. Island has always topped their objectives in Victory Loan campaigns and in all other war campaigns for war purposes. It is confidently expected that the Province will do the same this time.

The campaign opens on October 18th and runs until November 8th. It will be three weeks in length. The effort of every citizen concerned will be needed to put the campaign over the top.

The conference is being held in Ottawa in 1918 when plans were made for a national vital statistics system of national vital statistics.

Official provincial delegates included: Dr. B. C. Kepling, Prince Edward Island; Dr. H. Robertson, Nova Scotia; Dr. W. MacMillan, New Brunswick; Dr. Paul Parrott, Quebec.

Ontario Plans Slot Machine Drive

TORONTO, Oct. 6—(CP)—Attorney-General Blackwell of Ontario today confirmed earlier reports that he has ordered an inspection of slot machines in the province, but pointed out that some machines are legal. He said that while legalizing certain types of the machines and these by-laws will be introduced, slot machines do not contravene the Criminal Code.

Mr. Blackwell said that "it is not the intention of the Attorney-General's department to put on a spectacular drive by going into municipalities without regard to how the law is being enforced. But where to their knowledge the law is not being enforced locally, provincial police where necessary will undertake its enforcement."

ARMY HUTS FOR CIVILIANS?

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Oct. 6—(CP)—The municipal council will make an investigation as to whether or not unused army huts at Saint John can be utilized to ease the housing problem. One councillor commented that while wartime housing limited was being built, other structures were being built up by the department of national defence.

No Christmas Cards To Prisoners

OTTAWA, Oct. 6—(CP)—The External Affairs Department announced today that postal facilities will not be provided this year for the dispatch of Christmas cards to friends and relatives in Canada and the United Kingdom and other British military prisoners and civilian internees in enemy territory. The announcement said that last year the number of Christmas cards sent to prisoners and civilian internees so congested postal censorship facilities that ordinary letters for prisoners were "very much delayed."

Ordinary letters will this year be forwarded as usual, since prisoners themselves have expressed the wish to receive such mail promptly rather than have it held up through the sending of Christmas cards.

Yugoslavs Cut Nazi Rail Line

LONDON, Oct. 6—(AP)—Yugoslav National Army of Liberation announced that, reinforced by Croatian units, it had cut the Trieste-Austria rail line used by the Germans to pour troops and equipment into their battlefront.

The National Army's daily communique, broadcast by the free Yugoslav radio also reported a stand-off fighting to many parts of Yugoslavia and the German-controlled Rome radio acknowledged heavy losses to German forces attempting to overcome resistance along the Adriatic coast of the Adriatic.

Rome said Yugoslav losses also were heavy.

Severance of the Trieste-Austria rail line "offers direct assistance to Allied troops in southern Italy," said the Yugoslav communique.

Penicillin May Cure Meningitis

CHICAGO, Oct. 6—(AP)—Injection of Penicillin into the spinal fluid may be valuable in the treatment of staphylococcal meningitis, two New York, Penn., physicians reported today.

Dr. Cobb Pilcher and William P. Meacham, writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association, based their statement on results obtained in animal investigations.

The disease is the infection with staphylococcus of the three membranes which envelop the brain and spinal cord.

The two investigators found that injection of penicillin into a vein had little or no beneficial effect, but that injection into the spinal canal or into the space at the base of the brain which contains cerebrospinal fluid, with relatively small doses of penicillin greatly reduced the mortality rate (from 93 per cent in control experiments to 54 per cent in treated animals).

They reported that the preventive possibilities of penicillin for staphylococcal meningitis were not encouraging.

Arm Band To Warn Of Gas

OAKVILLE, Ont., Oct. 6—(CP)—Production has started here on a paper arm band treated with synthetic resins which will warn soldiers in battle of the presence of poison gas, it was announced today by an official of the firm making them.

One of the latest scientific developments of the war, the chemically treated arm bands will be worn under the soldier's uniform, the official said. Before the gas can affect any part of his body the chemical reaction of the band will show its presence.

War Situation Last Night

By Kirke L. Simpson, Associated Press War Analyst

The Allied swing-gate attack on Italy gained another important stride toward Rome when the 8th army crossed the Volturno, north of Rome-Chieti highway for a new Nazi delaying stand, and 8th army's pressure on the Adriatic coast is already threatening the Chieti anchor of that line.

The Allied crossing of the Volturno means deployment into the plain of the Volturno along the coast and access to the two main highways to Rome from Naples. They fork just beyond the main Volturno road crossing at Capua. The west branch, the ancient via Appia of classical times, modernized for modern motor traffic, runs up the coastal flank of Mount Lepini through the valley of the Sacco. These two roads are inshore on the Lepini hump up the valley of the Sacco. The east fork passes through the once-dreaded Pontine marshes. The east fork passes through the Chieti trans-penninsular highway toward which the 8th army is surging and the main road connections south and east from Rome and necessarily must largely grove the Allied attack.

It seems obvious that it was the fast-paced 8th army leapfrog advance on the Adriatic flank of the Allied drive that forced the Nazi retreat from the Volturno as the seizure of Foggia had previously forced enemy evacuation of Naples. That is the genius of the Allied battle plan in Italy as it has yet unfolded. With the 5th army at the hinge the 8th army is the swinging gate that constantly threatens to trap a considerable enemy force unless the Nazis keep retreating.

The report of the heavy Nazi-British fighting along the Biferno River fails to indicate definitely the scene of this action. It seems likely, however, that it is along the upper Biferno. If so it indicates that the 8th army has made sharp advance along its centre and left flank as well as along the coast.

This implies that an 8th army swing directly toward Rome via the Rome-Foggia highway, the only main road available for the purpose, is developing. It is clear that any substantial further British advance north of the Biferno must threaten the Nazi right flank before the 5th army with entrapment. To prevent that, Nazi reinforcements must have been thrown in against the 8th army from the Volturno could be carried out. The Allied swing-gate technique has again proved successful in Italy and greatly minimized the probable casualty cost of a frontal drive by the 5th army up the short western routes toward Rome.

There is slow and tough going ahead for both Allied armies, however, whatever route they take.

Island Men On Casualty Lists

The name of three Prince Edward Island servicemen appeared last night on official casualty lists issued at Ottawa. Two were in the Royal Canadian Air Force and the other in the Army list.

Under the heading, died of wounds in the army list was the name of Pte. Harry Joseph Perry whose next-of-kin is his wife, Mrs. Blanche Perry, 347 Water Street, Summerside.

He was serving with a Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Regiment.

In the air force list two names appear under the heading, previously reported missing on active service, "died for official purposes presumed dead. They are Pte. Sgt. John Augustin Albert Poirier, whose next-of-kin is his mother, Mrs. A.J. Poirier, Miscouche, and Sgt. Auden Claire Porter, whose next-of-kin is his father, W.N. Porter, Murray River.

William Johnston was being driven by his nephew Mr. Marvyn Johnston, of Murray River.

The driver of the second car was Mr. A. F. Campbell, Montague.

The accident occurred on the crest of a hill on the Commercial road about a mile and a quarter from Murray River.

The cars side-swiped each other and in order to avoid a more serious accident Mr. Johnston swung his car into the ditch.

Sea View Boy Critically Injured

By Edward Kennedy (Associated Press War Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Oct. 6—(AP)—The Allied 5th and 8th armies have crossed two rivers on which the fiercely resisting Germans are making a stand to impede the British-American drive up the Italian Peninsula—the Volturno, flowing into the Tyrrhenian Sea 20 miles from Naples, and the Biferno, which runs into the Adriatic.

The 5th army, bringing up reserves to smash at increased enemy opposition along the route to Rome, crossed the Volturno at one point after occupying Aversa and Maddaloni, north and northeast of Naples, and reaching Lago Di Patria, a marshy lake 12 miles northwest of the port, headquarters announced today.

The exact spot where the Volturno was crossed was not disclosed. The nearest point on the river to the latest Allied advance is seven miles north of Maddaloni. This is in the mountains and from there the river winds some 15 miles before reaching the coastal plain, where it widens and forms a good natural barrier.

In the British 8th Army's area along the Adriatic coast, Termoli, which had been in Allied hands since it was captured in the party Sunday night, is itself on the northern side of the Biferno's mouth, but farther inland. The Germans had established themselves along the river.

The 8th has forced crossings at several points, but heavy fighting is in progress with both sides employing tanks and artillery.

Heavy Raid on Bologna

Striking far to the north ahead of Allied ground forces, four waves of United States heavy bombers made a devastating attack on the strategic rail centre of Bologna, on the Brenner Pass line 180 miles behind the German border, an Allied spokesman termed it "one of the most accurate and successful attacks" ever made by the North-western African Air Force.

Bombs ripped into freight yards, locomotive sheds, workshops, warehouses and oil tanks, setting great fires. Aerial gunners shot down eight out of 30 to 35 enemy fighters that opposed the attack.

Aversa, captured in the steady Allied thrust northward from the Volturno, is an important junction eight miles north of Naples. Maddaloni is 14 miles northeast of Naples. The two towns are each about 10 miles from Capua, where rail and highway bridges cross the Volturno, Capua originally was the southern terminus of the famous Appian way to Rome.

The occupation of all territory up the coast northwest of Naples to Lago Di Patria, which is about eight miles from the mouth of the Volturno, strengthened the Allied line in this section to one running almost due west from Aversa. Among the smaller towns to fall before the Allied advance were Pozzuolo, Quailano, Villaricca, Arzano and Marano.

An Allied communique said: "The 5th Army has continued to make progress against stiffening opposition, with an increase in demolitions, craters and mines on the route, along which they are advancing."

The boy accompanied by another lad about the same age, was in the rear of a three quarter ton truck which was driven by LeRoy Anderson, Sea View and owned by his father Roy Adams. Apparently the truck left the road and sideswiped a telephone pole. The road was greasy. The other boy was not injured. There was also another person in the cab of the truck.

Fuel Outlook Seems Dismal For Winter

By The Canadian Press

Twin shortages of supplies and manpower combine to provide Canada with a dismal fuel outlook for this winter, it was shown today in a Dominion-wide survey by the Canadian Council of Ministers of the Environment.

The shortage of coal itself seems most acute in the Eastern Provinces but all across the country, delivery of coal is being held up by the shortage of workers and women have been asked to help shovelers in an attempt to meet the problem.

To meet the Dominion-wide situation, the Munitions Department has appointed solid fuel representatives to discuss the situation in nine provinces, has provided for the transport of anthracite coal from areas of plentiful supply to those of short supply and has given coal delivery priority rights to persons who have little or no coal in their cellars.

The department recently asked householders to aim at saving one ton of coal in five this winter. Churches were asked to reduce fuel consumption by 20 per cent and that householders should reduce their use of oil by 30 per cent.

In Halifax, where the supply and delivery situation both were critical for some months, the situation has eased somewhat in recent weeks although hard coal is still scarce. Dealers in Saint John, N. B., said that immediate action is needed there to avert a fuel shortage, adding that due to scanty supplies and the labor situation many coal orders will remain unfilled until the end of the year.

Montreal coal dealers are rationing their customers with many limiting deliveries to one ton. Extra charges for delivery are said to be probable in the winter due to the small amount being delivered to each customer and the many trips this entails.

FREDERICTON, Oct. 6—(CP)—Cpl. Joseph Donovan, 45, Saint John and Pte. Edward Soucie, 25, Newburg Junction, both on the army training centre here, were remanded today until Tuesday on charges of assaulting William Spears, night clerk at a local hotel, and causing grievous bodily harm.
