Ann Sheridan, John Litel at Capitol Today

Little Miss Thoroughbred," which opens at the Capitol Theatre today, introduces to the movie public a new child acress for whom the studio predicts a very glowing future.

The child for whom this brilliant future is predicted is six-year-old Janet Chapman, who plays the title role in "Little Miss Thoroughbred," a part that fully equals in importance those of the three adult leading players, John Litel and Ann Sheridan of "Alcatraz Island" fame, and Frank McHugh.

Little Janet has the appealing task of portraying an orphan searching for a father she firmly believes exists, and the complications of the story ensue when she elects Litel to be her father.

Litel and Frank McHugh are a couple of race track followers who are trying to make their living by "beating" the horses, and Janet is accepted into their strange menage, which also includes Ann Sheridan, as Litel's wife, when Litel becomes convinced the child is responsible for a cycle of good luck that he begins to enjoy soon after she shows up.

Pursued by the police —for kidnapping Janet—and by a gang of beting racketeers—for unknowingly cutting into their racket—Litel and his companions travel from track to track enjoying ever-increasing fortune until the police do catch up with them. But everything turns out all right when Janet insists that Litel is indeed her daddy and he accepts the title with all the sincerity any little orphan could wish for.

Orangemen Hold Annual Tea Yesterday

Prince Edward Island Orangemen celebrated the "glorious 12th" yesterday by holding their annual tea on the premises of Ray Moore, Brookfield. The parade at one o'clock was one of the largest seen for years, veteran members of Orange Lodges commented.

Addresses were delivered by Grand Master E. C. Holm of DeSable, Rev. Mr. Skinner, Winsloe, Rev. Mr. Thompson, Brookfield, Rev. Mr. Nicholson, York and Rev. Dr. Alexander Murray of Sydney, Cape Breton. Grand Worthy Mistress of the Loyal Orange Benevolent Association, Mrs. Annie Affleck spoke on behalf of the organization she heads. A feature of the afternoon was the program of juvenile sports, which was participated in with great enthusiasm by the younger people. Mr. Charles McDuff was in charge of the sport program.

During the day the recently organized L. O. L. Pipe Band rendered stirring highland music. The band was assisted by Pipe Major James Matheson of Regina, Sask., who with his father is visiting this province. Mr. Matheson, Sr., is a native of Prince Edward Island.

Successful Camp At Canoe Cove

One of the most successful camps sponsored by the Island Boys' Work Board and the Charlottetown Y.M.C.A. completes a well balanced program on Thursday. Fifty boys and leaders have been under canvas at Canoe Cove for the past week under the Rev. J. B. Wilson of Summerside. Mr. W. A. Henry, physical director of the Charlottetown "Y" is directing the sports while Mr. Norville E. Luck, general secretary of the local "Y" is business manager.

The camp is composed of four groups, under capable and experienced senior and junior leaders, who competed against one another in tent inspection, group yells, group entertainment, and group recreations. Definite periods are given to Bible study and camp craft, with morning dip at 7 a.m. and two regular swimming periods under proficient swimmers.

Morning chapel is conducted by camp director assisted by leaders, and consists of camp hymns "Unto the Hills Around" and "Just As I Am", responsive readings and short devotional talks.

Most looked for part of the day's program is the evening rally around the camp fire with the singing of camp songs. Entertainment by different groups is of high order. The good night story by one of the leaders, and singing of "Taps" and the cry "Thanks for the day comrades" brings to a close another day to added to memory's storehouse.

The value of such a camp as this cannot be expressed in words, but fellowship shown and friendship made in this camp may only be found in the contributions which these boys may make to their respective homes and churches and communities.

A Y.M.C.A. camp opens at the same site on July 18 and continues until July 28

Local Firm Builds Portable Electric-Arc Welding Plant

Messrs Proud & Moreside, well-known blacksmithing and welding firm of this city, have just completed a portable electric welding plant which can be quickly brought to the scene of the work to be done anywhere in the province.

This new equipment has been built into a light express truck, and consists mainly of a high powered six cylinder engine mounted in line with, and attached to a large generator. The generator is one of the very latest Hobat 1938 models, and is capable of taking care of all forms of electric arc welding.

A special "thin-weld" attachment is also included in the equipment thus providing for the welding of all varieties of thin objects such as light boiler plate, sheet iron, etc., etc. All welding done is, of course, backed by the usual guarantee.

Proud & Moreside are to be complimented on this enterprise since it will mean much to all who at any time may require the services of a really up-to-date electric welding plant. The great advantage of a portable plant of this kind is that it can be taken right to the job. This means a huge saving in time and expense where the object to be welded is too heavy to be easily handled or shipped, and when it is difficult to remove the parts to be welded. Likewise, when machinery breaks down on a job and is needed in a hurry, the welding can be quickly and thoroughly attended to simply by telephoning to this progressive firm. Their phone number is 813-J.

Persons interested in mechanics or in the success of local enterprise are welcome to call and inspect this new "plant on wheels," the latest accomplishment of Proud & Moreside, at 223 Great George Street, Charlottetown.

Break Window And Make Off With Drygoods

Early yesterday morning, a large plate glass shop window in Prowse Bros. dry goods store on Queen Street was smashed by a chunk of concrete and the entire display of merchandise stolen. Estimated value of goods stolen which include a suit, a shirt and pair of flannel trousers, was $50.

The thieves apparently were in no hurry, for they took time to strip a dummy on which clothing had been displayed.

No one reported hearing the crash as the glass was broken, and a pedestrian reported the break to police about five o'clock yesterday morning.

Entry into the main part of the store was prevented by a packing box which was braced against the door leading from the store to the show window.

This is the second break of this nature this week. Monday the glass in V. Dennis' meat and grocery es-tablishment, Prince Street was broken, but nothing was reported stolen. Police have under arrest two suspects in connection with the first break, and they are to appear in court Thursday.

Funeral Of Mrs. A. McBay Held Yesterday

Mrs. E. McBay, 68, who died at Charlottetown early Monday morning was buried yesterday. The funeral was held from the residence of her nephew, Anthony Lund, 300 Fitzroy Street, to the People's Cemetery. Services were conducted by the Rev. H. L. Denton. Pallbearers were four nephews:

Mrs. McBay before her marriage was Elizabeth Lund and was born at St. Peter's Island near the entrance of Charlottetown Harbor. When a young woman she went to the United States and remained there for a number of years, returning after the death of her husband to the old homestead at St. Peter's Island.

Surviving are four sisters and one brother, Katie, Mrs. Mike Cullen, Minnesota; Lottie, Mrs. Alfred Jackson, Montreal; Carrie, Mrs. Rose McKinnon, Truro; Martha Lund, Boston, and a brother, Albert Lund, St. Peter's Island. Three brothers predeceased her, including Capt. James Lund, who died unexpectly from heart ailment while at the wheel of a launch in Charlottetown Harbor a week ago.

DOUBLE ON PASS BY PIGEON POST

ROANOKE, Va., July 12—(CP)—A bird in the bus is worth two on a pass, a policeman told the directors of a transportation company here. He gave the amazed directors this story:

"I saw a pasenger get off the bus coming in from the suburbs. He had a pigeon under his arm. I didnt suspect larceny, exactly, but I watched him anyhow. As soon as the bus was out of sight, he took a pass out of his pocket and fastened it on the pigeon's leg.

"Then he threw the pigeon up in the air. It circled around a minute and then streaked back toward the suburbs. I guess every other member of the family uses that same pass. It is probably cheaper than paying fare, because I hear a pigeon only eats enough to keep a bird alive."

Ayrshire Breeder's Field Day

The Prince Edward Island Ayrshire Breeders held their annual Field Day on Thursday, July 7th on the farm of Messrs. John MacLeod & Sons, Primrose, Kings County. The event was largely attended with many coming from points as far west as Hunter River. The weather was ideal for such a gathering.

After lunch, in picnic style, the President, Mr. Earl Ings, outlined the program for the day. Mr. McLeod in his cheerful manner welcomed the Ayrshire men and their families to his farm. Mr. E. W. Roper, Federal Fieldman, in his talk emphasized the growing popularity of the Ayrshire breed in this province. He stated that Kings County is rapidly approaching the stage where it may be termed an Ayrshire County.

Mr. H. W. Clay, the newly appointed secretary of the Club touched on the possibilities within the grasp of the Island breeders if they would follow a systematic policy in their breeding efforts instead of bringing into the province a great variety of strains and families. The present individual system results in a great lack of uniformity in type even within the one herd.

Mr. Ings, the President, touched the hearts of the gathering when he presented Mr. Andrew McRae, the only living Honorary Member of the Canadian Association in the province. Mr. McRae is one of our pioneer breeders whose accomplishments will be hard to duplicate by younger Ayrshire breeders. Mr. Ings said a great deal when he remarked "If there is anything you want to know about Ayrshires, ask Mr. McRae."

Mr. Roper then selected a group of four mature cows for a judging competition. The boys and girls under 18 years took part in this feature. Mr. Roper and Mr. Ings placed the class officially with the usual variation of opinion among the breeders looking on. A class of two year old heifers in milk was next paraded and placed with more or less agreement from the breeders. The final class was four yearling heifers.

Mr. McLeod and his sons deserve credit for the success they have accomplished in building a herd of typy, good producing Ayrshires. This success is more commendable when one notes that they have been hoeing a lone row in that community.

The final feature of the day was a series of races for the young people. The breeders left for their homes with warm thoughts of the fine Scotchman, and his fine "coos."

Cornwall-York Point Institute Celebrate Silver Jubilee

The home of Mrs. W. E. White, York Pt., was the scene of a very interesting event on the afternoon of Monday, July 4th, when the members of Cornwall-York Pt. W.I. met to celebrate the Silver Jubilee of their Institute. On this occasion they had as guests the members of North River W.I. which also was organized twenty-five years ago.

Mrs. L. H. Drake, President of Cornwall-York Pt., Institute, occupied the chair and after welcoming the visitors called upon Mrs. Harry Scott, Secretary of North River Institute, who read a history of the organization and achievements of their institute.

She was followed by Mrs. Mack Vickerson who contributed two extracts from a "Guardian" published in July, 1913, one giving an account of the monthly meeting of the Cornwall-York Pt., branch, the other telling of the organization of the North River branch by Miss Margaret James, on July 9th, 1913.

Mrs. Fred McLaren then read the history of the Cornwall-York Pt. Institute from its organization in April, 1913, to the present time.

The sister clubs each told a story of 25 years of steady progress. Their attention was first turned to the improvement of their schools, but on the outbreak of the Great War, patriotic work occupied most of their time and energy. Contributions were made to the Red Cross Society, to the Prisoners of War Fund, to Halifax Relief and other war time needs, and every month boxes were sent to the boys overseas.

During the winter of 1919 Belgian relief work and receptions for the returned soldiers who were warmly welcomed and presented with gifts, furnished occupation for all the members.

The next important work was the erection of a memorial to the boys who failed to return. This was undertaken by the Cornwall-York Pt. women and the Soldiers Monument at Cornwall is the result of their efforts.

Since then the activities of both institutes have been directed to the purpose for which they were organized viz.—improvement of home and community. The sick and needy of each district have been relieved, repairs have been made to schools and halls and contributions have been made to deserving organizations such as sanitorium, Red Cross, T.B. League, Hospital, etc.

In spite of such achievements the women of these districts have no intention of resting on their laurels. The keynote of the whole meeting was a determination to press on to continue the work so well begun.

On the conclusion of the program tea was served by the Cornwall-York Pt. ladies. The birthday cake, beautifully decorated and adorned with twenty-five candles was the centre of attraction. The candles were lit by Mrs. Harry Scott and Mrs. C. D. McLean, the oldest charter member of Cornwall-York Pt. Institute present, cut the cake.

On behalf of North River Institute the president, Miss Leah McKinley, graciously thanked the Cornwall-York Pt. ladies for a very delightful afternoon.
