In Memoriam

MR. NEIL MacDONALD

Not dead—Oh no! but borne beyond the shadows Into the full, clear light; Forever done with mist and cloud and tempest. Where all is calm and bright.

Thus so it seemed when it was learned in the early morning hours of Monday, November 22nd, 1937, borne the spirit of Mr. Neil Macdonald, Montague, to that home where the sun is a ways shining and trouble never enters.

Mr. Macdonald second son of the late Finlay and Mary (Morrison) Macdonald of Garfield, Belfast, was born September 22nd, 1859, he obtained his early education in the Rural school, at the early age of seventeen he graduated as School Teacher from Prince of Wales College, Charlottetown. His first district school was Capereaux where he taught for eight years, later moving to Murray Harbor North where he resumed his duties as Teacher for twelve years. In the meantime he acquired a farm, also conducted a General Store. In the winter of 1896 he became a member of the Murray Harbor North Presbyterian Church and later on his removal to Montague where he has resided for twenty years, he was a consistent member of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, in this Town he was highly respected and esteemed holding many responsible positions being for several years Town Clerk and Secretary Treasurer of Montague Memorial School.

Mr. Macdonald was a man of more than ordinary intelligence and possessing all the characteristics of a truly consistent Christian, being of an especially cheerful and energetic nature and so gifted as an Orator it was an inspiration to listen to him. On November 27th, 1896 he was united in marriage to Lucy B. Graham, daughter of the late George and Charlotte Clow Graham. To this union was born four sons Rowland and Lyman called to their masters vineyard in early youth, also Graham and Lowell who with their mother are left to mourn the passing of a kind and considerate husband and father. There are also left to mourn one brother John of New Bedford, Cassie, (Mrs. A. D. Martin), Grandview; only surviving members of a family of four sons and five daughters.

During his two years illness he was regularly visited by his pastor Rev. T. Owen Hughes, who always in a cheerful and comforting manner conversed with the patient about the life in the better land, and was most kind and sympathetic with the bereaved. He also conducted the funeral service which was held at St. Andrews Presbyterian church on Wednesday afternoon, November 24th and was very largely attended. The following Hymns selected by him were sung, "The Lords My Shepherd," "Forever With the Lord" and a solo "O Think of the Home Over There" beautifully rendered by Mrs. William Garriok. The remains were conveyed by motor horse to the old cemetery, Murray Harbor North and interred beside his two sons, where the service was also conducted by Rev. Mr. Hughes. The funeral arrangements were in charge of the MacKinnon funeral home. The casket was borne by Messrs. N. J. MacPherson, W. A. Johnstone, A. J. MacLeod, James Currie, N. J. Nicholson and Warren Wightman.

Beautiful floral tributes symbols of sympathy were sent by—Crescent—Widow Wreath—Mr and Mrs. Charles Graham and family. Wreath—Trustees St. Andrews Presbyterian Church. Spray—Mrs. D. L. MacKinnon. Spray—Mrs. Lenora MacLaren and Mrs. Henry MacLaren. Spray—Miss Mary Stewart. Spray—Mr. and Mrs. A. O. MacKay. Spray—Mr. and Mrs. W. Wightman. Oh, no! not dear! but past all fear of dying And with all suffering o'er; Say not that I am dead when Jesus calls me To live for evermore. L-185-12-21-11.
