Distinctive Millinery

It is not an uncommon occurrence for our milliners to exhibit a newly designed hat and ask "Now, whom do you think this looks like?" and for the customer to reply. "Why, that hat looks like Mrs So and So." And the answer given would be correct.

Only artists can give that touch of individuality—that distinctive character that is so essential. With it the hat is different from other hats and best suited to you, without it the hat lacks character—is commonplace with hundreds of duplicates everywhere.

Let our milliners design that new hat of yours. We'll guarantee that same satisfaction to which hundreds and hundreds of other customers will testify.
