May Help Organize Germany's New Armies

Gen. Hans von Seeckt, who reorganized the German army after the war, is shown (hand to cap) with military aides as he inspected troops in Berlin. Gen. von Seeckt, who had been acting as military adviser to the Chinese National government, was reported March 22 to have sailed from Hong Kong for Germany with his staff. He is expected to take an important position in connection with the development of German's military forces.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

BIRTHDAY PICTURES

It's never too early to start taking pictures of the baby and in a few years they will prove to be one of your priceless possessions.

Too many parents look upon their children's birthday anniversaries only as a time to give them a party or a present. No one will argue against that, and it is a time to have a party. But don't miss this moment of moments the next time. Have your camera and yourself ready for action.

There never seems to be enough of these baby pictures to go around, for there are grandmothers, aunts, cousins and friends in distant cities who are always looking forward to receiving a snapshot of the newly arrived commander of the "infantry."

Everything's always the "first time" for everything and this applies to thousands of events in a baby's life. There is the first time he discovers he has toes and immediately decides in his own little mind that they are something good to eat. His first smile, and then that great moment when he reaches out with his chubby little arms and says, "Blah," which is at once interpreted by the parents to mean "Daddie" or "Mommie," sometimes depending on who is governor of the hacienda.

Volumes could be written about baby pictures but space is limited here. Whatever you do, however, don't forget that snapshots of the kiddies are important right now and in later years they will prove to be one of your priceless possessions when your children become mothers and fathers and you are among those known as grandparents.

Every month is usually considered a birthday in a baby's life until he is a year old. At least a picture a month should be made of the new boarder for the first year. You will be surprised and delighted in seeing the changes which the pictures record. After that one of you should see that the camera is always loaded, for you can never tell when your baby is going to take his first cautious, faltering step—and what an event in your life, even if it means nothing to the baby just yet. The baby is quite matter-of-fact about this adventure, but you get all excited, let out a couple of whoops, gasp, laugh and probably scare the infant so thoroughly that he falls down and has to do it all over again. The chances are that you will not be prepared for that first step, or if you should happen to be holding the camera in your hand you will, in your excitement, probably have it turned the wrong direction and get an out-of-focus picture of your midsection. But don't miss this moment of moments the next time. Have your camera and yourself ready for action.

JOHN VAN GUILDER.
