New York Funny Visitor Thinks

GERMAN HOUSEWIFE MARVELLED AT LAYOUT OF GREAT CITY

NEW YORK, May 20.—(C.P.)—Five German tourists spent yesterday in New York. One of the women in the party, a Bremen housewife, who knew some English and had visited every European nation, was asked for her impressions of New York. "We find it very funny," she said, "you have little buildings and then 50-story buildings next. In Germany the churches are outstanding and here they are between shops and O-o-o! and the cemeteries, too, squeezed in here. They look very unholly. "New York women, they look very nice. But we are not used to seeing painted women. With me, I use powder and some people boycott me because I use a little powder and lipstick, but some like it. But the ladies look here as if they were without any . . . Here she used a German word and her interpreter, after solicitously asking her to repeat it, cleared his throat and said: "Well, or well—say that she thinks they look too artificial."

"The people here," she went on, "have no idea of decorating the windows of their stores. In Germany they are very ugly. They are all so beautiful. Our small shops—how do you call it?—on the outside of town are better than Fifth Avenue. But the chauffeurs—they are the artists here. They go by right side and by left side of autos when they find the road. "I go to find some very thin stockings," she concluded. "These we have not."

NOVA SCOTIA APPLIES TO BRITISH COLUMBIA

Scientific progress seems to be upsetting a lot of commonly accepted phrases, at least that is the way it appears to work out in the case of the apple industry in the Maritime Provinces. "Carrying coals to Newcastle" is a familiar saying when one wants to convey a meaning of absurdity, but down in Berwick, Nova Scotia, a new process in dehydrating apples has been applied on a commercial scale and Nova Scotia is now sending dehydrated apples to British Columbia, according to the Industrial Department of the Canadian National Railways. British Columbia is itself a great apple growing province.

Public Invited To Air Stations

(Canadian Press)
LONDON, May 20—Many civil airdromes have announced their co-operation in Empire Air Day, May 25, which is being organized by the Air League of the British Empire, with the support of the air ministry, to allow the public to see "behind the scenes" of civil and military air work and construction. Nearly 50 R.A.F. stations will be opened to the public on the same day.

For passengers who have not flown before, several airway companies are allowing a reduction of 50 per cent on ordinary fares on their services between Cwmdon and Plymouth, Southampton, Torquay, and Hull. If the fare is returned, and the passenger wishes to come back on another day, the reduction stands over for the return journey.

May Be Unable To Compete In British Open

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
NEW YORK, May 20.—Unless special arrangements are made so they can fly from Pittsburgh to New York immediately after the United States open golf championship to make boat connections, Gene Sarazen and other professional stars of the country will abandon plans to go abroad for the British Open next month at Muirfield, Scotland.

"The only boat we can make which will get us there in time for sufficient practice leaves at midnight June 3, the final day of the American Open," said Sarazen today. "It would mean a quick hop from Oakmont and so far we have not been able to arrange airplane connections. The next boat, leaving five days later, would not allow us enough time to shake off our sea legs before the British open starts June 24." Sarazen said he understood Tommy Armour, MacDonald Smith and Henry Picard also hoped to go abroad if they could catch the earlier boat.

Channel Force Strengthened

PARIS, May 20.—France is transferring naval strength from Mediterranean waters, it was learned today, to protect herself against any possible danger from Germany's naval rearmament. The sea force which defends the British channel and North Sea French coast is being strengthened. Four torpedo boats and the destroyer Lynx are expected to be transferred from the Mediterranean to the channel fleet after manoeuvres off Morocco in early June, along with larger reinforcements later.

CZECH NAZIS PARTY MAKES STRONG GAIN

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
PRAHA, Czechoslovakia, May 20.—The Hitlerite "Sudeten German party" almost succeeded in ousting the Czech Agrarians as the strongest party in Parliament, returns from Sunday's general parliamentary election showed tonight. The Agrarians still topped the list with 44 seats in the lower House and Senate, losing only one seat, but the sudden rise of the Hitlerites gave them 44 mandates. Their energetic 37-year-old leader, Konrad Hanlein, former Austrian World War officer turned gymnastic instructor, who brought his party from obscurity to prominence in 18 months, sent a telegram to President Thomas Masaryk, giving assurance of his unwavering loyalty to the Czech constitution. Hanlein asserted his party would endeavor to solve political problems in harmony with the other factions.

CABINET RESIGNS

LONDON, May 20.—An exchange telegraph despatch tonight from Prague said the Czechoslovak Cabinet resigned following yesterday's elections which resulted in marked gains in parliament by the "Nazi" party. The despatch added that President Masaryk asked the present Cabinet to carry on the government until a new one could be formed.

AUSTRIAN VIEWPOINT

VIENNA, May 20.—The Czechoslovak election results monopolized Austrian front pages today, with editorial comment suggesting the Prague government will be forced soon to abandon parliamentary democracy, as did Austria in 1933, to meet effectively the challenge of a Nazified German minority.

Quarterly Session Sons Of Temperance

Alleged lack of concern on the part of both party leaders in the enforcement of prohibition was given by Rev. F. Baker, Grand Worthy Patriarch of the Sons of Temperance, as a reason for advising that the organization would have to "hoe our own row in efforts along this line," in addressing the quarterly session of the Grand Division at Murray River on May 15. Following is the report of the proceedings as received for publication by the Guardian:

The quarterly session of the Sons of Temperance, given at Murray River on Wednesday afternoon, May 15, with reports and work of the Order. A public meeting was held in the evening which was addressed by the Grand Worthy Patriarch, Rev. F. Baker, O'Leary and Rev. R. H. Stavert, P. M. W. P.

From the Report of the Grand Worthy Patriarch of the Sons of Temperance, given at Murray River on Wednesday afternoon: "Where the Order of the Sons of Temperance is strong and active here liquor conditions are at least fairly satisfactory. In some communities in this province these factors are reversed.

"The conclusion is inevitable, that with the spread and growth of the Order conditions under the prohibitory law grow better.

"From one end of this province to the other; from Montrose to Murray River, from twenty odd points we closely contact with subordinate Divisions, comes an almost unanimous condemnation of the law, on the part of many who would otherwise cooperate with them. There are too many known instances at hand to permit of any denial of this matter.

"Many replies to enquiries complain of the indifference of the better citizens in general, shown to the matter of law enforcement. The fact carries its own explanation. It reveals a lack of confidence in those entrusted with the enforcement of the law, on the part of many who would otherwise cooperate with them. There are too many known instances at hand to permit of any denial of this.

"Within very recent days undenied reports of disgraceful violations of law on the part of those entrusted with enforcement of the law, have come to hand. These are being followed up, and will be pressed hard.

"The law is ours, temperance workers, and not the law of the policeman. And if we want it, though he may not, it is up to us to see that it is enforced, and to lend our best aid, in the best possible ways. Do "George," the policeman, will do it for us unless he knows that we insist. And we do. And we will continue to do so. When the puny little soul, that for his (or her) own selfish interests refuses or neglects duty in enforcing this law, has gone to its own place, the principle of this law, like John Brown's body, will go marching on.

"In the light of conditions, persistently reported among the very officials set to enforce the law (and not all the reports are groundless by any means) the temperance forces of this province should unite to demand that none but total abstainers should be sent here, or

UNITED STATES PUTS BAN ON SILVER COINS

Action Viewed As Step Towards Stabilization.

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
LONDON, May 20.—A United States Treasury attaché is still continuing secret unofficial negotiations for a possible treaty stabilizing the pound sterling with the dollar, it was learned here today, though Prof. Harry White has left for the United States and the Washington Government has denied he had any official status here.

Henry Sheppard of the United States treasury, who took part in Prof. White's conversations with British financial leaders, is conducting secret parleys with Belgian officials, after similar talks in Paris, and soon will return to London, it was learned.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—A ban against imports of foreign silver coins was declared by the United States Government tonight in what was officially described as a "spirit of cooperation" with nations harassed by high silver prices. The step was taken by Secretary Henry Morgenthau of the treasury shortly after he had disclosed new researches into money conditions abroad and stated flatly no country has made currency stabilization overtures since his guarded invitation a week ago.

The silver coin embargo on all except hoarded entries was designed to aid those nations which—largely through the price-raising silver buying policy of the United States Government—are confronted with the problem of preventing the melting of their coins for sale as bullion.

Morgenthau, in a press conference, told newsmen he would not hereafter answer questions on international money stabilization. His reply, when asked specifically whether he had heard from France since his statement that the United States would not be an "obstacle" to stabilization, was: "If I had, I wouldn't answer; as it so happens, I haven't. But in future I won't answer that question."

In revealing that, he was leaving no stone unturned in assembling information which might help the country chart its future monetary course, Morgenthau said that not only had Dr. Harry White been in London gathering monetary and financial statistics, but that the treasury also had representatives both in Belgium and China doing similar work.

OTTAWA, May 20.—United States embargo against the entry of foreign silver coins will have no effect upon Canadian business, an official of the finance department said tonight. No Canadian silver coinage goes into the United States except in possible small quantities taken as pocket money by travellers.

Adjustment Of Trade Relations Is Sought

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
OTTAWA, May 20.—Trade relations between Canada and Japan are engaging the attention of an inter-departmental committee which is trying to work out a fair and satisfactory adjustment, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett told the House of Commons today. He was answering a question from Liberal leader Mackenzie King.

commissioned here, to enforce a law admitted publicly by the Premier of the province to be the most important law on the statute book.

"The government of the province has been challenged with the responsibility of undertaking the support of Adult Temperance Education, as numbers of European countries are doing, even where prohibition is not thought of as even a possibility yet. And nothing could better prove the sincerity of any government committed to a prohibition law, or more logically follow upon efforts up to the present. The response has been a disappointing refusal, unworthy of being considered an unbiased opinion.

"And the leader of the Opposition, approached on the matter, has remained as silent as the Sphinx itself. So it seems that we shall have to hoe our own row, in efforts along this line."

ETHIOPIA Trinity United Church

studied the latest appeal from Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia for League settlement of the dispute with Italy it was learned here today that Italy formally would propose the appointment of Ethiopia's two choices for the arbitration commission.

A formidable obstacle thus was put directly into the path of the peaceful agreement for which both Great Britain and France have been striving for the last two weeks. Premier Benito Mussolini it was understood, had refused to countenance Prof. Pitman Potter of the United States and M. Albert de la Pradelle of France as Ethiopia's representatives in the Somaliland border dispute, on grounds that they were not subjects of Ethiopia.

Italy's rejection of the two arbitrators will be contained in a formal note to Ethiopia, it was learned here. The note will hold that under terms of the Italo-Ethiopian arbitration treaty of 1928 the Ethiopian representatives must be citizens of that nation.

firm of Farrar & Rinehart and son-in-law of George H. Doran of Doubleday-Doran.

"Two of them went to the library of Congress under copyright provisions, six went to the author, 10 were offered for sale at a price of $20.00 each, and four went to the publisher."

As for the 10 "offered for sale at $20.00 each," Rinehart explained that the procedure was a mere compliance with copyright law, that no sales were made or expected, and that the price set was purely a fictitious one.

The best collector's price, and that only a rumor, that Rinehart could recall was $12,000 for a copy of the English edition of "The Seven Pillars." The English edition comprised 107 copies, privately printed, that originally sold for $150 each.

REPRESENTATIONS MADE TO SAN DOMINGO

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
OTTAWA, May 20.—Canada has made representations to the government of San Domingo over its recently increased duties on fish and potatoes, Minister of Trade R. B. Hanson told the House of Commons today. He promised to make a fuller statement tomorrow.

Conservative Convention

A convention of the Conservative Electors of the Second District of Queens will be held in
