Lactated Food

Is the Safest and Best Diet for Infants and Young Children.

Nearly 82 per cent of the children that die under two years of age, die from diseases which have their origin in faulty nutrition. When this enormous proportion, with the facts which show conclusively the causes that have operated to bring about this heavy mortality, is duly considered, it is at once evident that by proper nutrition many of them might be saved.

In the study of what constitutes proper nutrition, there is no correct theory except it be founded upon the study of the composition of human milk. This has been done in the preparation of LACTATED FOOD: and the success that has attended its use in every part of the world proves it to be the most perfect of all prepared food for infants and weak children. Lactated Food truly saves babies' lives. Give it a trial, dear mother. All Druggists in Canada sell Lactated Food.
