ARCH-FOE OF FASCISM IS ARRESTED

Sensation Created in Rome by the Capture of General Cesare Rossi and a Woman Companion, and Much Speculation as to Future Developments.

ROME, Sept. 1.—Arrests at the Swiss frontier of General Cesare Rossi, Arch-foe of Fascism, and of a woman companion, caused little comment here today. Despite the dramatic circumstances of their capture and the vivid personality of Rossi, the late editions of the Roman papers use only a brief agency dispatch containing the bare facts of the arrests.

The items were published under single column heads. They were not accompanied by comment and this silence, coupled with the return of Mussolini to Rome from the Northern army manoeuvres, is taken as evidence that the case has gone out of the importance of the arrest should not be over emphasized for the present.

Nevertheless there are many rumors as to the probable outcome of the case in journalistic circles and among politicians. "Cesare" as the general was nick-named when he was chief of the press office of the minister of the interior in the early days of Fascist power, is believed by his old-time intimates to have been the victim of some sort of plot. It is believed here that he must have been lured, enticed or cajoled into crossing the border. Some people think that he may even have been spirited across the frontier in the speedy automobile that bore him from Legnano to Campione. It is agreed that it would have been sheer folly for him to have attempted a re-entry to Italy in the hope of escaping detection.

Pick up Relic of Amundsen Plane

(Canadian Press)
TROMSOE, Norway, Sept. 1.—The first definite clue to the fate of Raold Amundsen and five men who accompanied him on his expedition to rescue members of the Noble Arctic party was brought here today. It was a float from the sea plane in which the adventurers started for Spitzbergen on June 18.

The relic was found by a Norwegian fishing vessel, the Brood. It was picked up near the Fugloe Islands, a rocky group off this port that is seldom approached because it is so dangerous to shipping. Officers of the steamer Michael Sars and the French vessel Durance, identified the float as belonging to the French naval seaplane Latham in which Amundsen rode with Rene Guilbaud as pilot. Comparison of the float with photographs of the plane tended to confirm the identification. Besides Amundsen and Guilbaud the plane carried Lieutenant Lief Dietrichsen and three French navy men comprising the regular crew of the plane.

FIVE PERISH IN AIRPLANE ACCIDENT

(Canadian Press)
PARIS, Sept. 2.—Maurice Bokanowski, French Minister of Commerce and Aviation, crashed to death and his body was cremated in an aeroplane accident near Toul this morning. Four others, Pilot Gabriel Hanin, Mechanic Jean Vidal, Wireless Operator Henry Willins and General-Secretary of the Aeroplane Company Edouard LeFrance, also perished.

Bokanowski spent last night at the scene of the crash, where he attended the body of the pilot who had been killed. He had been attending an informal meeting of the cabinet yesterday celebrating the Premier's 68th birthday. The machine, a Spad Bi-Plane with an air-cooled motor of 380 horse power, took off laboriously with its motor coughing but rapidly gained altitude. It was exactly 9:15 when Capt. Houdert, who was escorting the Minister's ship in a military plane, noted the Spad suddenly veer to the right when about 1500 feet above the ground. The plane rapidly descended to the ground and burst into flames.

The machine which had been in the air barely five minutes, carried 700 litres of gasoline and was headed for Clermont-Ferrand, where Bokanowski was to attend an aviation festival.

Prof. Fletcher for Sydney Church

SYDNEY, Sept. 1.—At a largely attended meeting of the boards of Saint Andrew's United Church today, Prof. W. E. Fletcher, at the present time with Trinity United, Charlottetown, was the unanimous choice as organist to succeed Professor H. W. Sparrow, recently resigned.

Prof. Fletcher is a native of Bedfordshire, England. He gave his first public pipe organ performance when but 12 years of age. He also possesses a tenor voice of fine quality. Mr. Fletcher is a soloist of marked ability.

It is expected that Prof. and Mrs. Fletcher and family will reach Sydney early in October, a Church official said tonight.

Sees Prospects for Trade Revival in Maritimes

MONCTON, Sept. 1.—Hon. H. A. McKeown, chairman of the board of railway commissioners for Canada, and Hon. T. C. Norris, of Manitoba, recently appointed a member of the board, arrived in the city on the train from Prince Edward Island shortly after noon today, and later left for Saint John.

Hon. Mr. Norris, who is making his first visit to the Maritime provinces, spoke of the pleasure it gave him to be in this section of the country, and of the general air of prosperity which he found in existence down here. The prospects for a great revival of trade here were very apparent by said, and a spirit of optimism seemed to pervade the people with whom he came in contact. "It is a wonderful country," he said, "and one of which your people might well be proud."

ADVERTISING REMEDY FOR MARITIMES

Consensus of Opinion of Business Men of Nova Scotia.

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—An air link between central Canada and the Maritime provinces was suggested by C. L. Burton, president of the Toronto Board of Trade, at a luncheon tendered the Maritime provinces trade relations party yesterday.

"The success of the future relations is bound up in the organization of an air service between the large centres of population, such as Toronto and Montreal, and the outlying parts of the Dominion and between cities of those provinces," said Mr. Burton. "I would suggest that you join with us in formulating policies which will bring the Maritime provinces into contact with central Canada through use of air-planes. We should develop closer relations so that it will not be the extraordinary thing it is now to see a delegation of Maritime business men visiting us now in Toronto at the time of our exhibition."

R. K. Smith, M. P., for Cumberland County, Nova Scotia, referring to Mr. Burton's proposal, said Nova Scotia would be solidly behind any projected improvement in communications.

Mr. Smith pointed out that Premier Rhodes had sent a questionnaire to the business men of Nova Scotia asking their opinions on ways and means for the betterment of trade relations. According to the speaker, the consensus among those who replied had been that an intensive advertising campaign and greater selling energy were needed to put Nova Scotia goods more firmly on central Canada markets.

Mr. Smith said he hoped that at the next Canadian National Exhibition there would be a Maritime province building in which to show the goods of the Maritime Provinces.

Maine apple crop suffering

AUGUSTA, Me., Aug. 31.—The Fall web worm is seriously damaging the Maine apple crop, according to State Horticulturist G. A. Yeaton. The web worm is a hairy caterpillar of a grayish brown color, an inch long and a voracious feeder. It will take out fruit as fast as it grows. Dr. Yeaton recommends spraying with arsenate of lead to combat the pest.

GLACE BAY'S A MUSICIANS IN THREE SACRED CONCERTS

Local Music Lovers Turn Out In Large Numbers To Hear This Celebrated Group of Players

Over the week-end citizens of Charlottetown have been accorded a rare treat on the occasion of the visit to the city of the Glace Bay Salvation Army Band. In three performances, people thronged to hear this talented aggregation, who in vocal and instrumental selections of a very high order delighted their hearers. The band is composed entirely of miners and it is owing to their credit and to the Bandmaster Mr. E. Ferneynough, that owing to the double-shifts in spite of practices at only three-week intervals owing to the night and day shifts in the collieries they have attained such a high degree of perfection in their role as musicians.

The players first made their appearance at the Hertz Memorial Hall on Saturday evening when a large crowd was present. His Honour Lieutenant-Governor Hertz presided and in complimentary remarks welcomed the players to the city.

Programme

1. March, "Flag of Freedom". (Coles)—Band.
2. Vocal Solo, Selected. Bandsman F. Ferneynough.
3. Euphonium Solo, "True to Death" (Arr. by Brig. Hawkes)—Bandsman E. Davis with Band.
4. Male Trio, "I Want My Life to Tell"—Bandsman S. Ferneynough, M. Rankin, and F. Ferneynough.
5. Cornet Solo, "Silver Threads" (Arr. by Bandmaster Twitcheen)—Bandsman S. Ferneynough with Band.
6. Piano Solo, "Valse Impromptu" (R. V. Gebhardt)—Mr. Tom Crompton.
7. Hymn Tunes, "Forward be Our Watchword", "Princethorpe"—Band.
8. Bible Reading—Bandsman C. Cameron.
9. Trio, "Saved by Grace" (Stebbins).
10. Male Chorus, "Comrades in Battle" (Townner).
11. Air Variet, "My Homeward Journey" (Bandmaster Swanson)—Band.
12. Brass Quartette, "Scotia"—Bandsman F. Ferneynough, M. Rankin and E. Davis.
13. Selection, "Nearer to Thee" (Scotley)—Band.
14. Male Trio, "Just Abide".

Yesterday afternoon a large crowd was on hand at Queen Square to hear the second sacred concert and in the evening the Prince Edward ward was crowded to capacity with several local ministers on the stage. The programmes were much the same as in the first performance. The local branch of the Salvation Army is indeed to be commended for bringing this excellent group of musicians before the public.

CROWDED HOUSE ENJOYS ETHEL MAY SHOREY DRAMA

The reputation of the Ethel May Shorey Co. has steadily increased since its first appearance here a fortnight ago and Saturday night saw a crowded audience in the Prince Edward to see the rural comedy drama "One New Year's Eve". The expectant audience was not disappointed, for a really great performance was given, moving the audience from laughter to tears and from boisterous hilarity to intense silence waiting developments. The story was a simple one, played with pathos and a moving sense of sincerity.

There were two brothers, Jerry and Jack Graham, the elder stayed at home on the farm and did well, the other went to the city and did badly. The younger came home on holiday, courted and married the elder's sweetheart; returned to the city and disappeared leaving a baby girl alone.

The elder brother adopted his niece, the child of his old sweetheart. One day a burglar entered his house whom he recognized as his long-lost brother. After explanations, the burglar promised to reform and did so, returning on New Year's Night in a position to give his daughter a handsome present on her approaching marriage.

The parts were all well taken, and most capably acted, especially the double part of Nellie Leighton and Nellie Graham, by Miss Shorey. The others were:

Jack Graham—Fred S. Campbell; Jerry Graham—Frank H. Dowling; Dick Carter—Harry W. Marble; David—Edward W. Stone; Maggie—Hazel E. Roswell; Mrs. Graham—Alleen A. Aikins.

Tonight the engagement closes with the comedy drama—"The Modern Devil".

MARITIMES LAUDED AT HART HOUSE BANQUET

(Special to the Guardian)
TORONTO, Sept. 1.—A closer connection between the Maritimes and the province of Ontario was consummated last evening when 300 Maritimers including members of the Maritime Provinces Association, of Toronto and the large delegation of guests from the Maritimes, visiting Ontario gathered at a banquet dinner at Hart House. Geo. H. Sedgewick, K.C., Pres., presided, stressing the splendid contributions made by the Maritime Provinces in distinguished leaders whose influence had been felt in Ontario.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, premier of Ontario, presented the toast to Canada. "One of the greatest of lieutenant-governors we ever had in Ontario has been contributed by the Maritime Provinces," said the premier, who also paid a tribute to Mr. Ross, the gracious lady of the Government House.

The Maritime Provinces, he claimed, had played an important part in the intellectual and cultural life of Canada. He dwelt upon the necessity of forgetting provincialism and parochialism in the work of building the empire and of holding more interprovincial rallies.

"We regard you as much a part of the Dominion as we are ourselves," claimed the premier paying a tribute to the part the Maritimes played in the affairs of Canada.

Hon. Richard B. Bennett, responding claimed no one could properly respond to the toast of Canada without coming from the Maritimes. The Maritimes, he reminded the audience, had given three premiers to the dominion. Questioning what he had made these Maritime men what they were, Mr. Bennett declared that while unable to speak with authority for their governments, expressed themselves as strongly in favor of the idea.

TRADE MATTERS DISCUSSED AT CONFERENCE

(Canadian Press)
TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 2.—Developing a market for products of the Maritime Provinces in Ontario, as a solution for the economic problems which confront Canada's Atlantic seaboard, will occupy the attention of a committee, which will be organized, it was decided yesterday.

Tropical Storm

(Canadian Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The appearance of tropical disturbance of slight or moderate intensity apparently centred a short distance west of Port-au-Prince, Haiti, caused the weather bureau to issue at ten o'clock this morning an advisory storm warning to vessels bound for Cuba and adjacent waters to use caution during the next twenty-four hours. The disturbance was moving in a westerly-northwestward direction.
