

PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION

Continued from page 1 of him. Did not know them. Did not see anything of prisoner that evening. Court then adjourned for dinner. DANIEL MALONE (sworn). I live in Miscouche. I have lived there thirty years. Have known the prisoner all his life. Saw Doherty on Sunday morning between nine and ten o'clock. He was on the sidewalk about fifty yards from the chapel. Saw McMillan in church on Sunday morning. Did not see McMillan after that. The balance of this evidence was practically the same as that of Prosper DesRoche with reference to finding of the body. IRVING GILLIS (sworn). I live in Miscouche—lived there all my life. Miscouche about ten or fifteen years ago. Have known Doherty for ten or twelve years. Saw both on Sunday. Was with him when he went to his home with him from church. He seemed in good health. Saw him again in the evening about seven, on the railroad passing Miscouche station in company with others—Bella McDonald, Regine Gillis and Panny Durve all going towards St. Eleanor's. Did not see him again that evening. Saw Doherty about four o'clock at the post office. He was alone. I spoke to him. I asked him if he had gone home to his tea, and returned soon. His home would be about three quarters of a mile from the post office. He said he had not been home yet. Do you remember of any more conversation. Do not remember McMillan's name being mentioned in our conversation. Nothing said about any of the girls mentioned as being with McMillan in the evening. I saw the prisoner before and after I saw McMillan and the girls. Was playing football with him in a field near the station. There was a good crowd. It was at this time that I saw McMillan and the girls. They could see from where we were playing football. Do not know if Doherty saw the girls or not. There was nothing to obstruct the view. I saw Doherty looking in the direction of the girls. There were some remarks made about McMillan and the girls. Do not remember what they were. I think it was "Look, Lon," or something like that. Do not know who made those remarks. Do not know if Doherty heard them or not. Saw Doherty looking once. Do not know if it was before or after. Doherty did not make any reply that I remember. I understood the words to refer to Stella McDonald, the rest of the girls and McMillan. The expression evidently was made for the prisoner's benefit. These were all the remarks I remember of. Did not hear Doherty make any answer. We played football for about three-quarters of an hour afterwards. Do not know where Doherty went to. Did not see him after that. The remainder of Gillis' evidence referred to the finding of the body of which details are given in the evidence of Prosper DesRoche. After finding the body and taking it to the C. M. B. A. Hall I saw Doherty opposite the Richmond Hotel. He was with Walter Schurman in a carriage. As he was driving past he gave me the time of day. After driving past a short distance he stopped the horse and called me over to the wagon. Then he said "Is not this an awful thing I have done?" I asked him if he did it. He said "Yes." I think he said that he had come to give himself up. He asked me what he would do when he went to court. I told him I did not know what he would do. There was a rumor around that he was going to commit suicide. I advised him not to. He said "No, I am not going to." He saw Constable Gough coming up from the train and asked me where he was going, that he did not think he or they could arrest him until after the inquest. He asked me where Gough was going. I said he might be going on some Prohibition case. Schurman heard all this. There was something said in reference to the murder. He asked me what some people thought of the murder. He asked me what my father thought. I told him he did not think very favorably of him. I asked him why he said it. He said he did not know. He said he had no intention of killing him. He was walking on the track and did not notice them till he got up to them. He said he had a revolver in his pocket and his hand on it. When he got up to them then he took out the revolver and fired. He said he was very sorry. He asked me how Stella McDonald felt. I think he asked me if I were over there. This was about 11.30 on Monday morning when I was talking to him. I saw him again at the commencement of the inquest. He was sitting down in the hall. Did not see him again to speak to him. Dr. A. McLELLAN (sworn)—I am a medical doctor residing in Summerside. Have been practicing about twenty years. Knew McMillan slightly. Was called to Miscouche, Monday, May 11, by Dr. J. F. McNeill by telephone. On entering the hall in company with Dr. J. F. McNeill and the coroner we found the body of Joseph McMillan on a stand. Body was rigid. Found a good deal of hemorrhage on the outside of the clothes above abdomen. Face and hair covered with clotted blood. Found two wounds on face, one below left cheek three quarters of an inch from the nose, passing it behind the left eye. We found another wound on the left temple through which we passed a probe, passing it behind the left eye. We found another wound on the left temple through which we passed the probe to the other eye on a level. On the face found powder stains on the left side, extending from the upper wound the hair on the left temple was slightly signed. The wound was about one quarter by one-half of an inch. On the cheekbone the wound was more circular and jagged than the other. The temple wound was circular. On removing the vest we found a perforation on the left side. The shirt and linder were also perforated. A ragged wound, about three-eighths by one-quarter, to the left, slightly above the navel. We passed a probe through this wound and found a slight abrasion on the spinal cord, the rest of the skin was intact. The left eye was partly open and the right one closed. On removing the scalp. We found a large clot of blood on the right side about three inches in diameter, and about three inches from top of ear. Three inches above the right ear we found a fracture of the skull. At the outside of the fracture we found a flattened bullet. Removed the brain and found it normal. On bisecting the brain we found another bullet about a quarter of an inch from the right interior skull level with wound at right. Bullets produced. On opening the abdomen found about two quarts of clotted blood on the left side near the region of external wound found a perforation of the bowels about two feet from the stomach, and another perforation about a foot from there. We opened the chest and found all the organs normal. Removed all the organs of the body, and found them normal except the pelvis of the left kidney, around which was a good deal of hemorrhage, due to injury to the blood vessels. The deeper tissues surrounding the left pelvis were very much congested which prevented us from locating the bullet with any amount of accuracy. Examined by Attorney-General—Wound in temple was probably caused by a bullet as was also one in the cheekbone. The wound in the body was caused by the appearance of it by a bullet. I am familiar with bullet wounds, and would say that the wounds as described were made by bullets. The wound on the temple, or the one on the left cheek, would cause, in my opinion, instant death. Death would not be instantaneous in the case of the wound in the body, but it would eventually cause death. Have no doubt but that death was

English Business Man And Sunday School Teacher Discovered to be a Robber Has Been Living a Double Life—Used to Disapper Nightly.

LONDON, May 13.—The solution of the mystery of the theft in December last of $25,000 worth of diamonds from the bedroom of the wife of Capt. David Beatty, of Brockley Hall is promised with the arrest of John Frederick Spencer, a remarkable Jekyll and Hyde Sunday school teacher and burglar. Mrs. Beatty was Ethel, eldest daughter of the late Marshall Field, of Chicago. The arrest of Spencer was the culmination of a series of the most skillfully executed burglaries in the fashionable Melton Mowbray and Leicester districts ever perpetrated in England. Scotland Yard itself all but admitted defeat in unravelling the mystery. Time after time detectives made an arrest, only to be compelled to release the prisoner for lack of evidence. Suspicion never once fell on Spencer, who was regarded as a model business man of Leicester, running a dry goods store there on week days and teaching a large Sunday school of boys and girls on Sunday. He attended meetings of charity organizations, gave liberally to the poor, and was personally acquainted with many of the best people of Leicester. At night, however, he was always mysteriously missing; and it now develops that, armed with a set of burglar's tools, and with opiate and poisons with which he quipped sleepers and killed troublesome dogs he was robbing many of the persons whose acquaintances he made in business and in church. He was finally captured by the merest accident, the policeman into whose arms he ran all but refusing to believe his eyes when he tore the mask from Spencer's face. Burglaries in which the booty is valued at several hundreds of thousands of dollars are now laid at Spencer's door, and he has just admitted that the jimmy found in his possession is the same with which entrance was gained to Capt. Beatty's residence. Among the articles stolen at the latter place were two diamond rings presented to Mrs. Beatty by the late Marshall Field and valued at $5,000 each, and the prospect of retaining them as a result of the arrest of Spencer has greatly delighted her.

SEVERE PAINS IN THE GROIN.

Trying Experience of a Well Known Citizen in St. John, N. B. The case of Mr. Chas. F. Olive, for years foreman in the "Gazette" of St. John, N.B., is a striking evidence of the power of Ferruzone. No remedy has such a record for restoring sufferers from acute stomach and kidney trouble; it invariably does cure. "For several years" writes Mr. Olive, "I have had kidney trouble and until quite recently I suffered torture. A few months ago my condition assumed a very serious form. I consulted several city doctors, used different pills, but without the slightest benefit. I suffered from an intense pain in the groin; and the increasing seriousness of my trouble prompted me to try Ferruzone. It gave me quick relief, and a half-dozen boxes cured. Ferruzone I can recommend as a specific for disordered kidneys." Won't you try Ferruzone too, 50c. per box at all dealers in medicine.

BRITAIN'S GOLD FLOWS TO CANADA

Tribute To This Country's Stability-- Addresses At Club Banquet.

LONDON, May 13 — A distinguished gathering attended the Canada Club dinner at the Ritz Hotel last week.

Charles A. Henson who presided testified as to Canada's stability during the crisis and expatiated on the value of the fact that London, the financial centre of the world, had been thrown open to the Dominion to a remarkable extent during the last sixteen months and at least $25,000,000 sent to Canada on the most gratifying terms. This was an intelligent preference and an emphatic answer to the allegation that there was an appalling ignorance about Canada throughout the empire (Applause). The chairman also referred to the tenacious celebration amidst enthusiasm. W. Kerr George of Toronto, vice-president of the Sterling bank, emphasized Canada's determination to be a portion of the empire which would not only circle the world, but dictate the peace thereof. Regarding naval defense of Canada's position today. The time would come when Canadians should assume their share of the burden—(applause)—or stop talking. (Hear, hear.) Lord Vivian, Sir H. Craig and Hon. J. W. Taverne also spoke.

BLACK PAPER AND WHITE INK

Curious Scheme Advocated By Wisconsin Paper Makers Local Comment.

APPLETON, Wis., May 13.—Wisconsin manufacturers of print paper have put forth a proposition, which, if adopted, will, it is said, revolutionize that print paper industry as well. They propose that newspapers in the future be printed in white on black paper instead of black on white paper, this bringing about a saving of millions of dollars annually in pulp wood, assisting in the preservation of forests, and reducing the price of news paper to about one half the present price. Black paper can be made of old newspapers and almost any fibrous stock, while white paper requires spruce and hemlock wood. Wisconsin paper manufacturers will try to interest Eastern manufacturers, and, if possible, bring about concerted action with the publishers of the country. Prominent paper manufacturers in Toronto are inclined to be incredulous about the good faith of any such proposition. The point out there is an agitation in the United States to take off the counterblast to set blowing until the agitation dies down. Apart from the fact that the public would not tolerate such a change, they doubt the utility. The kind of stock referred to is now used in wrapping papers, which sell at from 3 to 5 cents per pound, while white paper sells for about 23 cents. Besides the color is not the only thing which prevents old newspapers being more largely used in print papers than at present. The fibre is broken and shortened at each beating, and this prevents more than a certain proportion of old paper stock being used in making any kind of paper.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

Opera House, Thursday May 21, 1908

The Royal Scots Concert Party are on this date. All lovers of Scotch weird melody will appreciate the opportunity to see the exponents of those who comprise the above named music, sweet, harmonious, and appealing, will find the chance of a thousand to hear it, in its full completeness, harmonious, tuneful and melodious.

MR. FRED HOWARD

The talented people who form the Royal Scots Concert Party, leave nothing to desire by any who listen to them. They sing their way to all hearts, rendering the melodies of the home land, with an exquisite sweetness and power. Miss Flora Donaldson selects from a large repertoire. It has been said that her rendering of "Scotland" is inimitable—no one else ever approaching the manner in which she sends this song forth, with all its marvellous sweetness, and heart searching melody. The "Skye Boat Song" too, is a grand selection—but then all this wonderful artist does is beyond cavil. Of Mr. Geo. Neill and Mr. Fred Howard so much could be said, that it would take columns to give any idea of their powers as entertainers of the ordinary; while the Pianist, Mr. Leslie Colborne is a master hand at a master instrument, every touch responding to his call, like the soul responding to invisible promptings. Mr. Howard is a ventriloquist of more than ordinary abilities, and the wide range of subject—the quality and perfectness of the rendering—the all round excellence of each and every performer and performance, give the Royal Scots Concert Party the high rank in the list of superb entertainments for the coming season. Price 25, 35 and 50 cents.
