SCRANTON DAILY NEWS in speaking of the Ravel Humpty Dumpty Company, that is to appear at the Opera House, Charlottetown, on Friday and Saturday nights, says: If ever an audience was delighted they were last week when the Ravel Humpty Dumpty Company appeared at the academy and even standing room was industriously sought by late comers. To shelve Humpty Dumpty would be a positive cruelty to general humanity. The antics of Ravel a rollicking clown were as funny as genius and ludicrousness could well make them. The columbine, harlequin and pantaloons were exceedingly cleverly rendered by the strong cast. The scenery was new and bright, the tricks startling and up-to-date, a bevy of beautiful young ladies added greatly, while the songs, dances, sketches, juggling and acrobatic novelties of the olio gave evidence of fine ability. The matinee on Saturday afternoon will be a special feature.

EASTERN NOTES.—Though much of the harvest was gathered the last few fine days, some of it in rather indifferent condition, a considerable portion is still in the fields. Threshing mills are now in demand, and the services of that energetic workman, James Leet, with his mill of latest style and modern improvements are in much demand. In this department advancement is to be seen as well as in others, the old hand-turned fan-mill is rapidly becoming a thing of the past, following the riddle and the sieve which it supplanted to the lumber lofts of the antiquarian. The boys of this generation who leave the threshing barn at dark with the day's work done, have no reason to feel jealous of their predecessors who had to stay at a late hour separating the chaff and the grain by the style then in vogue.—The schools in this part are all taking their autumn vacation and the non-resident teachers of which there are a good many, have gone to their respective homes to recuperate and to return with renewed energies to pursue their important calling during the winter term.—Rev. Mr. Morrison is supplying the South Lake Church at present. Deacon Scott holds services at West River in the absence of a regularly settled pastor. A large appreciative and attentive congregation assemble every Sabbath Day to listen to one who has spent many years in the service of the Master.—Much of the fruit was blown from the trees by the fearful September gale but the orchard of William McLean being well sheltered, saved a good portion of the apples and the plums.—Visitors to his hospitable home are certain of a good deal of fruit.

THEORIES ABOUT CATARRH.

Peculiar Ideas Regarding a Common Disease.

Mark Twain's cure for a cold in the head was simple, but he claims very effective in his own case; his plan was to eat nothing whatever for twenty-four hours, or presumably until the trouble had disappeared.

Although not able to speak from personal experience as to the effectiveness of this treatment, it certainly has the merit of extreme economy, but it occurs to us that the application of it to a case of nasal catarrh might be attended with difficulties.

Catarrh, as everyone knows, is a chronic cold in the head and Mr. Twain's treatment, if it should become a fad, would make of us a nation of fasters; an army, emulating the example of the immortal Tanner who achieved world wide fame by fasting forty days.

Catarrh is becoming a national disease and there is little doubt but that errors in diet, particularly over eating is a very common cause.

Most people however are more interested in the cure of the trouble than in the cause, and modern medical science has produced more effective and less heroic remedies than Mr. Twain's.

Guaiacol is a new remedy, very effective in some forms of Catarrh. Eucalyptol is another which on account of its antiseptic properties is very valuable, while many severe cases of Chronic Catarrh have been entirely cured by the sanguinaria or extract of Blood root alone.

Within a year an enterprising chemist has combined all these remedies in tablet form, palatable and convenient and the superiority of this tablet over other catarrh remedies is so apparent that all druggists now carry them in stock to supply the popular demand.

They are called Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and it is doubtful if any medicine has achieved a national popularity in so short a time as this.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are used by thousands of travelling men because they can be carried in the pocket and used any time and in any quantity being free from Cocaine, opiate or any poisonous drug.

They clear the head and throat from the disgusting secretions of catarrh, very often in a few hours time.

For nasal Catarrh they are far superior to any wash, lotion or ointment, the use of which is often as inconvenient and annoying as the disease itself.

For coughs, colds, bronchial catarrh and catarrh of the stomach these tablets give immediate relief and a permanent cure where lotions, douches and inhalers make no impression whatever.

This preparation is a boon to catarrh sufferers. Any druggist will tell you that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is a remedy that has come to stay.
