The COUGH THAT WINTER Leaves Behind

In many instances the recurring coughs and colds of the winter leave serious traces behind in the form of chronic affections of the throat, bronchial tubes or lungs. These ailments do not yield to ordinary cough remedies; they must be overcome by building up the entire system. The right remedy is

Jamieson's Emulsion Cod Liver Oil With Hypophosphites

This is a revitalizing tonic that has direct influence on the tissues of the air passages. It is the most reliable of all remedies for the cure of chronic coughs and bronchitis or for any debilitated condition of the system. Two sizes 35 and 75 cents.

THE CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 28, 1907.

Tomorrow, being Good Friday and a public holiday no issue of The Guardian will appear.

THE TRADE CONFERENCE.

No one who attended the Conference of the Island Boards of Trade held in this City on Tuesday, and no one who read the names of the delegates will doubt the thoroughly representative character of that body. It represented very fairly and fully the commercial and business interests of all sections of the Province. What was of equal importance was that the assembled delegates wasted no time in idle speech making or prolix discussion. They had met for business and they set about their work in a business-like way, collecting and collating facts and embodying these facts in resolutions all of which were unanimously adopted.

The result was the series of forcible and weighty resolutions printed in The Guardian yesterday. They show up in a clear and unmistakeable way the handicap imposed upon our import and export trade and passenger traffic by the three short-haul rates, and the urgent necessity of an equitable through rate in its stead. This is not a new grievance, but it is all the more oppressive and unjust from being long-continued. We must agitate continually in this matter until redress is obtained. Our other disabilities are so great that this added grievance of heavy transport charges is a clear oppression, all the more inexcusable, because it is imposed upon the smallest Province of the Dominion by the powers that be.

Last and best of all the, assembled delegates by unanimous vote affirmed a conviction "stronger than ever before" in favor of the Tunnel, and reaffirmed the strong resolution adopted in 1905 on that vital subject. All honor to the Conference for this timely and important action! No other or alternative motion for establishing physical union between this Province and the other Provinces was considered or even mentioned. There can be no doubt hereafter—there was none before—as to what our merchants, shippers and business men desire as a permanent remedy for our transport disabilities. We sincerely trust that the Legislature before it closes may do precisely what our business men have done, by reaffirming a conviction stronger than ever before in favor of the Tunnel. It would be a patriotic resolve and would help forward the good work upon which our people have set their hopes for the future,

BUILD THE MISSING LINK.

The Intercolonial, in other words the Between-the-Colonies Railway, was originally stipulated in the B. N. A. Act, to be "a railway connecting the River St. Lawrence with the city of Halifax." That meant the construction of the connecting link between Moncton and Riviere du Loup. Thereafter the Grand Trunk line between Riviere du Loup and Quebec was purchased and made part of the Intercolonial. Later, in Mr. Blair's time the I. C. R. was extended to Montreal, Mr. Emmerson would now have it extended to Toronto, 300 miles further, at a cost of not less than $15,000-000. We do not object to these costly extensions westward if the east is not forgotten. But to extend the Government system further west and leave out the link necessary to connect the I. C. R. and the P. E. I. R. at the Capes would be most unjust. The western Provinces have many rail connections; Prince Edward Island has none. The Tunnel would make the I. C. R. a real Intercolonial by adding another Province to its system.

The case becomes stronger when we recall that the original Intercolonial was also extended eastward 200 miles from Truro to Sydney, and the company road from Chatham to Fredericton, 110 miles was purchased and added to the Intercolonial a few years ago. Here are extensions of the Government Railway system in Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia which were not included in the original stipulation with regard to the Intercolonial. All this time the promised continuous, efficient steam service to connect Prince Edward Island with the Mainland remains unfulfilled, the missing link at the Capes not supplied and the true mission of the Intercolonial as a physical bond between the Eastern Provinces of Canada is by so much a failure. The vast expenditures already made to extend the I. C. R. east and west form the strongest possible claim for the construction of the Tunnel, which short link, once built, would also be a great feeder to the entire system.

THE GOVERNMENT RAILWAYS.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson's statement in Parliament of the accounts of the Intercolonial for the fiscal year 1906 showed a gross revenue of $7,643,830 and a gross expenditure of $7,581,914 giving a surplus of $92,882. To this he added the surplus on the Windsor Branch of $31,967.

In the previous year the Prince Edward Island Railway made a deficit of $153,134. This was reduced in 1906 to $36,983, an improvement of $116,151. Thus the entire Government Railway system paid its way and had nearly $60,000 to the good for the year, according to Mr. Emmerson. But Mr. Haggart, an ex-Minister of Railways, claimed that far too much had been charged to capital account, and that there was an actual deficit of over $1,500,000.

For the first six months of the current year, July 1st to 31st December last, the Intercolonial did still better, according to the Minister and in that time earned a surplus of $370,656, and this notwithstanding the fact that the wages alone have been increased by $1,000,000 since 1900.

The improved earnings have had the good effect of killing the movement which had been set on foot to transfer the Intercolonial to a company. Mr. Emmerson deserves the thanks of the Maritime Provinces for his strong determination to hold on to the railway as a Government work. He also expresses his opinion that it should be extended to Toronto, 300 miles, and that the branch lines should be absorbed.

It is earnestly to be hoped that the business of Parliament may be so advanced as to enable Sir Wilfrid Laurier to attend the Colonial Conference. Both sides of the House recognize the importance of his going, and this gives hope that the way thereto may be open.

Beyond question the sentiment of the majority of our people is opposed to the existence of clubs at which liquors are dispensed. Admittedly, however, the question is a difficult one to deal with and the Temperance Alliance, while proposing other amendments to the law did not see fit to deal with this at the present time. Partly on this ground and because the Club Amendment was viewed as containing an element of party strategy, it was voted down, right or wrong. When the Opposition come into power they may perhaps renew their effort to strengthen the law by passing the Club Amendment.

DYSPEPSIA.

Medical science doesn't seem to be able to cure it. One professor says one thing about it, another professor says another thing and all the time people keep on suffering terribly. Now what's the use of wasting words in arguing the matter? Why don't you get some Hutch tablets and try them? Take one after each meal. Plenty of people have cured themselves in this way, and that ought to be proof enough that it will cure you too. It is an unusual medicine and does unusual things. It's a doctor for sent for $1.00. One gives relief.
