H. D. Raymond, M. A. In order of merit: Vera Hardy, Jessie Jenkins, Florence Ings, Hazel Kennedy. The above are pupils of Miss Ella Palmer.

A HEAVY LOSER. - Mr. D. A. Horton of Gladstone was a heavy loser as a result of the recent forest fire in his community. He had about thirty acres of lumber land run over by the fire. Some of the residents of the locality had a strenuous time saving their buildings. It appears that the fire was first started several days prior to Monday 31st ult when such a gale blew, by a man who wished to get rid of a pile of stumps in his field. The high wind carried embers to the nearby woods and hundreds of dollars worth of wood land was partially destroyed.

AN ACCIDENT. - Mr. Bert Strickland while engaged in his work in the carpenter shop of the P. E. I. R., yesterday forenoon met with a painful accident. He was sawing out a wedge on the circular saw when it flew out striking him with great force on the mouth knocking out two of his front teeth and splitting both upper and lower lips and otherwise cutting his face. He was taken to the P. E. I. Hospital where the wounds were attended to.

ISLANDER'S BRILLIANT RECORD. - Mr. W. T. Anderson of Morrell was a passenger on last night's train returning from Toronto. While there he attended the convocation of Toronto University, when the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy was conferred on his son, Mr. Fulton H. Anderson, M. A., a graduate of Prince of Wales in 1913. It will be remembered that Dr. Anderson, last year was awarded the Proctor's Scholarship, the highest honor available in Princeton University. The Guardian heartily congratulates Dr. Anderson and his parents on this splendid distinction. Dr. Anderson expects to spend his vacation at his Morrell.

Ferryman Was at His Wits End

DODGE HAD LOST FIFTY POUNDS AND COULDN'T SLEEP-TANLAC AGAIN PROVES MERIT

"I've been battling myself on the back ever since I took a friend's advice and tried Tanlac, for the way it overcame my stomach trouble was really wonderful," said Thornton M. Dodge, of the Dartmouth Ferry Service, who lives on Stair St., Dartmouth, N. S. "When I look back on the past four years and all that I've gone through on account of indigestion, it just seems like a dreadful nightmare. I couldn't eat a thing but what it would soar on my stomach and a bitter liquid would come up into my mouth afterwards. Then gas would form and bloat me up until I would almost choke and I would have cramping pains all through the stomach. At last I became afraid to eat because I knew I should suffer much afterwards, and I often left the table without touching a bite. I lost fifty pounds in weight, couldn't sleep well at nights and hadn't a scrap of energy. In fact I was just about down and out and was at my wits ends to know what to do, for although I had tried all kind of medicine, it was like throwing my money away for all the good they ever did me. "A friend of mine who had been greatly helped by Tanlac advised me to try it, and I'm sure glad I did for it has done me a world of good. I now have a splendid appetite and can eat anything I fancy without ever being bothered with sourness or gas or indigestion of any kind. I've been gaining in weight right along, sleep fine every night, and indeed feel better in every way than I have for years past. There isn't anything on the market that can hold a candle to Tanlac as a medicine for stomach trouble, and after what it has done for me I am glad of this opportunity to recommend it. Tanlac is sold in Charlottetown by Reddin Bros., in Montague by H. J. Mabon, and by the leading druggists in every town.

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES BY DELLA E. STEWART

It is the easiest thing in the world to make any one believe that he is misused. Some of us are so very sensitive that we'd make the plant by that name blush for shame—if it could. We have more than half a belief that somebody isn't using us just right, and that somebody else has been snubbing us. And when one gives way to a feeling like that it's only a question of a very short time when some friend or neighbor will come around to assure us that we are perfectly right. This tendency is showing itself at the present time in all walks of life. Nervous women are not the only ones who are revelling in alarming symptoms. Younger ones are telling their wrongs, men and women are enlarging on industrial troubles, all are finding fault with politics, President, and nation at large. In other countries the very same thing prevails. Every one is telling others how wrong the existing order is and what ought to be done to make it better. But there's one curious characteristic about all who thus fault-find and criticize and suggest with large wisdom. Very seldom, indeed, do we find one of them really going to work to make better conditions. It seems to so exhaust all their energies—this regarding themselves as victims of oppression and all sorts of ills—that scant strength is left for efforts for construction. If mere fault-finding ever did any good it would be different. But does it? Does being found fault with ever inspire us to go our best? Does sharp criticism ever set us on the path to wiser action? Does retaliation ever arouse our better selves? Does it We're all very much alike, after all—"sisters under the skin." We'd only realize this very simple truth in our dealings with others more harmonious.

Won't Stain the Pockets The younger men, and particularly the better dressed men, prefer STAG Cheewing Tobacco because it is so clean to carry, as well as so rich and satisfying in flavor. STAG may be carried in the pocket without the need of it being wrapped. All dealers have STAG, the flat Cheewing Tobacco that is "Ever-lastingly Good"
