Party Changes
(Canadian Press)
HALIFAX, April 13—Striking evidence of how the personal political picture changes will be emphasized when lines are drawn for a general election in Nova Scotia this year. Of the nine men who took places in the executive council when the Conservative government came into power in 1925, but three remain as the government goes to the people for the second time since the 1925 victory.

CREATION OF MARKETING BOARD SOUGHT
(Canadian Press)
HALIFAX, April 13—Creation of a marketing board with wide scope in extending the sale of Nova Scotia's primary and manufactured products is authorized under a bill given third reading in the Legislature today.

Bill Is Given Third Reading In Nova Scotia Legislature.

Non-political in personnel and with its members representative of the industries of the province, the board will seek to ascertain markets open to Nova Scotia products and plan an output in conformity with the available demand, Premier Gordon S. Harrington declared as the house considered the measure in committee of the whole.

The Premier explained that the board's work would first consist in securing information through trade commissioners in England, the West Indies and Upper Canada. Then, representatives might be appointed to make direct contact with buyers to urge the purchase of Nova Scotia goods.

The Government had not reached final decision as to the personnel of the board, Premier Harrington declared; but he added the hope that men of the highest type could undoubtedly be induced to give part-time service. Members would not be appointed permanently, although a full-time secretariat would be maintained.

Opposition speakers added commendation of the Government measure. "Reading through the bill, I would almost think it originated on this side of the house," C. W. Anderson, (Liberal, Guysboro) declared. W. McL. Robertson (Liberal, Shelburne) asserted there had been "no more important piece of legislation before the house" since he became a member.

Opposition leader A. S. McMillan favored the step taken in the bill.

Victoria

A GREAT ANNIVERSARY

Towards the end of 1834 a whaling station was founded at Portland on the south-west coast. The rest of Victoria was a wilderness—a gum-tree forest, interspersed with rolling downs, traversed by aborigines. Early in 1835 Melbourne was reached by an expedition from Tasmania, while the hinterland was explored by stock owners, travelling from Sydney in search of rich pastures for their cattle. On October 18 of next year, 1834, the Victorian people will begin the celebration of their State's hundredth birthday, and will continue the festivities for some weeks. They believe that they have something to show visitors from other parts of the world that will be of fascinating interest and educative value.

Within a hundred years Victoria has become a State traversed throughout its 87,000 square miles with railways and served by electric power in every town and village. It is a manufacturing centre, and, with Sydney has probably the finest art collections in the Southern Hemisphere. Its people are proud of their industry and cultural attainments; they are sport-loving, and visitors from other parts of the world have given them a reputation for great cheeriness and cheerful hospitality. These are the ordinary claims of propaganda, but it has to be admitted that they have a good basis in solid fact.

October and November in Victoria, when the main events of the celebration will be held, are months in which the Victorian climate nears its perfection. September, October and November is the Australian springtime, when a temperate sun shines from cloudless blue skies; when the public and private gardens are aglow with blooms and field and forest present panoramas of green and gold, the gold being represented by the native wattle-blossom. Safe, smooth bitumen roads traverse the State and lead the motorists to scenic grandeur and beauty.

OUR WARRIOR DEAD

Not the least of the events of the Centenary Celebration will be the formal opening of the Shrine, erected by the people of Victoria, on an eminence near St. Kilda Road, Melbourne, to honor the soldiers who fell in the Great War. The cost of this monument, which towers over the landscape in gleaming

Grandson Of The Late Hon. W.H. Pope Receives Promotion

IMPORTANT STAFF CHANGES ANNOUNCED BY BANK OF MONTREAL

MONTREAL, April 13—Three important staff changes, effective on the first of July next were announced today by the Bank of Montreal. G. C. Cassels, Assistant General Manager of the Bank with supervision of the London and Paris Offices, has reached pension age and is retiring. Edward Pope, Manager of the Branch at Halifax, N. S., and Superintendent of the Maritime Provinces District, has been transferred to London as Manager of the London Branch. James Garrow, Manager of the Staff Department at Head Office has been appointed to succeed Mr. Pope at Halifax.

G. C. Cassels, who comes of a well-known Toronto family, entered the service of the Bank in Toronto in 1885, and later was transferred to the Halifax Office. For the past forty years, however, he has served the Bank outside Canada, first in New York and later in London. He has been Manager of the Bank's London Office since 1914, and in 1918 was raised to the rank of Assistant General Manager of the Bank, with supervision of the London and Paris Offices. Shortly after the outbreak of the Great War, he was appointed as a member of the Committee on Currency and Foreign Exchanges formed under the auspices of the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, and in 1920 represented Canada at the International Financial Conference under the auspices of the League of Nations. He was made a Knight of Grace of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem for his work during the war as Chairman of the London War Committee of the Canadian Red Cross Society. In 1930 he accepted an invitation of the Government of India to go to India with a small body of bank experts to assist the Indian Central Banking Inquiry Committee.

Edward Pope is a native of Ottawa. He is the eldest son of the late Sir Joseph Pope, K. C. M. G., who for many years was Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs for Canada; grandson of the late Honourable W. H. Pope, of Charlottetown, one of the Fathers of Confederation; and grand-nephew of the Honourable L. A. Taschereau, Premier of Quebec.

Mr. Pope began his banking career with the former Bank of Montreal in that city in 1905. Afterwards he served the Bank in various capacities in British Columbia, at the Head Office in Montreal and again at Ottawa, and in 1919 when the Bank of Montreal (France) opened its office in Paris he was selected to go there as Assistant Manager. He returned from France in 1922 to become Manager of the Branch at St. Roch, Quebec, where he remained until 1929, when he was appointed Manager of the Halifax Branch, later taking over also the office of Superintendent of the Maritime Provinces District.

James Garrow is a son of the late Mr. Justice Garrow, of the Ontario Court of Appeal and a brother of Mr. Justice Charles Garrow of the High Court division of Ontario. He entered the service of the Bank at Goderich, his native town, after completing his education at Goderich Collegiate Institute and Upper Canada College, Toronto. His early training was obtained in various branches throughout Ontario and in the Chicago Branch. As Accountant, he served in branches at Sherbrooke, Saskatoon, Edmonton and Halifax, with a period as Secretary at Head Of-

IN MEMORIAM

HARRY HERBERT ALCHORN

At Camp Hill Hospital, Halifax, N.S., Mr. Harry Herbert Alchorn, one of the heroes of the Great World War passed peacefully away some weeks ago at the age of 52 years.

The deceased was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Alchorn, of Richmond and when quite a young man, he went to Smith's Falls, Ontario, to do construction work. While there the war broke out in August, 1914, and when the call for men was sounded he at once enlisted and went overseas. In 1915 he was wounded and spent some months in the hospital in France. After having recovered he again went to the front, was again wounded in 1917 and again sent to the hospital for treatment.

Some months later he went back again to the firing line and was there the greater part of the time until the close of the war in 1918. During his time of service at the front, Mr. Alchorn received in all thirteen body wounds, lost his right eye, had a bullet sent through his right lung and near the close of the war was quite badly gassed. From the effects of having been gassed, he never fully recovered. In fact it was this that eventually caused his death.

After having returned to P. E. Island in 1919, he made his home with his sister, Mrs. Chas. A. Ramsay, Springton. About six months of each year was spent at Camp Hill Hospital, Halifax, for treatment. It was here that he was when the end came quite suddenly.

Mr. Alchorn was one of a family of six members—one brother and five sisters. Three of his sisters, namely, Mrs. Wm. Haley, Arlington, Mass.; Mrs. George Carter, Waban, Mass., and Mrs. Chas. A. Ramsay, Springton, survive him, while the other two sisters, Mrs. Chas. Hollis, Cambridge, Mass., and Mrs. Louis Cosgrove, Providence, R.I., predeceased their brother by a number of years.

Harry Alchorn was a young man
