CHARLOTTETOWN CHILD CURED OF PARALYSIS

Charlottetown, P. E. I.

If anyone should ask me what I consider the most reliable cure in existence, I would have no hesitation in saying that it is the Farador.

My little three-year-old daughter was stricken with infantile paralysis when she was three weeks old. Until last March she was utterly helpless. She had no use of her legs, which were always cold, and one arm was quite useless. She was never able to speak, and it seemed that she would be dumb as well as crippled for life. I spent a great deal of money for her benefit and she was treated by three doctors, but nothing helped her until the Farador was put to use on the 24th of March. The action of the Farador was most pronounced. By its means the circulation was quickly restored. Her cold limbs got warm in less than a week, and within a fortnight she could raise a cup to her lips with the arm that was paralyzed. She soon began to walk by holding onto chairs, etc., and she is able to stand alone. I feel confident that in a short time her walking will be perfect. She has begun to speak, being able to pronounce a good many words.

Since using the Farador we have not given her any medicine, for the Farador has entirely cured the constipation and she sleeps perfectly.

As soon as her walking is perfect I will give you another statement to that effect, as I am only too glad to let people know what a help the Farador is in case of illness. It is a great pity that so many people continue to suffer and allow their children to suffer when there is such a grand rem-
