WHEN LOVE AND POLITICS CLASH

LONDON, May 29.—Much amusement has been caused in the House of Commons by the publication in a north country paper of a love-letter alleged to have been written by an M. P. which was never committed to the post. It is stated to have been found in a blotting-pad in the library, having presumably been hurriedly thrust there when the division bell rang, and unaccountably forgotten afterwards. The alleged letter is unfinished and unsigned, its tenor would appear to indicate indecision on the part of the writer to show effusions of the kind often found in fiction. It runs as follows: My Own Darling Love—There is a big debate on in the House; but I have stolen away to the library, eluding the watchful whips, to write you a few lines telling you for the thousandth time how I adore you. Arthur Balfour is making it hot for 'O. B.' Before I'm out you I thought, nothing would have tempted me out of the House on such an occasion. I would have sat through it all on those crowded benches with intense gratification, cheering and shouting with the rest of our fellows. But how trivial and wearisome it all seems, now that you have come into my life! I swear that I more dearly prize one kiss from you than all the glory of a seat in the House of Commons. Naturally the House of Commons is asking who is the writer.

following gentlemen: John Court, Esquire, $25 00; William Welsh, Esquire $100; L. L. Beer, Esquire, $30; Joseph Fairchild Esquire, $10. Under the terms of the will of our late Chairman, Dr. Taylor, we are to receive a request of $3000 in addition for his instruments and medical library, which have already been placed in the Hospital; a generous testimony to the interest he took in it. We have to acknowledge the gift from H. D. Johnson, Esquire, M. D., of a hospital ambulance, which fills a long felt want. We have again as in former years been largely indebted to the Ladies Aid Society for many substantial benefits. Some of their good work can be gathered from their report but many important services remain unrecorded. As the cement floor put in last year did not prove sufficient we deemed it advisable to take advantage of the presence of an expert in the City to have a Terrazzo floor laid in the operating room. It has now been in use for some time and thus far seems to meet every requirement. We desire to go behind of these we represent, to place on record some recognition of the manner in which the members of the Medical Board have performed their part for upon their skill and devotion the success of the Hospital primarily depends. It also affords us much pleasure to testify to the efficient manner in which the Matron, Acting Matron, Nurses and household staff have fulfilled their duties. Miss Ross, finding that her health demanded her being temporarily relieved from her duties, applied for a month's leave which was granted to her. Miss Williamson was appointed Acting Matron, and fulfilled her duties to our entire satisfaction. Mr. Hawley's devotion in holding services in the Hospital every Sunday and also the kindness of Messrs. Barlow, Watts and others in contributing a service of song merits grateful acknowledgment. We wish to thank the Collectors in Town and Country for the efforts put forth in behalf of our Institution and also those who have in any way contributed to its needs. Another reference remains to be made and it is one which I thought you had already anticipated. Since we met here last year we have been called upon to mourn the loss of our late chairman. One of its founders, the Prince Edward Island Hospital has had no more sincere and generous friend than the late Francis E. Taylor. It remains with us, who had the privilege of working in co-operation with him, to cherish his memory and so far as possible emulate his devotion. The vacancy in our board caused by his death was filled by the appointment of Benjamin Rogers Esquire. This appointment will be called upon to fulfil. For further details we beg to refer you to the Schedules tabled herewith. Respectfully submitted, P. E. ISLAND HOSPITAL IN ACCOUNT WITH THE TREASURER.

EDWARD BLAKE HAS PARALYSIS

NEW FRENCH BATTLESHIP

BORDEAUX, France, May 29.—The new French battleship Verite, of 14,835 tons, was successfully launched here today in the presence of Marine Minister Thompson and other naval officers. She will mount four 12-inch, ten 7. 6-inch and twenty-six 1. 8-inch guns. Her armor will be from 2 1/2 to 12 inches thick. The appeal of Count Boni De Castellane against the decision of the Court on November 14 last, granting a divorce to the Countess Boni De Castellane, formerly Anna Gould, of New York, was to have come up for a hearing today, but was again postponed, and now probably will not be heard until December.

He Relates His Visit To St. Lawrence Hall And What Took Place Denying Charges Against Him—Hotel Porter In Part Contradicts Him

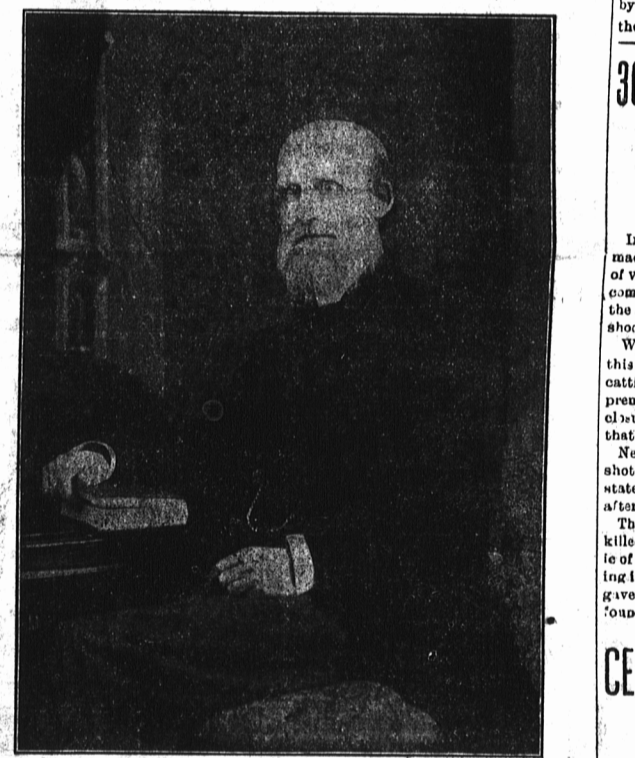

[SPECIAL BY CABLE] FREDERICTON, May 30.—Hon. H. R. Emerson took the stand himself today in the Crockett libel case and gave his account of the incident which gave rise to the Cleaner's charge. He told about his trip to Montreal from Ottawa in the month of June, 1906. He went to the St. Lawrence Hall at 7.30 in the evening to look for Mr. Peters a friend. In glancing over the register he noticed the names of the wife of a constituent and a friend of hers. He went to their room, and not having had his supper, invited them out to a restaurant with him. They had supper together at Oxford Restaurant and he afterwards returned to the hotel with them. After bidding them good night he turned to his room and then went to bed and asleep. He did not know how long he had been asleep before he heard knocking at his door and opening it found the ladies. He at once dressed himself then admitted them. One of them was very much agitated and stated that they had been insulted by the porter and were bound to leave the hotel. He tried to quiet her but did not have much success. Her friend whom he had known since her girlhood, was not anxious to leave at that hour. He inquired into the trouble and learned from one of the porters that there was no occasion for the lady to leave. The porter partly apologized for the conduct of another porter. He finally told the ladies that if they were decided to leave he would accompany them, as he could not see them go out alone at that hour. He engaged a carriage and gave one of the ladies money to pay his bill. They finally left the hotel in the carriage and went to the Albion Hotel, to take to register but the clerk gave them rooms. Witness said he was never ejected from a hotel in Montreal in his life, nor was he ever at a hotel in Montreal with a woman or women of ill repute. The only time he was ever at a hotel in Montreal with a woman was in 1901, and the woman was his wife. His impression was that he was at the St. Lawrence Hall on a Friday, but he could only fix the day by other circumstances. He had been attending the closing exercises at Acadia College a few days before and left Dorchester on Thursday, accompanied by his mother, sister and daughter. At Moncton he was joined by another party who accompanied them to Montreal in the private car. At Levis another lady and her mother joined the party. These ladies and the Moncton lady left at Montreal. The rest of the party went on to Ottawa in the car. He did not know at what hotel the women were to put up when he left them at Montreal and he went on to Ottawa, and it was only by accident he met them when he returned to Montreal two days later. Cross-examined by Mr. Haren, Mr. Emerson said so far as he knew both women were of good repute. The Albion Hotel was reputable. The ladies were Mrs. George A. Allen of Moncton and Mrs. Brothner. He did not know what was the trouble they had with the porter. The porter did not come to his room door while the ladies were there and found room in this darkness. Neither did the porter say that it was the noise and disturbance going on in that room did not cause them to have to leave the hotel. The ladies did not tell witness in what way the porter had insulted them. The reason the witness gave one of the ladies money to pay his board was that he wanted to finish dressing so that he could leave the hotel with them. Witness was not insulted by any of the employees of the hotel. After Mr. Emerson concluded his evidence proof of publication was furnished and the court adjourned for noon. In the afternoon some employees of the St. Lawrence Hall were examined by the defence. One of them the porter, contradicted Mr. Emerson on some points. His story was that the ladies went to Mr. Emerson's room at midnight as the minister described. They made such a noise there talking that he ordered them to be quiet, whereupon they became angry and left the house. The taking of evidence was concluded this afternoon and the case adjourned till Monday, when the Major's case will give his decision.

30 MAD COWS; DOG BIT THEM

INDIANOLA, Iowa, May 28.—One mad dog succeeded in routing thirty head of valuable cattle, alarming an entire community and causing the governor of the state to call upon the authorities to shoot all dogs found on the street at sight. When J. P. Robinson, a farmer arose this morning he found his herd of fine cattle raging and bellowing about his premises, having escaped the fenced enclosure during the night. He saw at once that most of them were mad. Neighbors who came to his assistance shot three of the cattle, and when the state veterinarian reached the farm this afternoon he shot the damage was killed some days ago. The worst epidemic of hydrophobia ever known is now raging in central Iowa, and Gov. Cummings gave special orders to shoot all dogs found at large.

CELIBACY OF FRENCH CLERGY

PARIS, May 27.—The "Globe," in a three-columned article headed "Holy Father, Marry Your Priests," makes an almost sensational appeal for the abrogation of the rule of obligatory celibacy for priests of the Roman Catholic Church. It is strictly and absolutely a Roman Catholic view. The writer says that he is able to publish the text of a petition which the Pope himself has received from 37,000 French priests and curates on the abolition of clerical celibacy. He declares that the signers are all priests past the marrying age, who speak now in youthful warmth, but solely out of the fulness of experience, weighed with the responsibilities of their office. The paper sent to Rome states that "among all the problems now confronting the prelates of France, none is more important than the question of clerical celibacy." The Chairman, Hon. F. L. Hazard, Col. Moore, and A. W. Stearns also spoke eulogizing the memories of these two dead friends of the Hospital, now passed away. On motion of Hon. Geo. E. Hughes, seconded by Rev. T. F. Fullerton's unanimous vote of thanks was tendered the trustees for their arduous work, gratefully performed in connection with the Hospital. The whole Island should be grateful, said Mr. Hughes, that such a splendid institution has been maintained in such a satisfactory manner. Meeting then adjourned. At a meeting of the Board of trustees held immediately after the public meeting the old board of trustees was re-elected as follows: H. J. Cuddall, President; Percy Pope, W. A. O. Morson, A. W. Stearns, J. E. Matthews, B. Rogers, W. K. Rogers, R. M. Johnson.

ANNUAL MEETING P.E.I. HOSPITAL

A Most Satisfactory Condition Indicated By The Annual Report—The Financial Statement—Presentation Of Late Dr Johnson's Portrait

The annual meeting of the Trustees of the Prince Edward Island Hospital was held in the Y. M. C. A. last night. H. J. Cuddall, president, and there was a good attendance of those interested in the institution. After routine business was transacted the annual report and the financial statement were submitted as follows: The Trustees of the P. E. I. Hospital, in presenting their annual report are pleased to be able to inform you that the year just closed has been marked by a further extension of the institution's usefulness. The number of patients admitted was 838 as compared with 877 the previous year. An increase of nearly twenty percent. The financial statement, which we submit herewith, shows our total receipts on current expenses to have been $6934.48, while our expenditure was $7034.06, leaving a deficit on the year's work of $100.58. This falling of course wholly in the items of collections and donations; the receipts from individual subscribers being $282.21, and those from church collections $168.37 less the amounts received on previous years. Several cases tended to bring about this result. The exceptionally bad weather of November and December interested seriously with the work of our collectors, and the fire at Summerside, involving as it did an important sale upon the citizens of that place to come to the relief of the sufferers necessarily curtailed their power to give for other purposes. It is satisfactory to note that the fees received from patients show an increase of $90.75, though, from the number of persons treated, more might have reasonably been expected. These, however, included a large proportion of non-paying patients, a class to whose needs the Hospital was especially designed to minister. As witnessing to the unselfish character of our work it may be noted that the increase has been mainly in those of the Roman Catholic faith; from 23 in 1906 to 47 in 1907. Out patients to the number of 47 were treated during the year, involving nine ten surgical operations and furnishing gratuitously 123 surgical dressings, 20 prescriptions and 8 plaster jackets. The district nurse made 214 visits ministering to many in urgent need who otherwise would have been unable to obtain skilled attention. The ever growing demands that are being made upon our Institution emphasize the need of securing for it an assured financial support. It is therefore with much satisfaction that we welcome the substantial addition of $3125, made during the year to our Endowment Fund which now amounts to $2109.75. Of this contribution $300 was given by a friend who I think his name and the balance was received from the Executors of the
